Sheriff's Department schedules safety check

By JULIE MURPHY
Staff Reporter

For those driving around Antioch Township between 10 p.m. on Aug. 31 and ending at 1 a.m. on Sept. 1, special care should be taken to avoid "risk taking behaviors." The Lake County Sheriff's Dept., working in conjunction with area police departments, will be stopping vehicles for obvious violations as well as making random stops as part of a roadside safety check program.

Sgt. Gary Govekar, with the Lake County Sheriff's Department, said that the location of the safety checks will not be announced this round.

"In the past, we've said exactly where the road checks were going to be," he said. "This time we're not doing that."

According to Sheriff Gary Del Re, officers working the roadside safety check will be watchful for motorists who are operating unsafe vehicles, driving with suspended or revoked driver's licenses, driving under the influence of drugs or alcohol or who are in violation of the seat belt and child passenger restraint laws.

Govekar said the last safety check, held on July 5-6 was slow. On the fifth, there were 384 vehicles checked netting 77 citations: 8 DUIs, 29 seatbelt violations, 15 licensing infractions and 22 insurance violations. On the sixth, there were 484 vehicles checked and 72 citations written: 2 DUIs, 22 seatbelt violations, 14 licensing infractions and 24 insurance violations.

"If the numbers are low, that's fine with me," said Govekar. "That just means that people are obeying the law."

The roadside safety check is part of a continuing effort by all law enforcement agencies in Lake County to keep the roadways safe. Funding is provided by a grant from the United States Department of Transportation and the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration.

Special meetings, public hearings set

By JULIE MURPHY
Staff Reporter

As the 90 days comes closer to passing, multiple special meetings and public hearings have been scheduled within the Village of Antioch to ensure all those involved in the "memorandum of understanding" have the opportunity to see their obligations have been met.

After nearly two years in the court system, Judge John Goshgarian encouraged all of the parties involved in a tangle of litigation in Antioch's East-Sub Area to come together to settle all of the issues at hand without going to trial.

The written purpose of this agreement states that it will "ultimately result in the binding 'Global Settlement' which will settle all disputes between the parties in the Deercrest litigation (Village of Antioch, Lake County, Lake County Forest Preserve District, Deercrest) and the zoning litigation (Neumann Homes, Village of Antioch)."

The "memorandum of understanding" outlines commitments that must be fulfilled by all parties within 90 days (from about July 10) to settle all of the current litigation. A trial will be rescheduled for day 91 if any of the parties fail to fulfill the terms of this agreement.

A special meeting will be held on Aug. 26 at 7:30 p.m. at Village Hall to see through fruition for the final plat of Deercrest unit one. One of the conditions for Neumann Homes was to buy out Deercrest and become the developer for the Friends of park lend a hand

By JULIE MURPHY
Staff Reporter

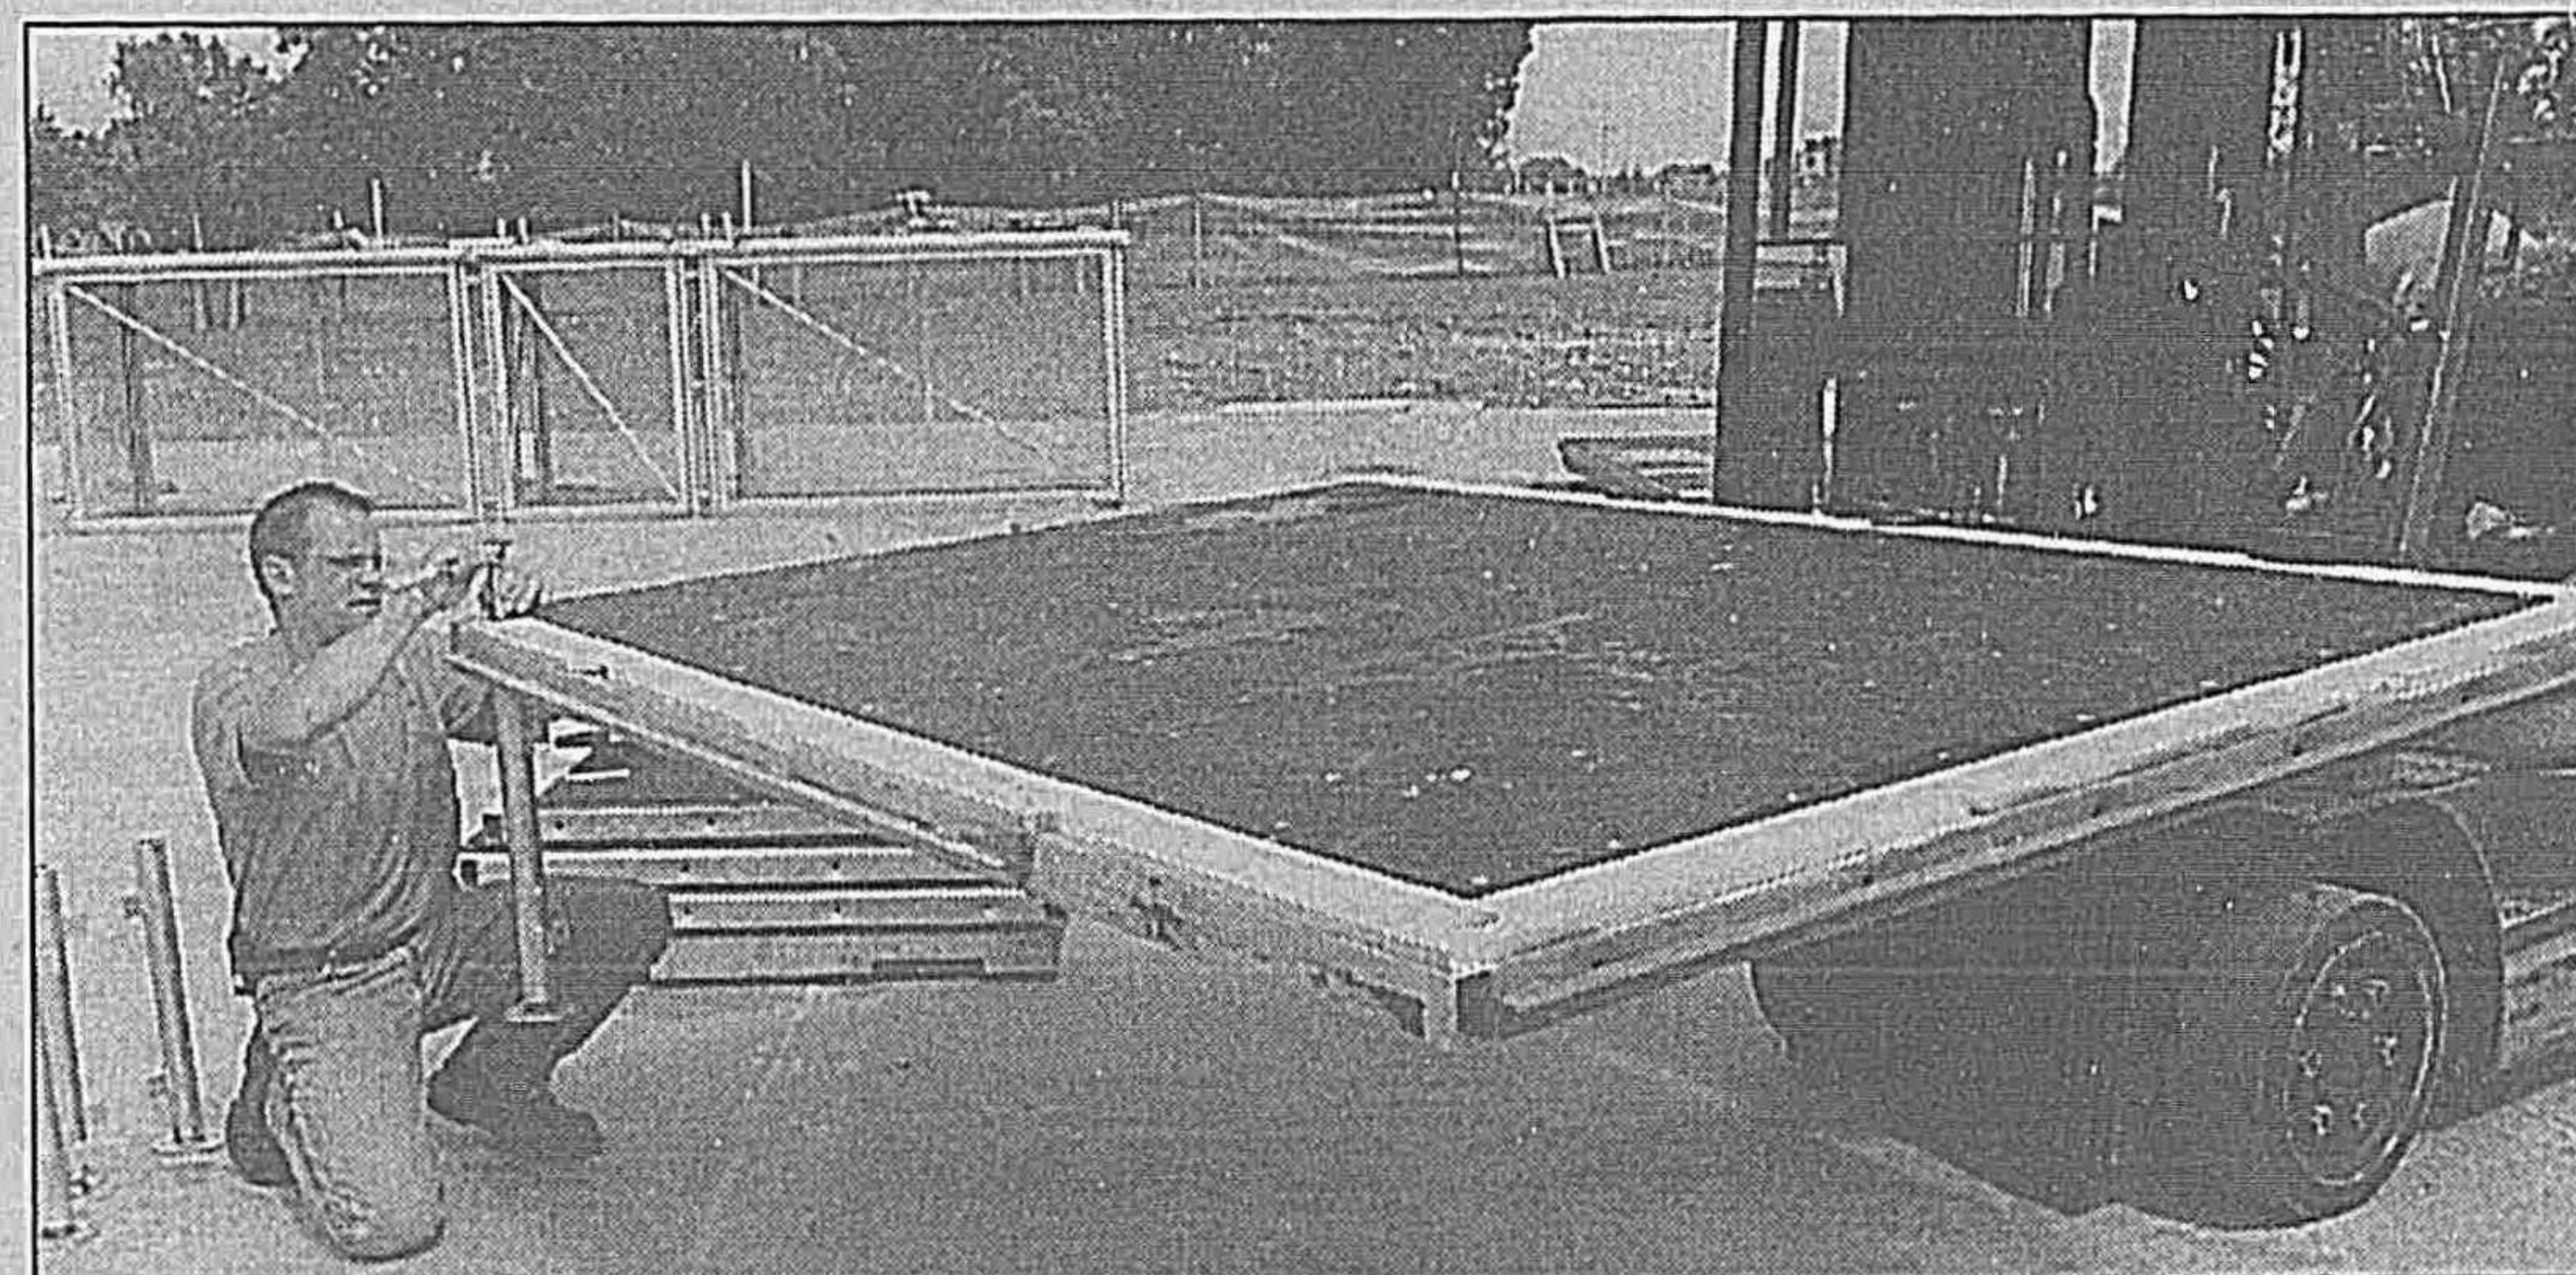

"I thought it was just going to be the 'Friends of Chris' at first," joked Chris Lienhardt, parks board president. "People showed up (to the Gages Brothers Park and Hiram Butterick Sawmill) and donated a time picking up garbage, cutting back vegetation and spreading mulch."

The newly formed Friends of the Parks met for the first time on Aug. 17 for three hours to help spruce up the park. Lienhardt boasted on behalf of the Friends of the Parks, "This park looks the way it supposed to look now. I take a lot of pride in this."

Previously, Lienhardt said that each park board member is responsible for one park, and that the parks are regularly checked to see if anything is being overlooked. The park with the longest "to do" list was selected as the site of this first project.

Waiver, fee debate suck wind from sails of parks board

By JULIE MURPHY
Staff Reporter

Parks department director Laurie Stahl took heat from the mayor and some members of the board of trustees over the proposal to have youngsters and their guardians sign waivers before using the new skate park, scheduled to open Monday, Aug. 26. Additionally, Stahl, and the parks board, had set the gears in motion to collect a nominal, one-time fee of $5 as a way of offsetting the costs of the waivers and some of the tools the village had to purchase to install the equipment.

Trustee Bob Caulfield blasted Stahl for not coming to the village board with these plans prior to setting them in motion. "The first I heard of this, I read in the newspaper," he said.

Newly appointed parks board president Chris Lienhardt defended Stahl and the board and said, "This is not really out of left field. You have all of our meeting minutes in your packets." Additionally, announcement of the waiver and the fee were published in the village's July newsletter.

Stahl explained that she was trying to be responsible and proactive about the opening of the skate park by working with the parks board to establish rules. With regard to the waiver she said, "I didn't just make this up. I talked to our (the village's)

Chamber seeks honorable nominees

By JULIE MURPHY
Staff Reporter

Antioch's fire, police and rescue departments will be honored at the September membership luncheon of the Antioch Chamber of Commerce and Industry. All members of each of these three departments are invited to the luncheon.

"We don't feel the departments get the recognition they deserve," said Barbara Porch, executive director of the Chamber.

The Chamber is asking that residents nominate someone who has provided outstanding service from one of these three departments to help acknowledge and recognize dedicated personnel. "We would like you, the residents of Antioch, to share your experiences with us," Porch added.

Nominations should be submitted to the Chamber by Sept. 5, and can be done through the mail to 882 Main Street, via fax at 847-395-8954 or by email at www.info@antiochchamber.org. Nominations will not be accepted over the phone.

Additionally, the Chamber asks that the nominator's name, address and phone number be included in case there are questions about the nomination.

"September is a month for honoring those who assist and protect us throughout our lifetime," said Porch. "This is one small way our community can show its appreciation."

Don't miss last two Friday Fests

By JULIE MURPHY
Staff Reporter

"We're rounding out our 2002 Friday Fest season, and we have some special additions to the last two events," said Glenda Sorensen, community development director.

The theme for the Aug. 23 event is, appropriately, "Full Moon Night."

Crystal Moon, an Antioch favorite throughout the years, will take the stage after Tuck, a folk singer who plays a great variety of music. The Michael Lescher Band will take the stage at 8 p.m.

The following week, Aug. 30, completes the series with the theme of "See You in September." Lionhart Martial Arts will perform on the entertainment stage at 3:30 p.m. Jerry's Basement will take the stage at 5 p.m. playing a variety of classic and modern rock 'n roll.

Brandy Abear, another Antioch favorite from the past, will play following Jerry's Basement. During this performance, the Village of Antioch will honor Illinois State champion title-holders for 9- to 10-year olds from Antioch Youth Girls Baseball.

The culmination will be when the Lakes Area Community Band takes the stage from 8-9:30 p.m.

Sorensen said the "See You in September" theme is appropriate as the farmers' market vendors will continue to bring their wares to 900 Skidmore throughout September and October from 3-7 p.m. (as long as the produce holds out).

"The Village of Antioch wants to thank all of our supporters and concert-goers," said Sorensen. "We could not have made it without our official sponsors: Double Eagle, Main Street Car Wash, Mike Casconne of Keller Williams, Jack Fields of ReMax and the Antioch Lions Club."

She added, "Additional thanks go to our wonderful, hardworking food and beverage vendors as well as our Farmer's Market Vendors. We are planning a bigger and better 2003 season."

As with all previous Friday Fests, live entertainment will be performed at the William E. Brooks Memorial Wetland Entertainment Center located behind the stores that line the east side of Main St. at 900 Skidmore.

District 117 saves $212,000 in high school projects

By JULIE MURPHY
Staff Reporter

Changes in the projects of expanding and renovating the existing high school as well as changes building the second high school are saving Antioch Community High School (ACHS) District 117 $212,000.

According to Supt. Dennis Hockney this is the second "change order," an official change or changes to a project after the project has begun, the district has seen over the course of these two projects.

"This change order was for a variety of items totaling $73,000," explained Hockney. "Projects are estimated at a certain amount, but after you get into them, things can't always go exactly as planned and that's where the changes come in."

Hockney said that changes can often cost more money, but in this case the cost was reduced. "This is thanks to Cedar Construction," he said. "They're doing a great job for us."

Hockney added that the new locker rooms at the existing high school are ahead of schedule. "If the lockers are delivered on time, the locker rooms will be ready for school."

Additionally, things are progressing along as expected with the construction of the second high school.

"We're redoing Polly Fields," said Hockney. "They had to be moved as the driveway and parking lots weren't going to work out as we originally thought."

Hockney said a football stadium will go on Polly Fields, but no actual building is proposed there.

"We will continue to have athletic fields there," he said.

Ford enthusiasts make great showing

For the past 17 years, Lyons-Ryan Ford has hosted an all-Ford car show on the third weekend in August to the delight of Ford enthusiasts.

"We had really nice weather for the event," said Ronald Kwak of Lyons-Ryan. "There were a few hundred spectators, and I think that helped."

Kwak said there were 70 cars in the show with models from 1925 up to a 2000 Mustang. The showstopper was a 1972 Torino GP.

"The car was from Genoa City," said Kwak. "It's unusual to find that kind of car up here in such good shape. Winter salt is a car eater."

The dealership had the event catered by Main Street Frozen Custard, also to the delight of Ford enthusiasts. Kwak said, "People were walking around enjoying beef sandwiches that were just overstuffed."

Kwak added, "We love having this event every year. Ford lovers get the opportunity to come together and look at variety of the cars they love."

It may seem like we're still in the thick of summer, but the Antioch Fall Arts and Crafts Faire is right around the corner.

The Chamber sponsored event will be held over Sept. 7-8 on Toft Street in downtown Antioch. The hours are 10 a.m.-5 p.m. on Saturday and 10 a.m.-4 p.m. on Sunday.

There will be food booths and musical artists in addition to over 100 booths of varied arts and crafts. This may not be Christmas in July, but it certainly isn't too early to start shopping for the upcoming holiday.

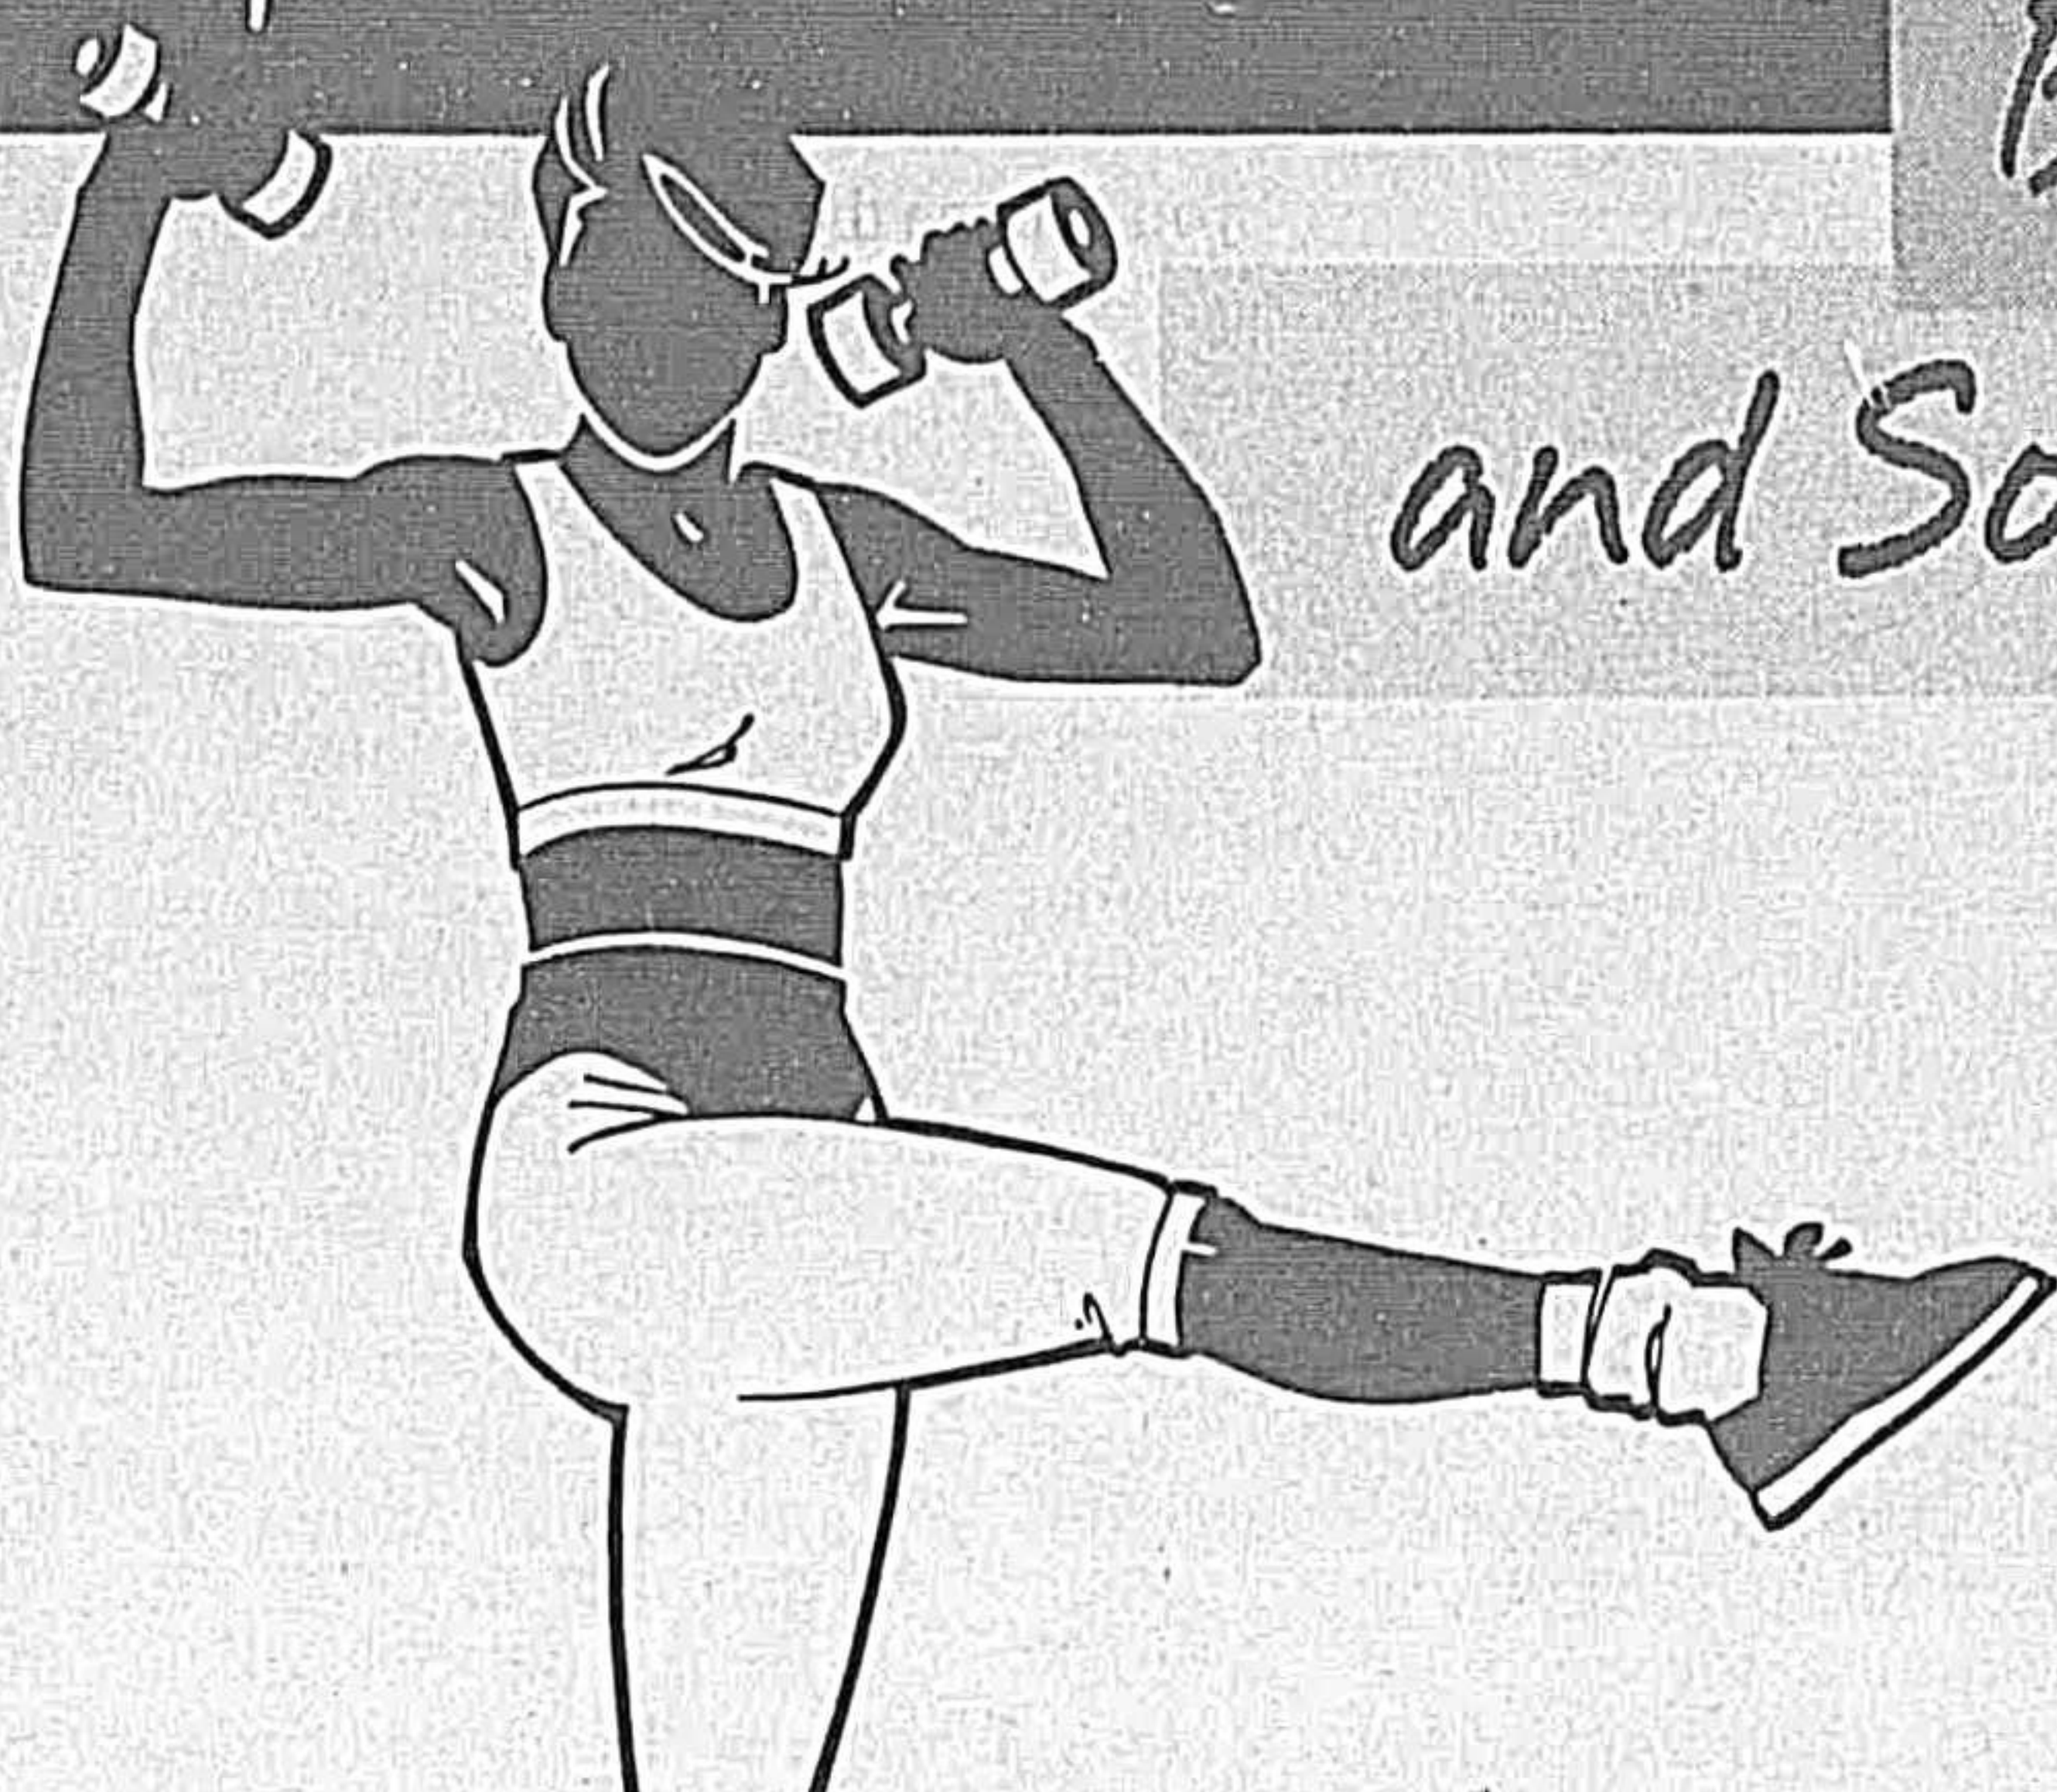

While you're browsing around downtown Antioch, take a moment to register to win $250 in Chamber gift certificates. Entry coupons can be found in bank statements from local banks as well as in local newspapers.

Member merchants will have deposit boxes for the forms available during the arts and crafts fair.

Royal Oak Farm Fruit Orchard grows bushels of family fun

Located just 45 minutes west of Antioch in Harvard, is Royal Oak Farm Fruit Orchard. This pick-your-own fruit orchard offers family fun and entertainment in a beautiful 120-acre setting. Owners Peter and Gloria Bianchini started Royal Oak Farm Fruit Orchard in 1992. The orchard consists of 10,000 apple trees, 350 peach trees, raspberries, and pumpkins. A petting zoo, playground area, restaurant, bakery, and gift store are also on the premises. The orchard has no parking or admission fee.

Petting Zoo

The petting zoo has a variety of farm animals including calves, miniature donkeys, lambs, goats, rabbits, various chickens, ducks, roosters, and beautiful Royal Oak peacocks. There is no admission fee.

Pony rides and play area

Pony rides begin Aug. 24. Children will enjoy walker-led pony rides through a selected area of the orchard. Parents are welcome to walk along and take pictures. There is a $3 charge for each pony ride.

Children love the big play area. Large playground toys consist of a John Deere tractor, fire engine, Noah's Ark, and full size doll-houses.

Storyteller And Clowns

On Saturdays beginning Sept. 14 there will be a storyteller at four different times of the day beginning at 11 a.m. Clowns will also provide entertainment and face painting. The storyteller and clowns are on Saturdays only in September and October.

Hayrides and birthday parties

Enjoy an antique tractor driven old-fashioned hayride through the 120-acre orchard. The hayrides are 30 minutes long and are given on Thursday, Friday, and Saturday evenings. Reservations must be made and the fee per person is based on the group size. Royal Oak Farm Fruit Orchard is a wonderful place to hold a birthday party.

NEWS-WORTHY

Sharon Westbrook

There is a fee per child and reservations are necessary.

School Tours

Teachers, this would be a great field trip for your students. School tours are scheduled for Monday, Tuesday, Thursday, or Friday. The fee is $5 per child. Please call for more information and reservations. A 30-foot diameter teepee with authentic designs is almost finished. The teepee will provide videos of the orchard and the history of the farm.

Restaurant, Bakery, and Gift Shop

Two hot entrees, homemade soups, sandwiches, and delicious desserts are offered at the Royal Oak Farm restaurant. Opening day is Saturday Aug. 24 at 8 a.m. for a breakfast buffet and lunches are served beginning at 11:15 a.m.. The breakfast buffet is $6.95 for adults and $4.95 for children. Wednesday is Senior Day and seniors receive a 10% discount in the dining room.

The bakery abounds with apple dumplings, pies aplenty (apple, apple raspberry, peach raspberry, strawberry rhubarb, peach praline, pecan, and pumpkin), muffins, cider doughnuts, and caramel apples. The orchard makes its own caramel for the caramel apples. Cider is made on the cider press and is pasteurized. Honey is for sale, made on the premises from the 60 beehives on site.

The Country Store has many unique gift items including jellies, jams, baking mixes, and homemade honey as well as books and music.

Raspberry and apple picking

Raspberry picking begins Saturday, Aug. 24. Apple picking begins this weekend with Paula Reds and next weekend with Galas. Check the website or call for the picking schedule for other apple varieties.

Hours and location

Royal Oak Farm Fruit Orchard is located at 15908 Hebron Road in Harvard. Their phone number is 815-648-4141 and their website is www.royaloakorchard.com. Directions to the orchard from Antioch are as follows: Take Route 173 West to Route 47, turn right. Go half a block to Bigelow and turn left. Stay on this road for four miles and you will see the orchard on the right. Pets and food are not allowed to be brought into the orchards.

The U-pick hours are Monday - Saturday 8 a.m. - 5 p.m. for Aug. 24 - Oct. 31. Hours for November 1-30 are 10 a.m. - 4 p.m.

Hours for the Country Store, Petting Zoo, and Play Area are Aug. 24 - Oct. 31 Monday - Friday 9:30 a.m.-5 p.m. and Saturday 8 a.m.-5 p.m.. Royal Oak Farm Fruit Orchard is closed on Sundays.

Readers with information for "News-Worthy" should call Sharon Westbrook at 847-395-3079.

Library seeking candidate to fill retiring trustee's un-expired term

The Board of Trustees of the Lake Villa District Library invites applications to fill the term of retiring trustee Mary Ellen Johnson. The term expires April 2003.

Applicants must reside within library district boundaries, which are contiguous with Lake Villa Township boundaries. Application forms are available at the library circulation desk or on the library website at www.lvdil.org. Completed forms may be returned by mail, fax or in person by Sept. 30. The Board of Trustees will conduct interviews in October.

The Board meets on the second Monday of each month at 7 p.m. at the library. For further information, contact Library Director Nann Blaine Hilyard at 356-7711.

Book buyers to get gift of teen poetry

Nothing beats a bargain—except something free. When the Lake Villa District Library holds its annual used book sale on Saturday, Aug. 24, from 9 a.m.-5 p.m., with a preview night on Friday, Aug. 23, from 6-9 p.m., patrons will have a chance to acquire some free literature.

A booklet of poems, titled "Lake Villa Area Anthology," will be available to the first 100 individuals purchasing over $25 in books at the book sale.

The Friends of the Lake Villa District Library funded a teen summer writing workshop in June and this booklet is a compilation of the teens' work. Each of the individuals written about were inhabitants of Lake Villa, but many of the tales written are fictitious.

Round Lake dancer trying to get to the top

In step

By Jeff Zachary Staff Reporter

C.J. Salvador, of Round Lake, (on left) does a dance routine with other members from The Royal Academy of Dance located in Lake Villa. The group performed at Lindenfest in Lindenhurst.—Photo by Samir id-Deen

Remember the name C.J. Salvador because this local dancer has high goals and may be famous someday.

Or maybe he will just be known as "C.J." like "Madonna" or "Prince."

Either way, this young man can dance and has just returned from a camp called the "Footloose Extreme Dance Camp" at the Radisson Hotel in Orlando, Florida.

After the camp he performed at Universal Studios with a group of talented dancers that were hand-picked from all over the United States and Canada.

The group called the "Junior Extreme Dance Team," consisted of boys and girls between the ages of 7 and 12.

"Even though the dancers put in long hours for a week at camp getting ready for the big time, it wasn't all work," said his mother, Maria Salvador.

"After they finished performing, the dancers spent the day together at Universal Studios going on rides and meeting stars, like Frank the Pug," she added.

"One of my instructors at the weeklong camp was Dan Karaty, the choreographer for N'Sync, Britney Spears and Jessica Simpson," said the smiling C.J. 11, of Round Lake. "Karaty is very famous," he added.

To be selected for the "Extreme Dance Team" is quite an honor.

The team is sponsored by Footloose International, a talent agency based in Canada.

To be chosen, the contestants had to receive near perfect marks for talent and showmanship during a competition event at the "Footloose International Dance Championship" held in the Governor's State University in Chicago. C.J. was so good that the judges asked to put him on the team.

The judges were three residents from New York including Joey Zarzecki from Radio City Productions.

Over 500 children competed from Illinois, Wisconsin and Iowa. Only 25 of them were invited to Universal Studios.

C.J. began dancing a little over four years ago at the Round Lake Area Park District under the very capable leadership of Kim Richardson, when he was just seven years old. He originally started out doing "Hip Hop" and "Jazz" and last year began taking tap dancing.

New Art exhibition opening at Lake County Discovery Museum

Travel with Lake Zurich artist Jim Holt from Lake County to exotic destinations through his artwork in a new exhibition running through Sept. 30 at the Lake County Discovery Museum. Lake County and the World in Your Backyard features nature and scenic subjects from Lake County and the world captured in oils and pastels during Mr. Holt's extensive travels.

Developing a love of nature while hunting and fishing as a boy in the mountains of West Virginia, Jim grew up drawing and sketching almost daily. Following his family's advice, he pursued a career in business and moved to the Chicago area. However, his love of art always stayed with him and after being persuaded by a friend to join the Chicago Sketch Club, he began to earnestly develop his skills learning to work in pastels and oil. His works have been exhibited in Arizona, Florida and South Carolina as well as in the Chicago area. An avid traveler, Mr. Holt's exhibit showcases works of his fondest memories from travels around the United States and the world as well as the beauty he sees in our local area.

Lake County Discovery Museum is located in the Lakewood Forest Preserve on Route 176 at Fairfield Road, east of Wauconda. Visitors to the award-winning Museum can also enjoy the all-new interactive exhibitions including the Lake County Mall of History, Vortex Roller Coaster Theater, and "Bringing the World Home," featuring the world's largest collection of picture postcards. Gallery hours are Monday-Saturday 10 a.m.-4:30 p.m. and Sunday 1-4:30 p.m. with evening hours until 7 p.m. every Tuesday. Admission is $5.50 for adults, $2.50 for youth ages 4-17 and free for children 3 and under. For information please call 847-968-3400 or visit the web site at www.lakecountydismuseum.org.

"How Both Halves Lived: Prairie Avenue and the Town of Pullman" all-day tour

Take a trip back to the 19th century to learn how the lives of both the rich and the working classes interacted in two historic Chicago neighborhoods—the Prairie Avenue "Gold Coast" and the factory town of Pullman. "How Both Halves Lived: Prairie Avenue and the Town of Pullman" is an all-day tour scheduled for Saturday, Sept. 7 from 9:15 a.m.-4 p.m.

The Historic Pullman Foundation and the Glessner House Museum jointly sponsor this tour. The cost is $50 per person, which includes lunch and transportation. Prepaid reservations are required by Aug. 30 and may be made by calling 773-785-3829.

The tour will begin at 9:15 a.m. at the Glessner House Museum, 1800 S. Prairie Ave., where John and Frances Glessner, their two children, and their domestic servants lived during the late 19th century. The Glessners, avid collectors of furniture, glass, ceramics and other decorative arts, lived the ideal life of the Arts and Crafts movement. Many of the items in their collection remain in the house and are on display as they were when the Glessners lived here.

Next, participants will stroll out into the Prairie Avenue Historic District to learn of the lifestyles of the Glessners' neighbors, including merchant Marshall Field, piano builder William Kimball, meat packer Phillip Armour and other Chicago industrial and commercial barons. Prairie Avenue was "Millionaires Row." George M. Pullman's mansion was one of the grandest on Prairie Avenue, containing a 200-seat theatre, a bowling alley, and three parlors—a standout even in a neighborhood known for its lifestyle excesses. By order of his daughters, the Pullman mansion was demolished in 1922 after Mrs. Pullman's death.

After touring Prairie Avenue, participants will board a Metra train and head south to the Pullman Historic Landmark District for lunch at the former Pullman Club for Executives built in 1881. Elevated and electrified in 1926, the Illinois Central is Chicago's oldest commuter rail line, dating to 1856. Metra now operates 224 daily trains over the line.

Following lunch, the afternoon walking tour will include an introduction to the town's history at the Pullman Visitor Center, a glimpse into the Greenstone Church built in 1882, and a visit to the home of a current Pullman resident, who will show how these restored row house interiors have been adapted for the 21st century without disturbing their 19th century elegance.

Participants will return via Metra to Glessner House Museum.

Pike River Rendezvous returns to Poerio Park

Travel back to the late 1700s and early 1800s when Native Americans and European and Euro-American traders called "Kenosha" home at the 5th Annual Pike River Rendezvous at Poerio Park. Return to the days of the trappers and traders on Saturday, August 24 from 9 a.m.-5 p.m. and Sunday, August 25 from 9 a.m.-4 p.m. This is a free family event sponsored by the City of Kenosha Division of Parks and the Kenosha Public Museum.

In the late 1700s and early mid-1800s, a rendezvous was held so that trappers and traders could exchange their goods. Native Americans brought furs, wild rice, fish and provided services. European and Euro-American fur traders brought metal goods, weapons and ammunition, blankets, silver, beads and a variety of other European-made goods.

The family activities located around the Poerio Park pond include a period encampment with hands-on period trade goods and children's activities. Play Native American games, make a bead necklace and create a "birchbark" basket. At the "Paddle Inn" concession meat pies, corn dogs, burgers and brats, snacks, fruit, cider, sarsaparilla and lemonade can be purchased. All proceeds will help fund natural science programs in the new Kenosha Public Museum.

A horse-drawn wagon will shuttle visitors from the pond back to the encampment where costumed re-enactors will be living in more than 50 camps. In the encampment, try corn grinding, visit the "travelers' inn," or see how far you can throw a frying pan. Talk with the re-enactors, listen to period music and try other activities to learn about this important era in Wisconsin's history.

Poerio Park is located on Kenosha's northside on 20th Avenue between Hwy B and 15th Street. Parking is available at the park. For further information, call the parks division at 262-653-4080 or the Kenosha Public Museum at 262-653-4140.

Florentine Opera Chorus performs at Anderson arts center

A milestone for the Anderson Arts Center 2002 marks the Center's 10th year of service to the community. In honor of this anniversary, the Arts Center has many special events and activities planned during a week-long 'Celebration of the Arts' Sept. 15-21.

Tuesday, Sept. 17, members of the Florentine Opera Chorus will present a preview of their 2002-03 season, as well as perform selections from several Italian Opera favorites. Hosted by Gregory Berg, Fine Arts Director of WGTD Radio, the six members of the Florentine Chorus and an accompanist will perform in a tent located on the grounds of the Anderson Arts Center 121-66th Street in Kenosha, Wisc. Admission is $15 per person. The doors will open at 6 p.m. with the performance from 6:30-7:30 p.m. Light dinners, fruit and cheese snacks and other delights will be available for purchase prior to the performance.

This is an RSVP event. Reservations must be made no later than Aug. 27 by calling the office at Kemper Center at 262-657-6005. Pre-payment is necessary to guarantee a reservation.

Blue spruce trees to be given away

Ten free Colorado blue spruce trees will be given to each person who joins the National Arbor Day Foundation during August.

The free trees are part of the nonprofit foundation's Trees for America campaign.

"Colorado blue spruces are selected for this campaign because of their many uses in the home landscape," John Rosenow, the foundation's president, said. "They lend beauty to their surroundings with their silver blue-green color and compact conical shape. They can be used as individual ornaments, an energy-saving windbreak, a privacy screen or as living Christmas trees."

The trees will be shipped postpaid at the right time for planting between Oct. 15 and Dec. 10 with enclosed planting instructions. The six to twelve inch trees are guaranteed to grow, or they will be replaced free of charge.

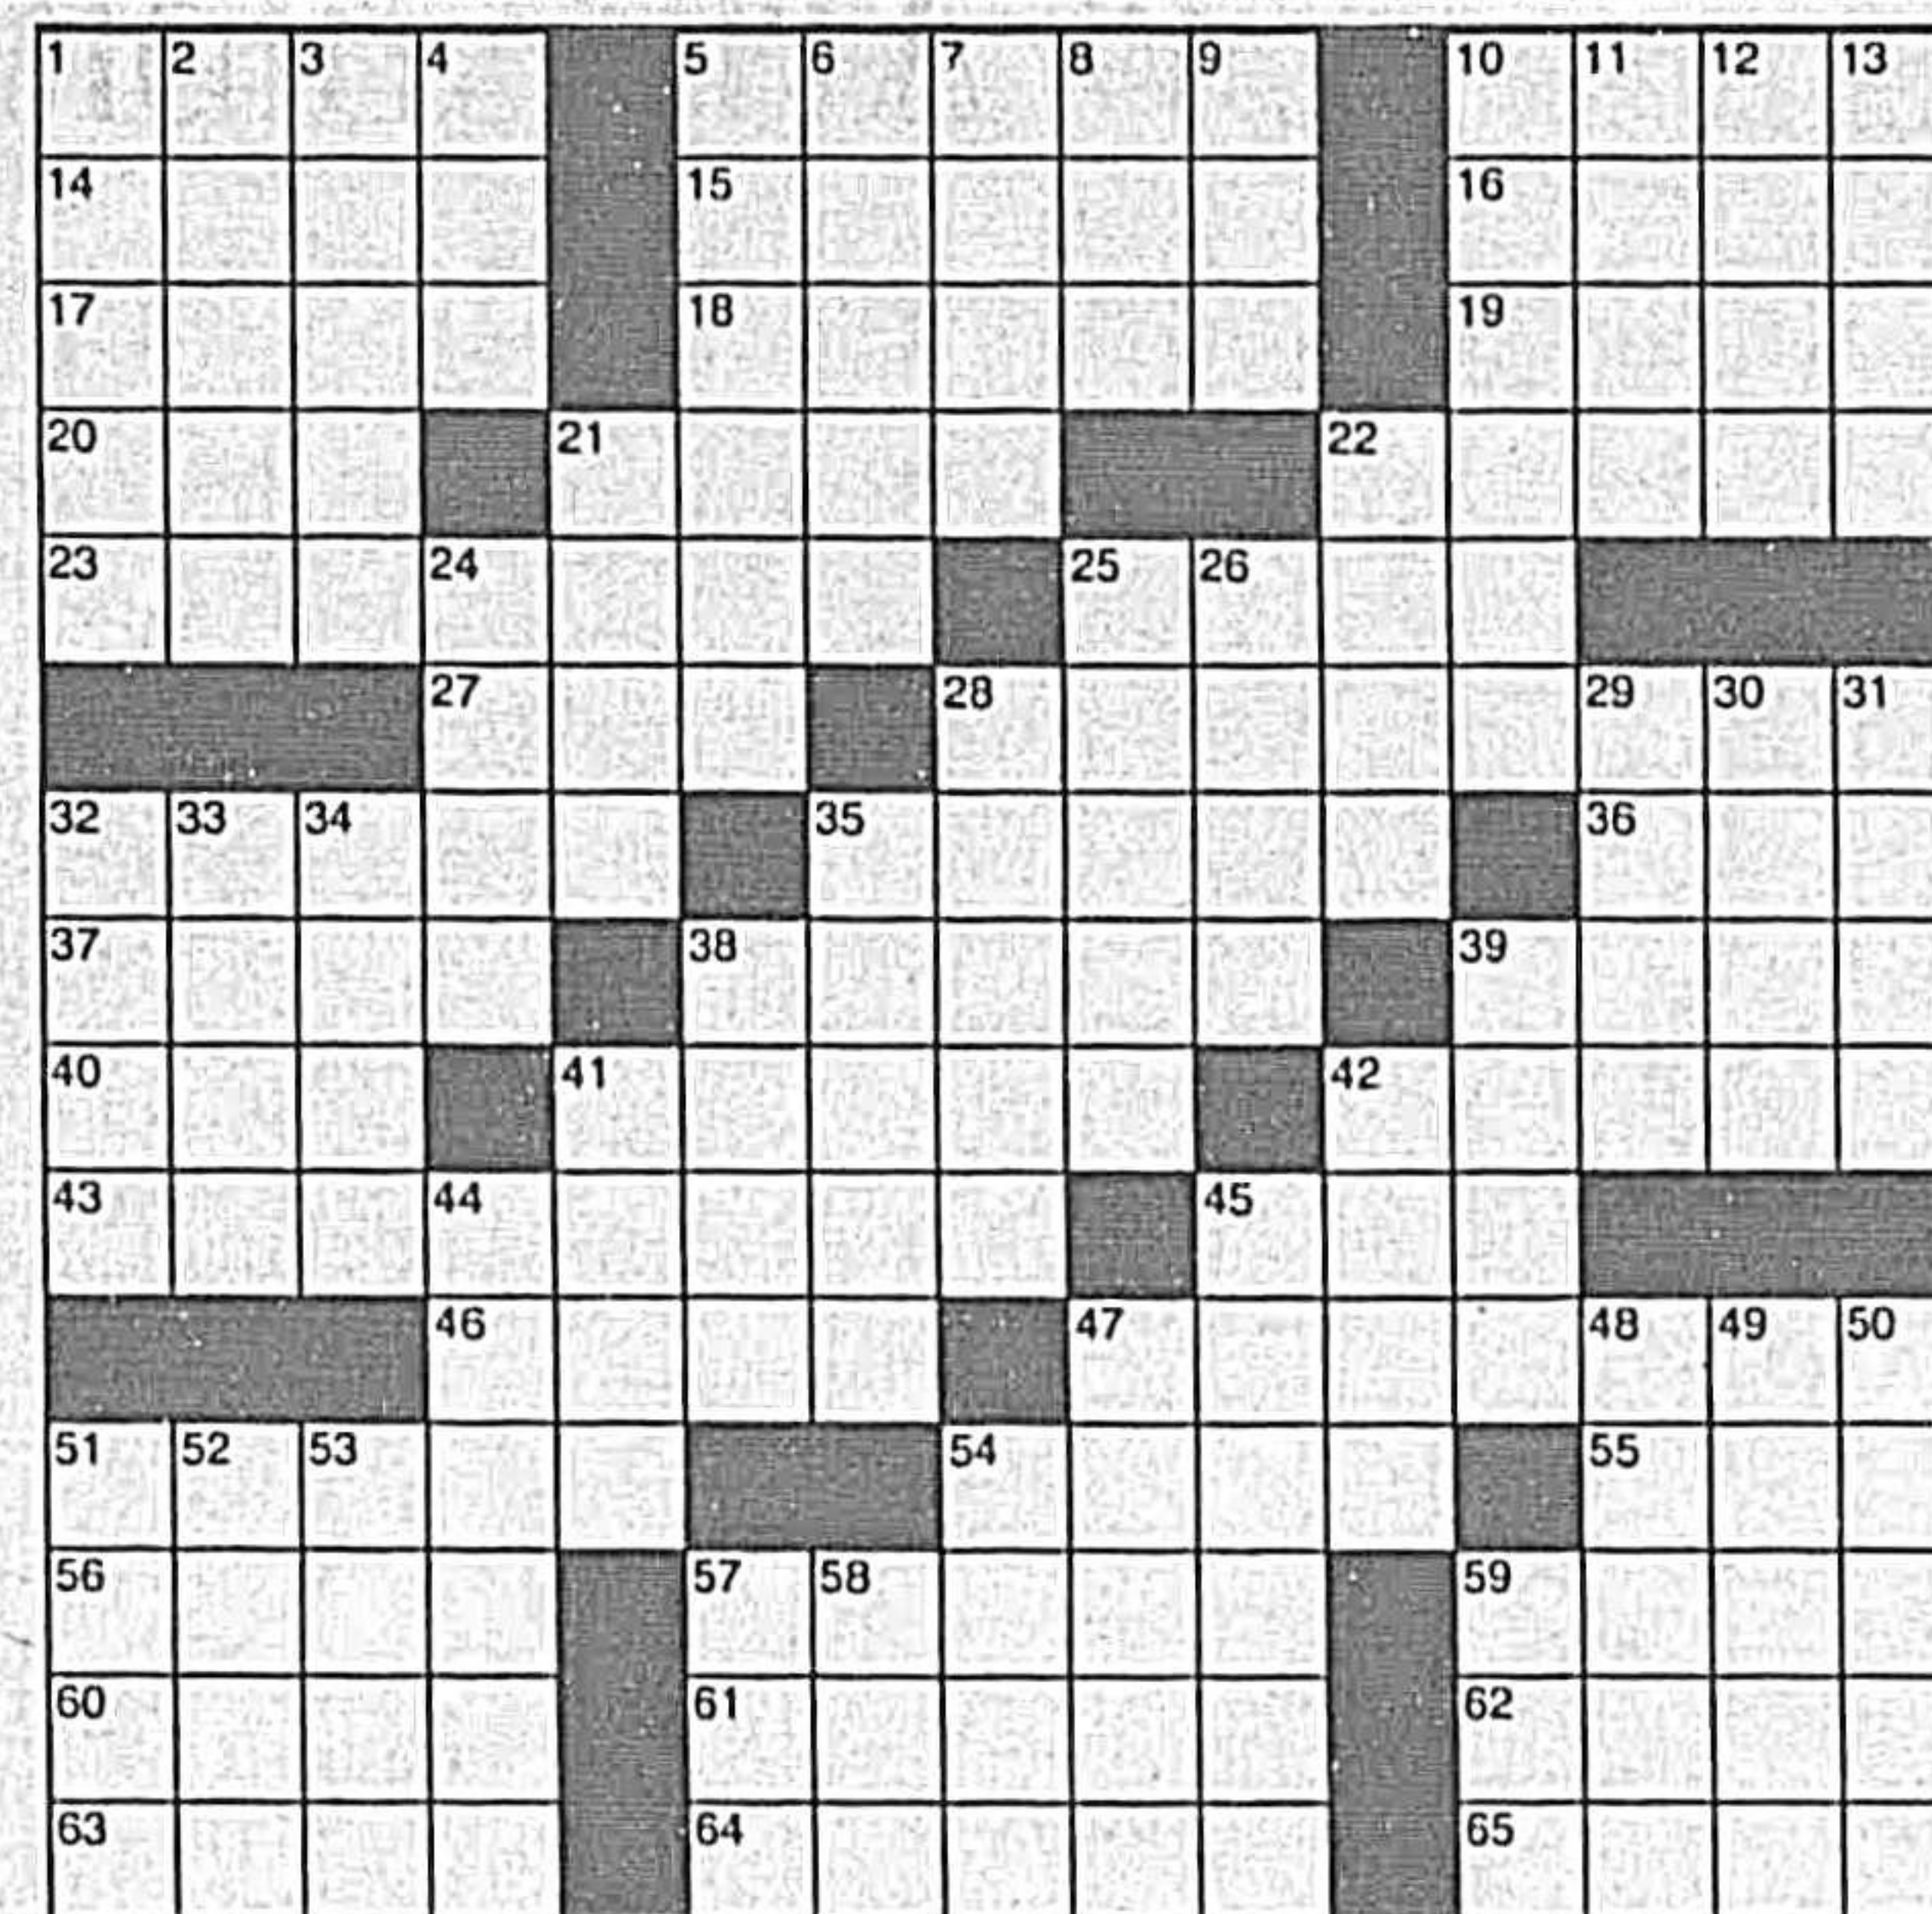

Members also receive a subscription to the Foundation's colorful bimonthly publication, "Arbor Day" and "The Tree Book" with information about tree planting and care.

To receive the free trees, send a $10 membership contribution to: Ten Blue Spruces, National Arbor Day Foundation, 100 Arbor 44 Avenue, Nebraska City, NE 68410, by Aug. 31, or visit the web site at www.arborday.org

SPECIAL EVENT

Noted author to discuss September 11 attacks at museum lecture

The Sept. 11 terrorist attacks were different from the 1995 bombing in Oklahoma City, and the memorials formed in each place reflect concerns specific to their locales, according to Edward T. Linenthal, professor of religion and American culture, University of Wisconsin-Oshkosh.

Linenthal will discuss similarities and differences in the cultural responses to Oklahoma City and Sept. 11 in a free lecture at the Milwaukee Public Museum Monday, Sept. 9. His lecture, "Sept. 11 and After: Museums, Meaning and Memory," is at 7 p.m. in the Owen J. Gromme Lecture Hall. A reception precedes the lecture at 6 p.m.

Linenthal spent four years learning about the impact of the bombing of the Alfred P. Murrah Federal Building in Oklahoma City. He conducted 150 oral histories and had access to the archives of the Oklahoma City National Memorial. His book, "The Unfinished Bombing," was released only weeks after the terrorist attacks on Sept. 11, an event that, as one reviewer observed, made his book immediately outdated and immediately more relevant at the same time.

"Oklahoma City offers us a crucial window into how an American community responds to an act of mass terrorism," Linenthal said. "It is a rich resource to help us appreciate the struggles of those people and places impacted by the events of Sept. 11."

Linenthal will be involved with the National Park Service if they become stewards of memorial sites for Sept. 11. He is Edward M. Penson Professor of Religion and American Culture and Chancellor's Public Scholar, University of Wisconsin-Oshkosh. His books include "Sacred Ground: Americans and Their Battlefields" and "Preserving Memory: The Struggle to Create America's Holocaust Museum."

Reservations are suggested by calling 414-278-2728.

MEETING

Dive into this

'Pearl' exhibition

From its watery origins to its history as a treasured symbol of purity, wealth and glamour, look into the mysterious realm of pearls. This exhibit at the Chicago Field Museum is one to remember. With more than 600 objects and nearly half a million pearls, this gorgeous exhibition features the most spectacular collection of pearls ever assembled. See the exquisite ornaments that have adorned Queen Victoria, Marie Antoinette, Kuwaiti and Nepali rulers, Marilyn Monroe, Elizabeth Taylor and others.

While at the museum you should also take in the exhibit called "Chocolate." For thousands of years humans have been fascinated with the delicious phenomenon that we call chocolate. You'll begin in the rainforest with the unique cacao tree whose seeds started it all. Discover chocolate's introduction into the upper class of European society and its transformation into a mass-produced world commodity.

Admission for each exhibit is $6 and must be purchased in combination with a basic admission ticket. Discounts are available for children, seniors and students.

Call 312-922-9410 for information or visit the web site at www.fieldmuseum.org.

The Field Museum is located at 1400 South Lake Shore Drive.

No blarney in fine 'Ballymaloe' berry gelatin dessert

We're a sucker for "how-to" cookbooks that take us by the hand and gently but competently guide us down the path to creating dishes that please both family and special guests.

well-documented and handsomely photographed book is truly international in scope, covering the whole panoply of good cooking. From its users learn basic techniques from cutting up a duck to preserving to master recipes for everything from stocks and salads to homemade pasta.

COOKING by the BOOK

Her gelatin mold with fresh berries and mint cream capitalizes on the season's bounty and makes for an easy, elegant dessert.

A Jelly Dessert of Fresh Berries with Fresh Mint Cream

4 cups fresh berries (we used a mix of raspberries, blueberries and blackberries)

Syrup

1 cup sugar
1 cup water
4 sprigs fresh mint
2 tsp. framboise (raspberry) liqueur
1 Tbl. plus 1 tsp. freshly squeezed lemon juice

3 rounded teaspoons gelatin

1/4 cup water

Fresh Mint Cream

15 mint leaves
1 Tbl. plus 1 tsp. freshly squeezed lemon juice
3/4 cup cream
10 ramekins or individual molds, lined with plastic wrap

Make a syrup by bringing sugar, water and mint sprigs slowly to a boil. Simmer for a few minutes, let cool, then add the framboise and lemon juice.

Sponge the gelatin in the water in a small bowl or heatproof measuring cup, then place the bowl in a pan of simmering water until the gelatin completely dissolves. Remove the mint leaves from the syrup, then pour the syrup onto the gelatin and then add to the berries. Fill the lined molds. Put into the fridge and let set for 3-4 hours.

Meanwhile, make the Fresh Mint cream. Crush the mint leaves in a mortar and pestle along with the lemon juice, add the cream and stir (the lemon juice will thicken the cream; if the cream becomes too thick, add a little water).

To assemble, spread a little Fresh Mint Cream on a white plate, turn out a raspberry jelly and place in the center. Place five mint leaves on the cream around the jelly. Decorate with a few perfect raspberries. Serve chilled.

Horse fest comes riding into Boone County Fairgrounds

The 5th Annual Northern Illinois Horse Fest comes riding into the Boone County Fairgrounds, Belvidere, Aug. 24 and 25. This year, an expanded version of this great gathering of horse people is planned. Along with many internationally known clinicians, there will be the 1800s Old West Village and a horse-drawn vehicle display area. Not only will you be able to see a complete recreation of an 1800s village with period costumes and items, but a history of horse drawn vehicles and horse drawn implements will also be on display. Shop all day both days as over 100 vendors feature everything for the horse, home and barn. Many new surprises are in the line up for the Northern Illinois Horse Fest.

The Illinois-Wisconsin High School Rodeo Challenge will be back with rodeo performances Saturday evening and Sunday afternoon. Don't miss the non-stop action and excitement of the high school rodeo. This is brought to us once again in part by the Big Hat Rodeo Company.

Sunday afternoon we will again feature the Northern Illinois Drill Team Competition. Watch some of the finest equestrian drill teams in a multi-state area as they compete for prize money and awards.

For information on being a part of the Northern Illinois Horse Fest, please contact us at 317-745-1466 or email us at www.53190@aol.com or one-horseranch@yahoo.com.

MCCD introduces Family Exploration Packs

Discover the wonders of the outdoors with the McHenry County Conservation District's new Family Exploration Packs, filled with activities, field guides and more. Families utilize these enjoyable packs during treks over approximately three miles of trails at MCCD.

ALA CARTE ENTERTAINMENT

The perfect wave

Sanoe Lake, Michelle Rodriguez and Kate Bosworth star in "Blue Crush."

A trio of surfer girls, Anne Marie, Eden and Lena (Kate Bosworth, Michelle Rodriguez and Sanoe Lake) spend as much time riding the waves as possible. Anne Marie is the best surfer among the friends. They work as maids in a luxury hotel on a Hawaiian Island to make the rent and drive a 'far from classic' '50s Chevy.

Anne Marie also cares for her teenage sister Penny (Mika Boorem), a brilliant student who seems about to run off the rails because of her association with the partying low-life. It seems that their mother is irresponsible and is on an extended vacation with her latest boyfriend in Las Vegas and from which she might never return. Further complicating Anne Marie's situation is that she has no man in her life that means anything to her. She has entered a major surfing competition but still carries the fear of a near drowning accident of three years ago that has taken away her edge.

Eden tries to get Anne Marie to train as she should but because she is having a "vacation affair" with a football quarterback (Matthew Davis) on the island for a NFL game, Anne Marie just can't get it in gear. So the question remains what will happen in her love life? Will she save her sister? Will she win the competition?

"Blue Crush" is a wait-to-see-it on-video movie that needs to be seen now on the big screen. The story has no major revelations and the script and acting are often corny. What the film does have are awesome, beautiful shots of the ocean, above and below, and jaw dropping surfing, both from the viewpoint of the spectator and the surfer who is in the wave. You can only experience the feeling of "being there" by seeing the film at your local theater with a state of the art surround sound system.

Although neither of us is a fan of hip-hop music after listening to the decent sound track in "Blue Crush," and seeing recent films like "XXX" and "Biggie & Tupac," which feature urban music, it's obvious that hip-hop is far from being a fad and that it is indeed musical poetry. George may have moved to the point of being able to say, "I don't hate hip-hop anymore."

Even though the acting will win no awards, "Blue Crush" does a good job of being what it wants to be a fun movie for the teenage and 20-year-old set. And thank goodness for the absence of extended gross humor. A surprise funnyman in the film is a visiting football player Leslie (Faizon Love). He and the surfing kept George from feeling blue and crushed as he left the theater.

Last best chance

Justine (Jennifer Aniston) is 30 years old and bored with her life as a cashier at the Retail Rodeo, a down-scale version of K-Mart. She might be able to deal with that but, since her husband Phil (John C. Reilly) is only sober when on the job as a house painter, there is no relief at home from her depressing work environment. Phil's co-worker and best buddy is Bubba (Tim Blake Nelson) and at the end of the day, the two of them become couch potatoes by frying their brains with beer and marijuana. Justine and Phil have been trying to make a baby without success and they begin to wonder if she can't conceive or he's shooting blanks.

At the Retail Rodeo, Justine's associates are otherworldly. One friend, Gwen (Deborah Rush), has an unexpected tragedy and another named Cheryl (Zoëy Deschanel) shows that your brain can be in la-la land and you can still survive the workplace. Cheryl has a very unique way of saying, "Thank you very much." Without doubt the strangest of all is Holden (Jake Gyllenhaal), who dreams of being a writer. The 22-year-old confides to Justine that he had to leave college due to emotional stress. The two begin to share lunch together, the only time either of them is animated and not in a stupor, and eventually they become lovers.

a-room-by-the-hour motel with Holden and he blackmails Justine so that Phil does not learn of her affair. Holden, distraught, is suspected of a robbery.

"The Good Girl" is a deliciously devilish story. Life can get funky at times because of bad luck and/or poor judgment. These characters may not be like you or the people that live next door, but you can relate to each person possibly other than creepy Corny (Mike White), the security guard at the Retail Rodeo. One can at times have compassion for people that do immoral and illegal things.

Life is not a straight road and the curves thrown at this cast of characters turn more treacherous than most. As in Mike White's previous film "Chuck & Buck," which made George's Top 10 list in 2000, he once again has written a film with sharp wit that showcases tragedy in a twisted comedic manner. This good girl is a woman who often does bad things in an earnest and sweet way.

"The Good Girl" brings a fresh perspective to everyday life amidst a host of summer movies that are quite forgettable. If you are looking for something a little different but not too far out there, and no subtleties, don't miss "The Good Girl." Renaissance Place Cinema in Highland Park. 847-432-9999.

NEW RELEASES

New releases, currently playing at local theaters. More reviews of these and other films can be found under Current Movie Reviews and Future Films at www.reelmoviecritic.com.

Opening this Week

Serving Sara: Matthew Perry is a process server who will not let anything get in the way of doing his job. Elizabeth Hurley is his next victim. Her conniving partner, Bruce Campbell, has hired Perry to serve papers on Hurley, which can result in her losing the fortune she has earned. She learns to fight back and may find true love in the process.

Merci Pour Le Chocolate: A psychological thriller by Claude Chabrol, with Isabelle Huppert & Jacques Dutronc, about a family whose child may have been switched in the hospital shortly after birth. Music Box Theatre. 773-871-6604.

Still Playing

Blue Crush ★★: Three bikini-clad friends try to conquer the waves, and their inner demons, with a surfboard. Michelle Rodriguez, Kate Bosworth and Matthew Davis.

Possession ★★★: Two literary sleuths find an unfinished love letter involving a poet and they are determined to know if he had a secret affair. As they learn more about the poet, they learn about themselves. Gwyneth Paltrow and Aaron Eckhart star.

Bloodwork ★★★: Clint Eastwood is back and like Harrison Ford, he was never really gone. He's a retired FBI agent who is doing well after a heart transplant. He's been hired to find the murderer of his organ donor. Giving the 70-year-old set something to look forward to his love interest is 20-something Wanda DeJesus (why do they do that?). Angelica Huston is his cardiologist.

XXX ★★★: Director Rob Cohen, who brought us "The Fast and the Furious," has a new action film with Vin Diesel as a secret agent, who, for the moment, appears to be right beside The Rock ("The Scorpion King") as the next action super star. The trailer is full of the best in what we like in a James Bond-type movie. Co-stars Samuel L. Jackson.

HOROSCOPE

ARIES - March 21/April 20

You can be unusually persuasive, Aries. Your biggest opponents are those who question your timing. Act as if you already know the answer and your instincts will prove right.

TAURUS - April 21/May 21

You find deeper meaning in the most casual remarks lately, Taurus. Introspection causes you to do some self analysis. Believe in your potential and you can do almost anything.

GEMINI - May 22/June 21

You're caught off balance by a surprising question, Gemini. Yet, you don't miss a beat. Cosmic forces are pushing love closer in your direction. Enjoy the rush while it lasts.

CANCER - June 22/July 22

A confrontation ends early when the weaker party gives in to your wishes, Cancer. The crab got lucky this time so make the most of it. Confusion arises midweek. Resolve it with patience.

LEO - July 23/August 23

When you see the shortcut this week, Leo, take it. There would be no entrepreneurs, pioneers or inventors if everyone waited for permission to push on. Danger is on the horizon.

VIRGO - Aug 24/Sept 22

It takes only one kind word from a friend to remind you how wonderful you are, Virgo. There are many willing partners who are waiting for you to jump into the mix.

LIBRA - Sept 23/Oct 23

Expect a sudden reversal in your life, Libra. Everything is still going your way, but it changes somehow. As long as you can adapt quickly you'll be fine.

SCORPIO - Oct 24/Nov 22

Being timid is not in your make-up, Scorpio. This is your week to shine and get noticed. The scorpion's desires will not be denied and pity those who stand in your way.

SAGITTARIUS - Nov 23/Dec 21

Be careful about getting worn out this week, Sagittarius. It may be time to pass the torch to another able person. You have to remember you're as human as everyone else and need a break now and again.

CAPRICORN - Dec 22/Jan 20

You've had enough of being alone, Capricorn. You like to be around people even if they are quite different from you. Wear your heart on your sleeve this week and you're sure to find a love connection.

AQUARIUS - Jan 21/Feb 18

Avoid problems by making peace with troublesome individuals early on, Aquarius. The best compromise is a combination of everyone's best ideas — then go with it.

PISCES - Feb 19/March 20

It's finally time for Pisces to yell, "I told you so." But wait until there is a larger audience to experience it. Wednesday will be your day of victory.

Second City's e.t.c. revue offers a rousing good time

Over the years the Second City e.t.c. stage has held court to many thigh-slapping, rib-tickling revues. "Curious George Goes to War," its 24th and latest outing, generally continues that tradition. Written and performed by Samantha Albert, Jean Augustyn, Keegan-Michael Key, Nymia Funk, Andy Cobb and Peter Grosz, it's a creative, entertaining show—even if there are a couple minor problems.

Our main quibble is the bullet-paced delivery. This is frenzy out of control, and as a result many punch lines get lost in the shuffle. Director Ron West needs to slow things down a wee bit.

The opening skit, a no-holds-barred musical takeoff on the Pledge of Allegiance, is hilarious as the cast keeps stopping to reconsider ways to improve on its wording to bring it up to speed with the times. One revisionist quibbles with the "liberty and justice for all" part, suggesting instead "Justice for those who deserve it."

Another favorite involves two black couples (played simultaneously by Funk and Key) comparing notes about life in Wrigleyville. They're poles apart—one from a wealthy background and the other from Cabrini Green—and their unrelenting effort to find common ground is wickedly funny. In this instance, their quick delivery is an asset, advancing the mad-cap humor.

Comic barbs also land on corporate chicanery, gay clergy and improper teacher-student relationships. President Bush ("I'm not Patton; I'm Ferris Bueller... and things always turn out right for me") and Vice President Cheney take it on the chin as well.

Noteworthy skits also involve a boot camp for fanatics trying to infiltrate the American mainstream, an over-the-top appliance salesman, race relationship issues in a quick-serve sandwich shop and a vigilante pursuing a terrorist in his SUV. One of the zaniest features FBI target practice, where a new recruit, armed with a rifle, learns to make snap judgments. The "faces of evil" include the usual suspects—and more.

What's missing from this revue is the improvisation segment, a standard bit of fun in which audience members supply off-the-cuff verbal cues for the company to build into a skit. Improv can test a group's mettle.

"Curious George Goes to War" is settling in for an open run at 1608 N. Wells in Chicago. Ticket information is available at 312-337-3992. Performances are Thursday at 8:30 p.m., Friday and Saturday, 8 and 11 p.m. and Sunday, 8 p.m.

CRITIC'S CHOICE
by Tom Witom

The Illinois Chapter of The Nature Conservancy is looking for photographers who have captured the beauty of Illinois' last great places.

Photographers are invited to submit color photographs and color slides of wildlife and wild places in Illinois for the "Illinois in Focus" photo contest.

A selection of images will be displayed on the chapter's web site each month. A Grand Prize winner will be selected from all entries received. Prizes will include more than $350 in books from American Nurseryman Publishers and the opportunity to tour a Conservancy preserve with professional nature photographer, Carol Freeman.

Entry forms, rules and a full description of the contest can be found on the web site, www.nature.org/illinois, or can be requested by writing to: "Illinois in Focus" The Nature Conservancy, 8 South Michigan, Suite 900 Chicago, IL 60603.

All entries must be received by November 30 and be accompanied by a signed entry form, available on the web site.

Please read the complete rules before submitting any images.

"Illinois in Focus" guidelines

Winning images will be selected from among the following categories:

- Illinois' Wild places (unspoiled landscapes)
- Illinois' Wildlife (animals in their native habitats)
- People (people protecting, enjoying or learning from the natural landscape)
- Illinois' Flora (plants and plant communities in their natural surroundings)
- Abstract (patterns, shapes and/or abstractions in nature)

A panel of contest judges will select the winning images based on composition, subject matter, creativity and technical merit. Judges will look for striking images of natural landscapes and species. Images will be judged on originality, technical excellence composition and overall impact.

Please send all entries (packaged securely) to "Illinois in Focus" The Nature Conservancy, 8 South Michigan Ave, Suite 900 Chicago, IL 60603.

Each image submitted should bear the photographer's name, address, phone number and entry number (i.e., 1-8).

11-year-old C.J. Salvador gets ready to do a dance routine at Lindenfest, held in Lindenhurst. The youngster from Round Lake has won several competitions and is becoming an accomplished dancer.—Photo by Samir id-Deen

For the last two years, he has danced for the Royal Academy of Dance in Lake Villa and just this past year has started competing in both coed tap team dancing and an all-boy hip-hop group.

His teams have received many gold and silver medals as well as two first place trophies in their categories.

One of his biggest honors according to his grandmother Elida Cardenas was receiving a full tap dance scholarship at the Royal Academy of Dance for the coming year.

C.J. will begin performing solos next year and we are very proud of him," said

Cardenas. "You don't see many boys who love to dance the way that he does," she added.

One of C.J.'s latest appearances was at LindenFest at Slove Park, where he danced with the group called "My Boyz."

Though the young man loves to dance he also has many other interests.

"I play baseball in Avon Township and basketball at the park district," said the young Salvador. "But I like dancing the most."

His mother said that sometimes his friends kid him about taking dancing classes but C.J. said his real friends do not tease him.

"Besides, where else can I hang around with the most beautiful and talented girls in the area," he said.

Mrs. Salvador commented that C.J. was probably born to dance. "When C.J. was young, even two and three years old, he was always dancing. Even when he got cranky we would tell him to go and dance. The boy never had a chance," she laughed.

Denise Kriskche is the owner and instructor of the Royal Academy of Dance.

She commented, "The first time I saw C.J. it was obvious he had natural talent and rhythm"

In explaining why she awarded him a scholarship, she said, "The scholarships are based on talent, passion and desire. You can't teach passion and desire. C.J. has a lot of both."

She added that this was only his first year of competition and she is confident he will continue to improve.

According to C.J.'s mom, the young dancer has signed up for gymnastics at American Eagle to help him build up more strength for his dancing.

Mrs. Salvador gives a lot of credit to the Royal Academy of Dance for her son's success.

The Royal Academy of Dance was founded four years ago by Denise Kriskche, who is a graduate of Northern Illinois University with a Bachelor of Arts degree in Dance Theater. She has also studied with the Northwest Ballet Academy and Evanston School of Ballet.

The talented teacher has also performed in several productions including West Side Story and The Sleeping Beauty.

Kriskche has choreographed several award winning competition pieces ranging from a Pointe solo, to what she describes as a kooky jazz routine.

The Royal Academy of Dance is located at 216 N. Milwaukee Avenue, in Lake Villa.

MEETINGS

already approved preliminary proposal on Otto Sprenger's property.

After the first reading of the ordinance to approve the final plat, it was determined that too many small changes were required for the ordinance to be approved without a second reading. The second reading will be done at this meeting.

A public hearing will be held on Sept. 5 at 7:30 p.m. in the commons of Antioch Community High School (ACHS) before the combined planning and zoning board at the request of Neumann Homes. Neumann Homes is asking that the Comprehensive Plan adopted in 1991 be amended to change the zoning for the 55 acres at the intersection of Savage Road and Route 173.

Neumann Homes is asking that 29.6 acres be zoned B-3 (business service and wholesale) and that 25.8 acres be zoned R-1 for eventual use for either an elementary or middle school.

During this same public hearing, Neumann Homes will make a formal petition for the development of 960 dwelling units on 450.25 acres (the Anest/Homer White properties less the 200+ acres sold to the Lake County Forest Preserve District).

At the last meeting of the board of directors of the Village of Antioch, Neumann asked that the village waive the new ordinance section that requires a developer to wait one year before presenting essentially the same proposal. The board approved the request based on language in the ordinance that makes allowances for special circumstances.

An additional public hearing will be held on Sept. 9 at 7 p.m. in the commons of ACHS before the board of directors of the Village of Antioch to consider the annexation of the aforementioned 55 acres of property.

insurance company and was told this is what I should do."

Trustee Dorothy Larson added to the defense and said, "She (Stahl) is the director and it is assumed that she will set some things, and not come to us over every little thing."

Though he has been supportive in all other respects, Mayor Taso Maravelas objected to the $5 fee and said, "An 8-year-old coming to the park won't have the money for that."

Later Stahl said, "That's exactly my point. I'm trying to make sure the rules are read and waivers are signed. I don't care so much about the $5 fee, but one of the rules is that an 8-year-old (7-10 year olds) must be accompanied by an adult to use the park. There are safety issues here."

In addition to objecting about the fees, Caulfield and Pierce they felt it was improbable that the parks department would be able to get all users to sign waivers. Pierce, who earlier in the summer tried to have restrictions placed on ice cream trucks for the danger and disruption they cause families particularly during the dinner hour, said, "Kids are going to skate. They are going to skate all hours, and they are going to skate whether or not they've signed some waiver."

Lienhardt took offense to the tone of Caulfield's and Pierce's comments and said, "Don't insult our intelligence or our time. We are trying to do what this board has asked this volunteer board to do."

Village attorney Donald Anderson said, "Signing a waiver can be done by administrative discretion, but the board has asked for some input on this."

A motion was approved four to two, with Caulfield and Pierce the "no" votes to instruct Stahl to have children take waivers and have them signed by their parents, but to send the issue of the fee back to the parks board.

The skate park will become a reality after a two-year effort when a group of skateboarders first came to a village board meeting requesting such a park.

The Antioch Public Works Department along with a supervisor from Spohn Ranch Company, where the equipment was purchased, installed the equipment beginning Aug. 19. Additionally, Tom Hoban of Tom Hoban Construction and Ray Rios of Rios Enterprises donated time to help construct the park. Tri-County Lift, of Antioch, donated a forklift to be used for the week.

Stahl said, "They did not have a lift available, so they secured one from another company and are donating the use of this lift at their cost of $300 and waived all freight and rental fees."

A grand opening ceremony is planned for Sept. 5 at 3:30 p.m. at the park, part of Williams Park. State Sen. Adeline Geo-Karis (R-Zion) will be the guest of honor for her help in securing the $100,000 grant that made the park possible.

Backyard Boardroom will put on a skate demonstration and door prizes will be awarded to lucky winners. BJ's Sports, Antioch Schwinn and Coca-Cola have donated prizes. The ceremony will end with a ribbon-cutting ceremony and cake and beverages.

Antioch has an ordinance against bike riding in the downtown area, and skate boarding on private property is prohibited without written permission.

"These parks are very important to kids who have outgrown playground equipment and don't participate in team sports such as baseball, soccer or basketball," said Stahl. "It's very frustrating for the kids to find a safe place and a location where property owners and/or police will allow skate boarding, roller blading and biking."

FRIENDS

Another three-hour workday is being planned for September, though no definite location has been set.

"The more people we get out there, the quicker it will go," Lienhardt reminded village officials and the audience of the last meeting of the board of directors.

Those interested in being placed on a Friends of the Parks mailing list should call the parks department office at 847-395-2160.

Powell, Inc., of Lake Bluff, donated 18 yards of woodchips. "I have a friend who works there and pleaded my case over a couple of social events," said Lienhardt.

Dan Cogan, executive director of the Scleroderma Foundation of Greater Chicago gives opening remarks prior to the start of the first annual bowl-a-thon held at Mundelein Lanes. The event, organized by Grayslake High School senior Jenny Coolidge, raised close to $12,000 for the Scleroderma Foundation.

A perfect strike

Jenny Coolidge sure came up with a winner on this one.

The Grayslake High School senior learned that one of her mother's friends had scleroderma, a chronic, often progressive autoimmune disease where the body's autoimmune system attacks its own tissues. It's also referred to as systemic sclerosis.

And Coolidge wanted to help. Mission accomplished.

Through a high school community service project, Coolidge organized a bowl-a-thon at Mundelein Lanes, which took place over the weekend from 8 p.m. Saturday night until 8 a.m. Sunday morning.

"We started this because there's no cause or cure. And it's getting pretty ramped," said Coolidge. "Most of my friends bowl, so we decided to have a bowl-a-thon."

Initially, Coolidge and Co. wanted to try and break a Guinness Book of World Records mark of more than 30 hours of continuous bowling.

"But someone already broke that with 47," noted Coolidge.

Twelve hours isn't too shabby, though. Especially when you look at the final numbers.

"We wanted to exceed $10,000 and we raised almost $12,000. Contributions are still coming in, too," said Coolidge. "We were very happy with that. Everyone had a great time. There were plenty of blisters the next day. That's for sure."

Coolidge also said Scleroderma Foundation representative Dan Cogan gave a speech during the event's opening ceremonies. Teams up to 4-6 people went out and raised minimum pledges of $300 or higher.

"We had 20 teams. One team alone raised $5,000," said Coolidge.

The bowl-a-thon also featured giveaways and various contests and competitions. Trophies were also awarded to the top teams.

Coolidge herself didn't do any bowling, as she was busy coordinating everything for the event. She also said she'd like to put on another bowl-a-thon sometime next summer.

Anyone interested in helping out or learning more about scleroderma can call the Scleroderma Foundation at 800-722-4673.

Midwest Championship Wrestling invades The College of Lake County on Sat., Sept. 28 with some of the top pro wrestling talent in the country. Doors open at 6:45 p.m. with bell time at 7:30. It's almost that time

By JOHN PHELPS
Sports Editor

Gentlemen, start your engines! It's in the air. High school football, that is. With just about a week to go before the season-opener, area camps are in full swing. The pads are on and there's plenty of popping and hitting taking place. There's also plenty of jockeying for spots in the starting line-up.

The Antioch Sequoits definitely have an uphill climb, having lost numerous key impact players to graduation.

That doesn't seem to phase head coach Del Pechauer, though.

"Yes, we're very young and somewhat inexperienced," the coach said. "But we're practicing hard and only going to get better with time and experience."

Some of those key losses on the offensive side include quarterback P.J. Hilbert, the backfield of Allen Patin and Dan Miodonski, wide out Jeff Huebner and all-purpose player Justin Stigler.

Stepping in this year to run the offense is senior Brad Hoogerhyde, who also pitches for the varsity baseball team.

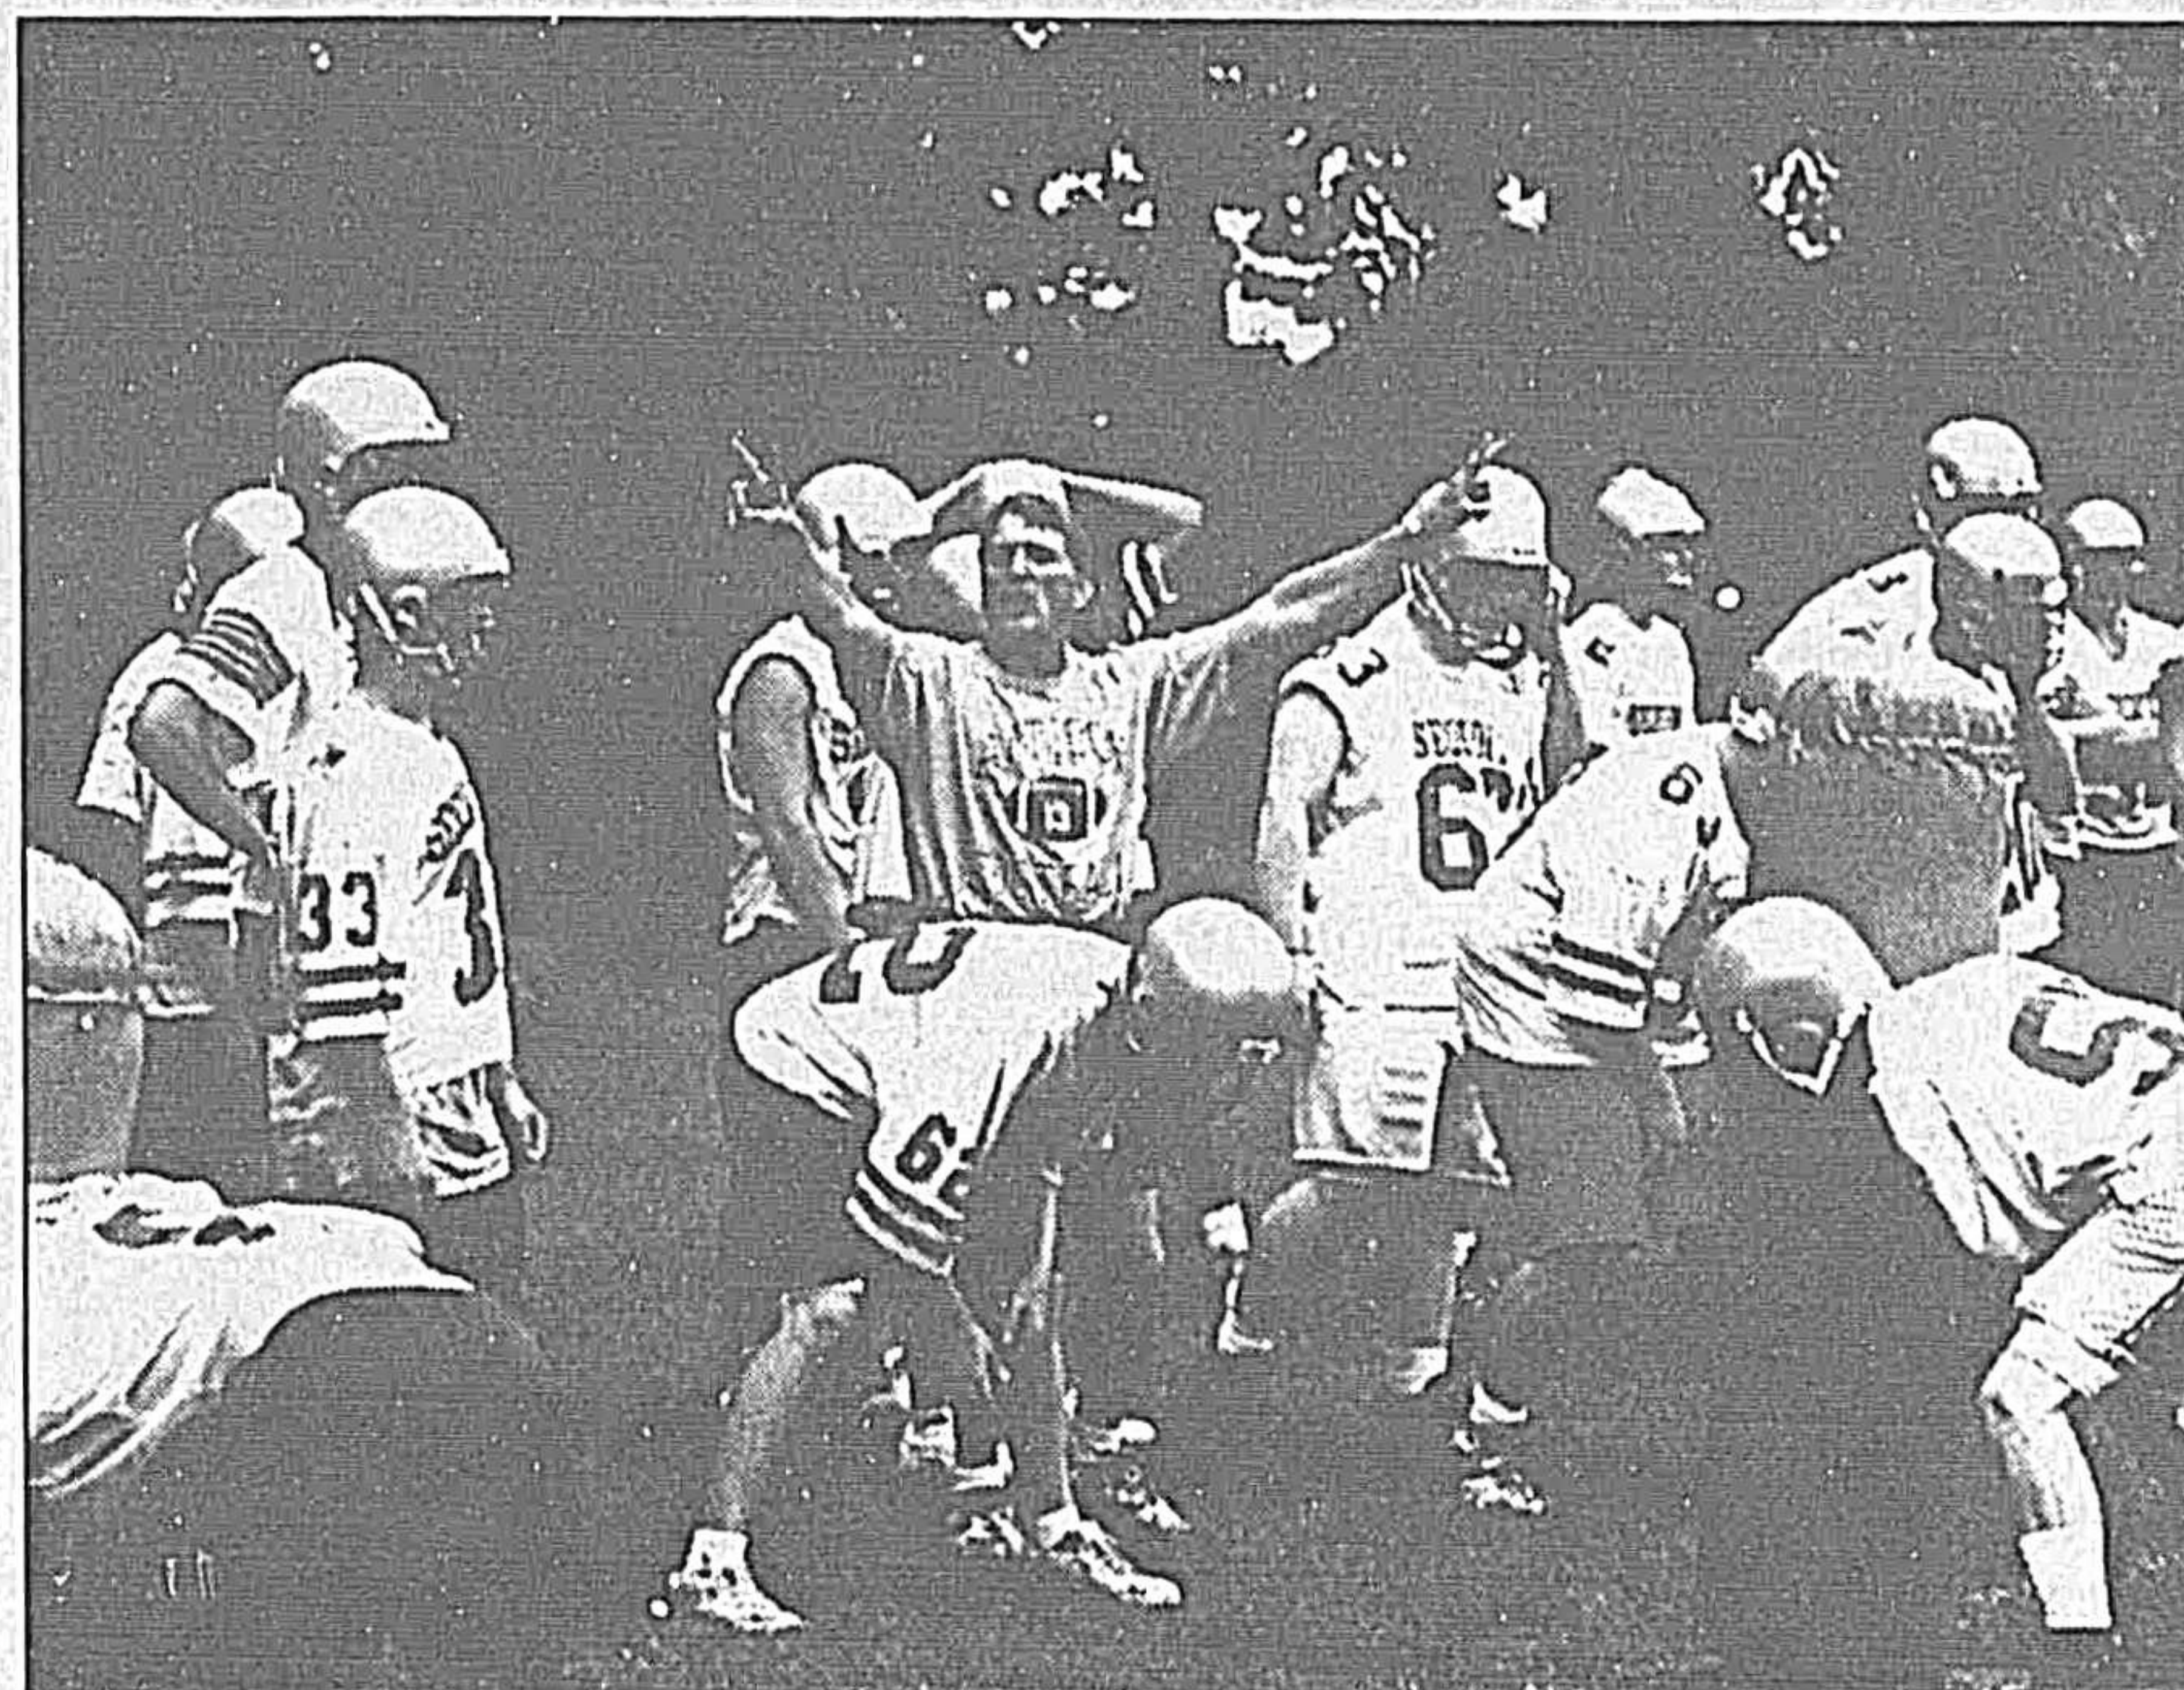

"Brad's got a good arm, has good feet and being taller certainly helps," said Pechauer of his 6-foot, 2-inch 176-pound signal-caller.

The most experience is one the defensive side of the ball, with senior middle linebacker Scott Gehrke, a 6-foot, 218-pound starter and leading tackler from the 2-7 team a year ago.

"He's one of our overall leaders," said Pechauer. "We used him mostly as a blocker (on offense) last year. We'll put him in the backfield when we need power. He's probably going to be our hardest runner this year."

Other key returning players from last year include senior offensive lineman Nick Arnold, who started every game as a junior.

Two seniors who will help Gehrke but have never played on defense before include senior tackle Ken Barth and defensive end

Tom Stempien. The rest of the defense is junior's, mixed in with a few sophomores.

The offensive line features a senior, three juniors and a sophomore.

And speaking of juniors, 6-foot, 1-inch 176-pound junior Randy Frolich will be waiting in the wings in case Hoogerhyde gets into trouble. Frolich will also see time at defensive back as well.

The biggest plus for the Sequoits is that they have plenty of time to practice. Most other teams in the area are back in school this week but the Sequoits don't return to the classroom until the middle of the week of Aug. 26.

The Sequoits open the season Aug. 30 when it travels to Niles West for a 7:30 p.m. non-conference tilt.

"So far, we're doing okay," said Pechauer. "A few bumps and bruises and a little soreness. But we'll try and keep things simple this year with a balanced mix of passing and rushing (on offense). We'll definitely be competitive."

That's all a coach can ask for.

Bulls youth training center 'hoops it up'

By JOE PRUSKI
Correspondent

The Chicago Bulls Basketball Schools, sponsored by the Bulls/White Sox Training Academy in Lyle, made their way to Lindenhurst last week.

The camp was for children between the ages of 6-13 and was held all week for three-and-a-half hours a day.

The camp had just 15 participants, although camp sizes usually range from 15 all the way up to 100. Over 100 basketball camps were held around the Midwest this year, with the majority being in Illinois. The academy began holding summer camps in 1999. Due to their enormous popularity, the center's have increased in popularity ever since.

The camp teaches basic skills such as shooting, dribbling, and passing while also emphasizing teamwork, leadership and communications.

Training Academy instructors Garrett Fechner and Yen Quach ran the show last week in Lindenhurst.

Fechner, who played basketball at Maine South High School, now works with the Valparaiso basketball program during the season as well as for the academy during the summer.

summer.

Meanwhile, Quach played basketball at Southwest Missouri State and plans on trying out for the WNBA this off-season.

According to Fechner, even though the camp puts fun ahead of work and stresses that basketball is just a game, the kids still push themselves to do their best.

"It's surprising how intense the kids are. They work extremely hard practicing the different skills," said Fechner.

Although the camp covers all the major basketball skills and ideas, the instructors also relate everything back to family, school, and life, as basketball is just a game.

"I think the camp was definitely a success," said Fechner. "I've never had a kid walk out of the camp not smiling and talking about what a great time they had."

The Bulls/Sox Training Academy training centers were also held in Antioch, Grayslake, Libertyville, and Mundelein this summer. For more information on future Chicago White Sox/Chicago Bulls training centers, please call 630-324-8221.

Hawkeye tryouts Sept. 8

The Lakeland Hawkeye girl's softball organization will be holding tryouts for new athletes on Sun., Sept. 8 at Millennium Park in Lindenhurst. The park is located on Sand Lake Rd. just west of Rte. 45. Lakeland is a travel team based out of Northwest Lake County. Tryouts will be for the following teams and age groups: 14-year-old; 12-year-old; and, possibly for a 10-year-old team. A girl's age is determined by her age as of Jan. 1. The tryouts will run from 11 a.m.-1 p.m.

Interested candidates should report to the park regardless of the weather. For any questions, please call 847-838-0227.

Lady HoopStars finish strong

The Northern Lake County HoopStars program couldn't be prouder of its first-year girl's fifth- and sixth-grade team. The Lady HoopStars finished its season 33-5.

In its final tournament of the season in Ft. Wayne (Ind.)

The Lady Hoopstars posted a 6-1 in the advanced beginner bracket. The team averaged 27 points per contest.

Offensively, Shanna Shepherd led the team with 49 points over the seven games. Shepherd drove to the basket and also crashed the boards to the tune of 40 rebounds for the tournament.

Joree Green followed in scoring with 39 points, creating many of her points from outside shots as well as converting her steals (16) into easy lay-ups. Rachel Culp found a sweet spot on the outside perimeter, racking up 31 points to go along with six steals. Lory Shaw was the team's playmaker, dishing out 10 assists for the tournament while adding 11 points of her own. The Lady HoopStars' defense couldn't be penetrated by most teams. Erin Claxton, Kelly Dones and Meghan Slack created an intimidating force under the basket. Claxton led in team rebounds with 45 and five blocked shots. Dones' quick hands resulted in 11 steals during drives to the basket. When able to get through for a shot, Dones grabbed 36 of those rebounds. Slack aggressively pursued every loose ball, resulting in four forced turnovers. She also pulled down 30 total rebounds. Haley Glynn was another strong force in the middle, adding 14 points, 14 steals and 20 rebounds. Destinee Wells contributed to the defensive effort with five steals and three boards. Leena Gonzalez held the highest free-throw percentage (50) and added four points.

During the final game of the tournament, the Lady HoopStars faced off against Michigan Storm, a team two brackets higher in the tournament. While the opponents were more experienced the Lady HoopStars provided "the best competition we faced," said the Michigan Storms head coach. The HoopStars turned in a solid effort but wound up losing.

Meanwhile, the Storm went on to win the championship of the Highly Skilled bracket.

At the season-ending picnic, the team voted Shanna Shepherd the team's MVP. The girls would also like to thank our coaches for a great job and lots of fun!

The Lady HoopStars are coached by Paul Claxton and Joe Shepherd.

GOLF DIGEST

Results

John Gollwitzer of Round Lake fired rounds of 74-73 (147) to capture the Renwood club championship. Gollwitzer's 36-hole total bested runner-up Al Wright of Grayslake (151).

Meanwhile, Grayslake's Jackie Lubkeman defeated Round Lake's Donna Ryan on the first hole of a playoff to win the women's championship flight. Both carded two-day total's of 175.

The event featured play in several flights in addition to the championship competition.

The rest of the men's final leaderboard had Lake Villa's Homer Jenkins (152) winning the men's first flight (handicap 7-14) with Round Lake's David Finch (164) finishing runner-up.

In the men's second flight (handicaps 15-21), Round Lake's Chuck Kidd took the title after recording a two-day total of 175 (84-91). Grayslake's Wade Osbourne finished second (181).

And, in the men's third flight (handicaps 22-28), Mark McGraw shot a pair of 94s to finish ahead of second-place winner Larry Happ (190), also of Round Lake.

Speaking of Renwood, Farooq Khan of Deerfield fired a two-day total of 153 (76-77) to win the boys 17-19 age group in the 20th Annual Renwood Junior Open. Ingleside's Derek Hartmann (156) was second and Grayslake's Matthew Dausch (158) third.

In the girls 17-19 age group, Lindenhurst's Nicole Gluzinski took the top spot after carding a pair of 93s. McHenry's Dan Shallcross captured the 14-16 age group with his 36-hole total of 161. Josh Fuiava, also from McHenry, was second (163) while Grayslake's Drew Skelly won a sudden death three-way playoff for third place. Skelly's birdie on the 3 on the par-4 first hole defeated McHenry's Chris Stastny and Zion's Greg Booth.

Grayslake's Sandy Spaniak took the title in the girls 14-16 age group. Spaniak's 225 total outdistanced Kate Besser of Chicago (247). The most exciting moment came when Gurnee's Eric Bolnius aced the par-3 eighth hole during his first-round 78. Bolnius wound up finishing with a 36-hole total of 166, good for second-place behind Chicago's Peter Besser, who had a 158.

Phil Senour of Mundelein was third after shooting 184 (88-96) over the two days.

On Sun., Aug. 25, ASK will be traveling to the water park in Rockford. It will be an all day affair. Plan on getting wet and having some fun with your ASK family. Swimsuit is a necessity, along with a towel, money for lunch, etc. Prices will be posted at the dojo with a sign up sheet. Any parent interested in carpooling, please let Sensei Anna know.

Daun Memorial race Aug. 24

By PAUL KUYAWA
Wilmot Correspondent

Turn off the television, cancel the cookout and come out to the Wilmot Speedway for what promises to be one of the best sprint car races of the year on Sat., Aug. 24 for the Wayne Daun Memorial race, considered by all drivers as one of the "must win" races.

Wayne was the father of sprint car driver Todd Daun. Wayne was liked by everyone, always happy to be at the race track with his son. It is a big race for all. A field of 50-plus sprints is expected as the Wilmot regulars will take on the stars of the Interstate Racing Association. Dave Moulis was victorious in the last battle of the two racing groups. When the Wilmot drivers and IRA get together, it turns into a civil war, sort of an "us against them" race.

It was just announced that the Wayne Daun Memorial race will pay $2500 to the winner.

"This amount on top should bring out all the stars and will be an excellent show", said Track Promoter Marie Winker.

Moulis, Brian Kristan, Daun, Donald Dodd and Rick Kelsey will lead the Wilmot team while John Haeni, Kim Mock, Scott Neitzel and Todd Hepfner will be leading the IRA assault. Kurt Winker, winner of the past two regular Wilmot features, will also be in action.

Joe Roe, eight-time IRA champion and past Wilmot champion, is also set to come to Wilmot. Roe finished third in the last IRA with Mock getting the runner up spot.

With so many racers getting their start at Wilmot, most consider a home coming of sorts when they come back to race at the third-mile oval track located on the Kenosha County Fairgrounds.

The racetrack is located in Wilmot. Come out early and get a good seat for this super sprint car show. Gates open at 5 p.m. with qualifying set to start at 6 and racing to follow. For more information, please call the track at 262-862-2446 or Winker Motorsports at 262-694-0656. Fans can also check out the Wilmot web site at www.wilmotspeedway.com.

Lake Geneva Raceway

With just three more point nights left for many of the small car divisions at Lake Geneva Raceway, last Friday nights show brought some exciting news for a few drivers. Curt Gnatzig of Hartford won the 20-lap Perfection Auto Body Legends feature. Gnatzig wasn't able to qualify because he blew a cam in the heat laps. But after some hard work by his crew and fellow drivers, the new point leader started dead last and won the event.

Defending Herb's mini modified champion Ken Johnson of Paddock Lake was on fire in setting a fast time to finish second in the dash before running away with the 15-lap feature. Johnson for the first time with just two Friday nights to go and then their championship on Sept. 27 took over the point lead by 25 points. Mark Hartline of Gilberts, Ill. just missed a clean sweep of the S&P motorsports millennium cars races but took a impressive victory in the close 20-lap feature.

Jeff Bremer of Round Lake won his second 15-lap Anchor Towing Basic International car feature of the season. Fast timer Tom Ross of Northbrook posted a victory the 15-lap sport truck feature in a close contest and Jim Veugeler of Crystal Lake started out side pole and ran away with the Rascal Outlaws 15 lap feature.

Clayton Kruse darted out front of the legends feature with Brian Cataldi the fast qualifier Larry Will and Curt Gnatzig next. Within four laps, Gnatzig slipped under Kruse but could not make it stick. Then on the outside, the lead changed hands on lap six and not even two lapped cars could help his fellow competitors as Gnatzig won his fourth feature of the season. Cataldi nipped Kruse for second with Garrett Will and Larry Will rounding out the top-5.

Ken Johnson started last in the second largest field of the season but took less than one lap to secure the lead and the win in the mini modified feature. The race for second-through-eighth was great as Roy Morrison took second and Bill Trusky third. Former point leader Jeff Schultz was fourth after nipping Johnson by less than a few inches. Joe Miller rounded out the top-5.

Point leader Nick Kalteis lead the first five laps before Jeff Bremer moved in front and easily won the BIC feature over Greg Sheldon, Dan Hunt, Kalteis and Dave Cheney Jr.

It took Tom Ross, the fast qualifier, seven laps to get to the front and then hold off the challenges of defending champion Vincent Merry and Lance Ross for the win in sport truck racing.

Bart Reinen and rookie Boyd Calvert dueled for the point of the millennium late model feature with Steve Maciosek next. Reinen headed to the pits quickly with unknown problems as Calvert charged in front quickly. Paul Dygon slipped into second with Joshua Shaw pressuring for third. Mike Carpenter Jr., Mike Lange and Denny Norton Jr. got together on lap three and the race came to a halt. On the restart, Clavert held on to the top spot for two more laps before Shaw inched ahead.

It took Mark Hartline just four more laps to catch and over took Shaw before moving on to the victory 11 laps later. Shaw was a distant second with another rookie Jacob Humphrey next Denny Norton Jr. recovered for fourth and Calvert was along side for fifth.

The Fri., Sept. 23 show will feature the Millennium late models legend cars, mini modifieds, BIC cars and sport trucks. Time trials begin at 6 p.m. racing at 7:30 for the five divisions of action. — By Dale Erdmann

LAKE VILLA

Hit and run

Paul M. Bartell, 21, of 118 Oak Lane, Lake Villa, was arrested by Lake Villa Police on Aug. 14, following a one-car accident at 1134 Willshire. Bartell was charged with driving without a valid license, improper turning and leaving the scene of an accident involving property damage.

Police responded to an accident report at Cedar Lake Road and Northwood Trail. Witnesses said a man wearing a blue T-shirt was seen fleeing the scene.

Police found a 1992 blue LeBaron in the middle of the backyard at 1134 Willshire. The fence was damaged, with sections on the ground.

Skid marks appeared to indicate the car had driven off the road and through the fence.

Three female passengers were at the scene. None were injured.

Bartell, who fit the description of the man seen leaving the accident, was located and taken into custody. At the police station, he admitted he was the driver of the car. He told police he saw a police car at the intersection of Monaville and Cedar Lake Road, and tried to avoid it because he is on parole and was driving without a license. He panicked, and tried to turn eastbound into Northwood Trail. He realized he had gone past the intersection by about 20 feet, but, unable to stop, he drove through the fence.

Still panicky, he fled the scene.

He was released after posting a $1,000 I-bond, pending an appearance in Grayslake Branch III court, on Sept. 11, at 3 p.m.

Fire reported

Lake Villa Police and the Lake Villa Fire Department responded to a fire on Aug. 12 at 5:13 a.m. at 417 Hubbard Lane, in the Painted Lakes subdivision. Police at the scene reported flames coming from the rear deck of the house, but damage to the house was limited. The deck door was destroyed. There were no injuries. The fire was determined to be an accident, caused by hot charcoal in a grill.

DUI

Timothy D. Backstrom, 29, of 703 Waters Edge, Lake Villa, was arrested by Lake Villa Police on Aug. 8, at 12:49 a.m., while driving eastbound on Route 132 near Cremin drive. Police driving eastbound on Route 132 in a marked car observed a car approaching from the rear at a high rate of speed. The car came within a half-car length of the squad car. Moving aside to let the car pass, police observed the car nearly enter the westbound lanes. When stopped, the driver admitted having "one drink" at Nuttie's Bar. He failed three of four field sobriety tests, and breath test yielded a result of .160 BAC. He was charged with DUI, DUI over .08 BAC and following too closely. He was released on a $1,000 I-bond, pending an appearance in Waukegan courtroom C-402, on Sept. 13, at 9 a.m.

Kenneth R. Goodlow, 34, of 22368 W. Morton Dr., Lake Villa, was arrested by Lake Villa Police on Aug. 11, at 12:09 a.m., while driving on Route 83 near Route 132. Police observed the driver cross over the double yellow line several times as he was heading northbound. He pulled into the Shell station at routes 132 and 83, and, after exiting his pickup truck, re-entered it, and began driving southbound on Route 83, continuing to weave. Police activated emergency lights at Route 83 and Park Avenue, but the driver did not stop until he turned onto Morton Drive, about one-and-a-half miles south. He admitted drinking four beers, and failed four of four field sobriety tests. A breath test yielded a result of .158 BAC. He was charged with improper lane usage, DUI and DUI over .08 BAC. He was released on a $1,000 I-bond, pending an appearance in Waukegan courtroom C-402, on Sept. 11, at 9 a.m.

LINDENHURST

Piotr Piasecki, 32, of 1102 Waverly Dr., Lake Villa, was arrested by Lindenhurst Police on Aug. 16, at 3:24 a.m., at while driving on Route 132 west of Deep Lake Road. He was driving 5-10 miles under the speed limit, while drifting across the double yellow line by as much as 12 inches for a distance of up to 20 feet, police reported. He failed four of four field sobriety tests, and a PBT registered .181 BAC. He refused further breath tests. He was charged with improper lane usage, equipment violation, transport of open liquor, driving an uninsured motor vehicle and DUI. He was released on a $3,000 I-bond, pending an appearance in Waukegan courtroom C-402, on Sept. 10, at 9 a.m.

Robert J. Cappitelli, 25, of 25653 Wacker Dr., Lake Villa, was arrested by Lindenhurst Police on Aug. 18, at 9:53 p.m., while driving eastbound on Route 132 near Granada Blvd. Police stopped the driver after observing yellow-colored taillights and an improper exhaust on Cappitelli's white Honda Civic. He was drifting on the road, and driving 37 mph in a 45-mph zone. Police noticed an odor of cannabis in the car. The driver's license was reported suspended for DUI. In the car, police found a blue velvet bag, containing a glass pie with a residue in it. On the floor of the car, a plastic bag was found, containing less than 2.5 grams of a leafy substance that field-tested positive for cannabis. The driver refused field sobriety tests or breath tests. His car was towed, with the possibility of seizure. He was charged with improper lighting, improper lane usage, modified exhaust, driving an uninsured motor vehicle, DUI enhanced, driving with a suspended license enhanced, possession of drug paraphernalia and possession of cannabis. He was turned over to the Lake County Jail pending a bond court hearing.

Guy O. Smith, 43, of 20952 W. Verona, Lake Villa, was arrested by Lindenhurst Police on Aug. 17, at 1:01 a.m., for offenses that occurred while driving on Route 132 near Sand Lake Road. A Lindenhurst officer, responding to a call for backup on Hutchins and Stearns School Road, was heading eastbound on Route 132, with emergency lights flashing. At Sand Lake Road, a truck heading eastbound did not move over when the squad car approached. The officer sounded the siren, but the truck remained in the inner lane, signaling a left turn onto Sand Lake Road. All other traffic was stopped. When the officer arrived at Hutchins, help was not needed. The officer then headed back, to wait for the truck. At Sand Lake Road, near Country Place, the squad car got behind the truck driver and activated emergency lights. The driver stopped at Sand Lake Road and Cross Creek.

The driver, who admitted having three beers, said the emergency lights had not been on. At times, when asked questions, he replied in what appeared to be a foreign language. He failed three of three field sobriety tests. Police reported he refused to answer questions, and refused breath tests, saying "he was afraid he would get AIDS because of Saddam Hussein." When shown a fresh mouthpiece taken from its plastic wrapper, he said people who packed it in the bag might have had AIDS.

He was charged with failure to yield to emergency vehicles, driving an uninsured motor vehicle, failure to use seatbelts and DUI. When told if no one were called, he'd be taken to Lake County Jail, he allegedly said, "Fine, just take me away."

He was turned over to the Lake County Jail, with bond to be set, pending an appearance in Waukegan courtroom C-402, on Aug. 23, at 9 a.m.

Anthony D. Furreness, 29, of 1130 S. Main, Racine, was arrested by Lindenhurst Police on Aug. 17, at 3:20 a.m., while driving on Route 45 at Grass Lake Road. Police reported the driver was drifting over the double yellow line. He was driving at 10 miles under the speed limit. He failed field sobriety tests, and breath test yielded a result of .99 BAC. In his pocket, police found a switchblade knife. He was charged with improper lane usage, DUI, DUI over .08 BAC and unlawful use of a weapon. He was released on a $3,000 I-bond, pending an appearance in Waukegan courtroom C-402, on Sept. 10, at 9 a.m.

Unlawful use of license

Nicole G. Beshel, 17, of 350 Highland Rd., Grayslake, was charged by Lindenhurst Police with unlawful use of a driver's license on Aug. 17 at 12:15 p.m.

On Aug. 10, at 10:30 a.m., a police officer at McDonald's was approached by a member of the Lake County Sheriff's Office, who said a Mobil Gas attendant gave him a license taken from someone who was not the rightful owner.

On Aug. 15, the owner of the license came to the Lindenhurst Police Department to claim the license, alleging her younger sister took it to try to buy cigarettes.

On Aug. 17, both sisters appeared at the Lindenhurst Police Department. The younger sister, Nicole Beshel, after Miranda warnings, admitted the driver's license was taken without her sister's permission, and used to try to buy cigarettes for a friend. She was charged and was released on a $1,000 bond, pending an appearance in Grayslake Branch III court, on Sept. 4, at 10:30 a.m.

ANTIOCH

DUI

Rogers L. Taylor, 40, of 3179 Meridian, Great Lakes, was arrested for driving under the influence of alcohol on Aug. 17 at 7:46 p.m. at the intersection of routes 173 and 59.

Police responded to the area for a report of reckless driving. The officer saw the vehicle identified drive over the centerline and into the westbound lane of traffic.

While speaking with Taylor, the officer detected the strong odor of alcoholic beverage on his breath and requested field sobriety testing. Taylor failed all field sobriety tests requested of him.

Taylor was arrested and his vehicle inventoried for tow. A mostly empty bottle of vodka was found under the driver's seat and a completely empty bottle of the same under the passenger seat.

Taylor was transported to the Antioch Police Department where he was issued citations for improper lane usage and DUI. He agreed to chemical testing that resulted in .2 blood alcohol concentration, and was then issued citations for illegal transportation of alcohol and DUI over .08.

Taylor was put through booking procedures and released on personal recognizance pending his Oct. 1 court date.

Warrant arrest

Michael J. Geisen, 39, of 26610 Maple Avenue, Antioch, was arrested on warrant on Aug. 15 at 1:48 p.m. at the Antioch Police Department.

Geisen surrendered himself after the public defender's office sent a letter of active warrant for a probation violation. The warrant was "no bond."

A check through the Lake County Sheriff's Department and through LEADS confirmed the bond for domestic battery with no bond.

Geisen was arrested and but through booking procedures. He was then placed in a cell to await transportation to the Lake County Jail.

Many high school students surf the web in the classroom as an educational tool, but now some students can use the Internet as their classroom through the Illinois Virtual High School (IVHS).

"IVHS is a service to all Illinois districts and students to provide and online courses to help meet the learning standards," Illinois State Board of Education e-learning supervisor Brad Woodruff said. "It's a higher quality for students who might not otherwise be able to access these within the school."

The IVHS works in conjunction with local schools. Through the program, students are given the option to take additional classes online or classes that are not available through the school, which Woodruff said

West Nile virus spurs an increase in vigilance

Strain raises concern of mosquito threat

First in a series

While encephalitis, a disease spread by mosquitoes, has always been a summer health threat, the incursion of the West Nile strain into Illinois has raised local awareness of the hazard mosquitoes pose.

So far, none of the 19 reported cases of human infection in Illinois has occurred in Lake County. Nevertheless, in the face of confirmed cases of infected birds in the county, county and municipal officials are moving forward with prevention programs.

To contain the spread of the disease, it is necessary to understand the nature of West Nile, one of a group of infectious diseases known

SECOND OPINION!

By KRISTINA ANDERSON
Staff Reporter

People are more picky about their wedding plans than who attends their births," said Maureen McLaughlin-Lehtis who works as a Grayslake acupuncturist and is training to become a doula, a Greek word for an experienced woman who helps other women.

According to "Mothering the Mother," the term is used to characterize women who are trained to support pregnant women before, during and after childbirth.

Today a growing number of mothers-to-be want the support of another woman in addition to what doctors, midwives and husbands can provide. Hiring a doula, according to several Lake County women, is an overlooked alternative to traditional hospital deliveries.

McLaughlin-Lehtis became interested in doulas after having her first child, which was "long, drawn out and stressful." She began the DONA (Doulas of North America) certification process last February after she realized she was providing similar services when she attended friends' births.

"We focus primarily on the mom," she said. "We're not there for anything else."

Doulas often encourage couples to create a "birth plan" or what is most important to them in terms of the type of birth they want, where the delivery should take place and what, if any, medication should be used.

"We help implement the wish list within the framework of choice," she said. "We give ideas and offer resources."

Marcy Berkowitz of Grayslake hired McLaughlin-Lehtis when she was three months pregnant with her daughter, Morgan, last year.

"She was amazingly helpful. She helped with the pain and decision-making," she said. "Having family (in the labor room) is stressful, but Maureen being there was made the experience meaningful as well as helpful."

In addition to making two pre-natal visits with a couple, Gallas and McLaughlin-Lehtis also offer to attend the check-ups with doctors. Although doulas do not administer medicine, they act as a liaison between doctors and nurses and the mother-to-be who may have questions about different painkillers, procedures or emergency situations.

run a whole lot smoother*

When labor begins, Gallas gives therapeutic massages to anxious mothers-to-be and will suggest more comfortable positions during contractions. Likewise, McLaughlin-Lehtis said doulas rely on "relaxation talk" and may use aromatherapy and acupuncture while encouraging women in labor to walk as much as possible.

When Amy Causey of Lindenhurst was pregnant with her now 16-month-old daughter, Willow, she was terrified of giving birth even after reading every book about pregnancy she could get her hands on.

"It made sense to have a woman at my birth," said Causey. "I know my husband was feeling overwhelmed at the prospect of getting me through this."

While skeptics question if doulas replace the role of the husband, friend or mother during pregnancy and at birth, Causey is confident that doulas only work to strengthen the partnership between the mother-to-be and the father.

"She (Gallas) was a calming presence and brought with her knowledge and skills—she so enhanced our experience together," she said. "I wanted my husband to hold my hand, not be my coach."

According to Kerry, Amy's husband, hiring Gallas helped him focus on fulfilling a supportive role without feeling stressed out.

"It gave both of us an added sense of security—for me especially," he said. "I didn't want to be left in control of setting everything up and making sure she (Amy) was OK."

Kerry said a doula can relate to a mother-to-be better than a her husband.

"A woman knows what a woman needs—especially in a childbirth situation," he said. "(As a man) you can't begin to understand what it's going to be like."

David Jacobson and his wife Iris of Evanston decided to hire Gallas after having their first two children.

"She (Gallas) was an advocate for Iris, which gave me an opportunity to be a husband," he said. "I would never do this again without a doula."

According to Causey, doulas not only empower women to make choices about their own childbirth, some research suggests they speed up labor while decreasing childbirth complications.

In one study published in several medical journals including the Journal of the American Medical Association and the British Journal of Obstetrics and Gynecology, the average length of labor among 225 women with the assistance of a doula was 7.7 hours opposed to 15.5 hours without a doula.

Gallas said doulas charge anywhere between $450-$1,500 and are on-call 24 hours two weeks before and after the due date.

While most women who hire a doula decide to have an unmedicated or natural birth in their own home, some choose to deliver at a hospital and use medication.

Carrie Dallner of Wauconda is scheduled to have her first child at Lake Forest Hospital in August.

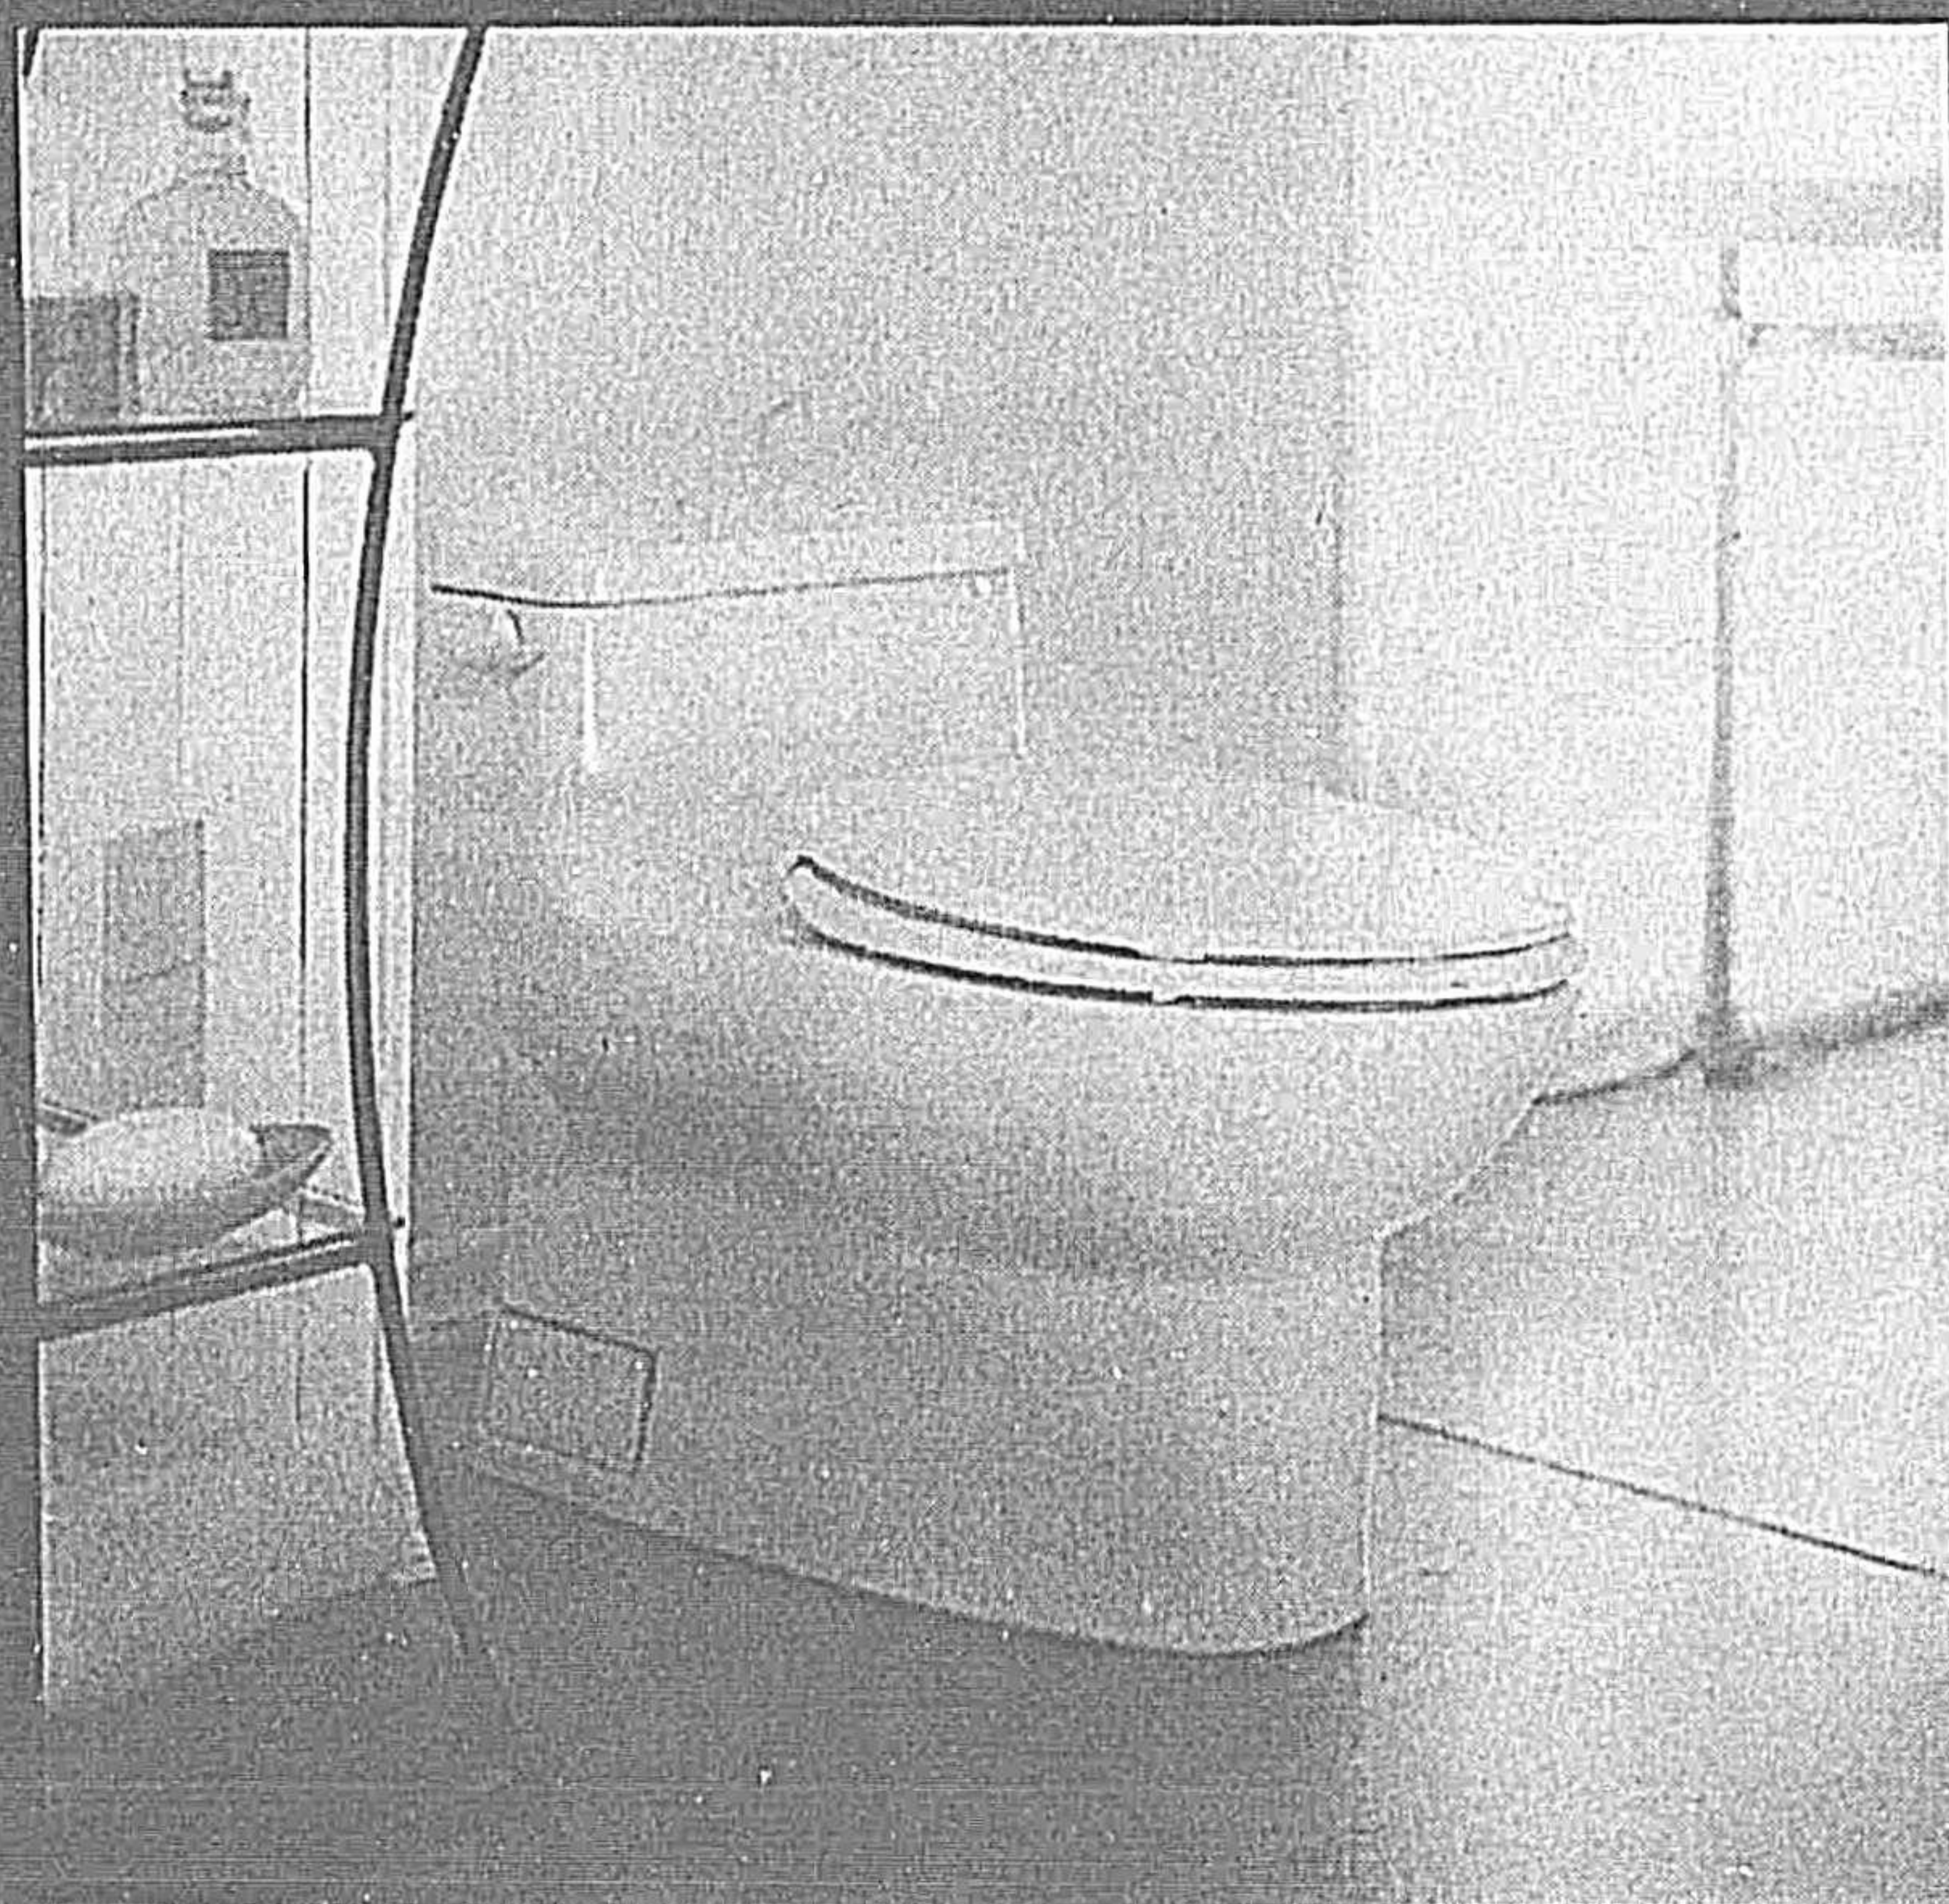

"Finding someone who can support and help you is the most important thing," she said. "I wanted to avoid all medication because it slows down labor, increases your risk of a C-section, you're on bed rest longer and need internal monitoring."

Both Gallas and McLaughlin said couples can learn more about doulas by visiting the DONA (Doulas of North America) website, www.dona.org and begin research their options for childbirth.

She suggests hiring a doula that understands a couple's birth plan, is willing to work with them as a team.

Causey said a doula helps a mother relax and makes the birthing experience enjoyable. "You can't plan for everything. It's about making the best it can be...the doula can make it possible."

VIRTUAL

gives them an advantage they might not otherwise have.

"Let's say you're from a small school and they don't have things like calculus and upper level courses available," he said. "That may not stop you from graduating from the school, but it can stop your tracks of being accepted into an upper-tier university."

The IVHS offers 76 full-time courses this fall, as well as 12 Advanced Placement and ACT review classes. The classes are taught online by certified Illinois instructors, and include homework, tests and tutorials all over the Internet.

In order to inject a more human approach to the virtual learning environment, instructors hold virtual office hours, are available in chat rooms and are required to call their pupils at least twice a month.

"Students have the opportunity to interact with the course and teacher and progress on their own pace," Woodruff said. "There are a number of communication tools — after all, the Internet is part of the communication age."

Since the program's start 18 months ago, 3,900 students have participated in the innovative online learning. But through a lower tuition rate announced by Gov. George Ryan on Aug. 13, which decreased it from $300 per student per class each semester to $195, administrators hope even more students enroll.

Although all the teaching is done through the IVHS, the student's home school also plays an integral part in the program. The virtual program does not give out credit for the courses, and it is up to the schools to give the student a grade based on their percentage completion and points earned.

Schools must also figure out a time when the student can be excused to participate in the online learning and decide if the program's feasible for them, such as if they would have access to the program at home.

Locally, only Barrington, Buffalo Grove, Lake Forest, Libertyville, Mundelein and Vernon Hills high schools currently participate in the program.

brain tissue.

West Nile virus was first found in the West Nile District of Uganda in 1937. The virus became recognized as a cause of severe human meningoencephalitis (inflammation of the spinal cord and brain) in elderly patients during an outbreak in Israel in 1957. Equine disease was first noted in Egypt and France in the early 1960s. The first appearance of the virus in North America occurred in New York City, in 1999.

Although not the most virulent form of encephalitis, its spread in the United States now ranks second. The widest-spread form of encephalitis is LaCrosse, the strain that took the life of a 12-year-old boy in Wisconsin.

By contrast, West Nile is rarely fatal. There has been one fatality in Illinois, that of a 67-year-old DuPage County man. Those most at risk of contracting more serious forms of the disease are people over 50. The median age of those with fatal cases is 70, according to Dr. Irfan Hafiz, a specialist in infectious diseases on staff at Vista Healthcare.

It is possible to contract West Nile and remain unaffected to the point of being undiagnosed. Sometimes, the symptoms of West Nile may be mistaken for influenza.

"The symptoms can look like other things," Hafiz said. "There is a set pattern, however, and we need to be vigilant. We always test if the virus is suspected."

Only one percent of those bitten by infected mosquitoes are likely to develop encephalitis. Symptoms show themselves within 3-14 days. Symptoms of mild disease will generally last a few days. Symptoms of severe disease may last several weeks, although neurological effects may be permanent.

"Most people who get infected will clear of the disease," said Hafiz. "They may experience a rash, fever, sore throat and headaches."

More advanced symptoms are confusion, severe headaches and severe, progressive muscle weakness.

"When someone presents with these symptoms, we would run a spinal tap," Hafiz said. "This is nothing new. It is how we have always screened for encephalitis."

While a few suspected cases have appeared in Hafiz's Waukegan-based practice, none have tested positive.

Once infected with the disease, recovered patients become immune to further infection. It is assumed that immunity will be lifelong, although it may wane in later years.

There is, at present, no vaccine for the virus, nor is there a specific therapy. In more severe cases, intensive supportive therapy is indicated, often involving hospitalization, intravenous fluids, airway management, respiratory support (ventilator), prevention of secondary infections (pneumonia, urinary tract, etc.) and good nursing care.

Reflecting on the progress and spread of West Nile, Hafiz observed, "This is here to stay. It will become part of the health landscape. Once outbreaks settle down, it will be like other forms of encephalitis."

People with questions about infection of birds and other animals can call Animal Control Monday-Friday, 8:30 a.m.-4:30 p.m. at 847-949-9925. (After Hours 24/7 emergency number: 847-949-9925.)

For questions regarding signs and symptoms and the epidemiology of this disease in humans, call the Communicable Disease Program, Monday - Friday, 8:30 a.m.-5:30 p.m., at 847-377-8130. (After Hours 24/7 emergency number: 847-389-4431.)

Control of outbreaks begins with public health initiatives, including mosquito abatement.

There's nothing more energizing than a sense of accomplishment. But when it comes to advancing your education, it's easy to let work and family responsibilities prevent you from achieving all you'd like.

CLC realizes that no one schedule of classes works for everyone. That's why we offer many class scheduling options, and for many busy adults, our weekend option is ideal.

Over time, the weekend option will allow you to attend all of the courses you need to complete an associate's degree entirely on the weekend.

This fall, CLC will offer 90 credit courses on the weekend. You can choose from courses that transfer toward a bachelor's degree or courses that quickly build career skills in fields like computer networking and object-oriented programming.

Among your transfer course options:

- General Biology
- Introduction to Business
- English Composition
- Chemical Concepts
- Introduction to Psychology
- Fundamentals of Speech

Career-enhancing courses include:

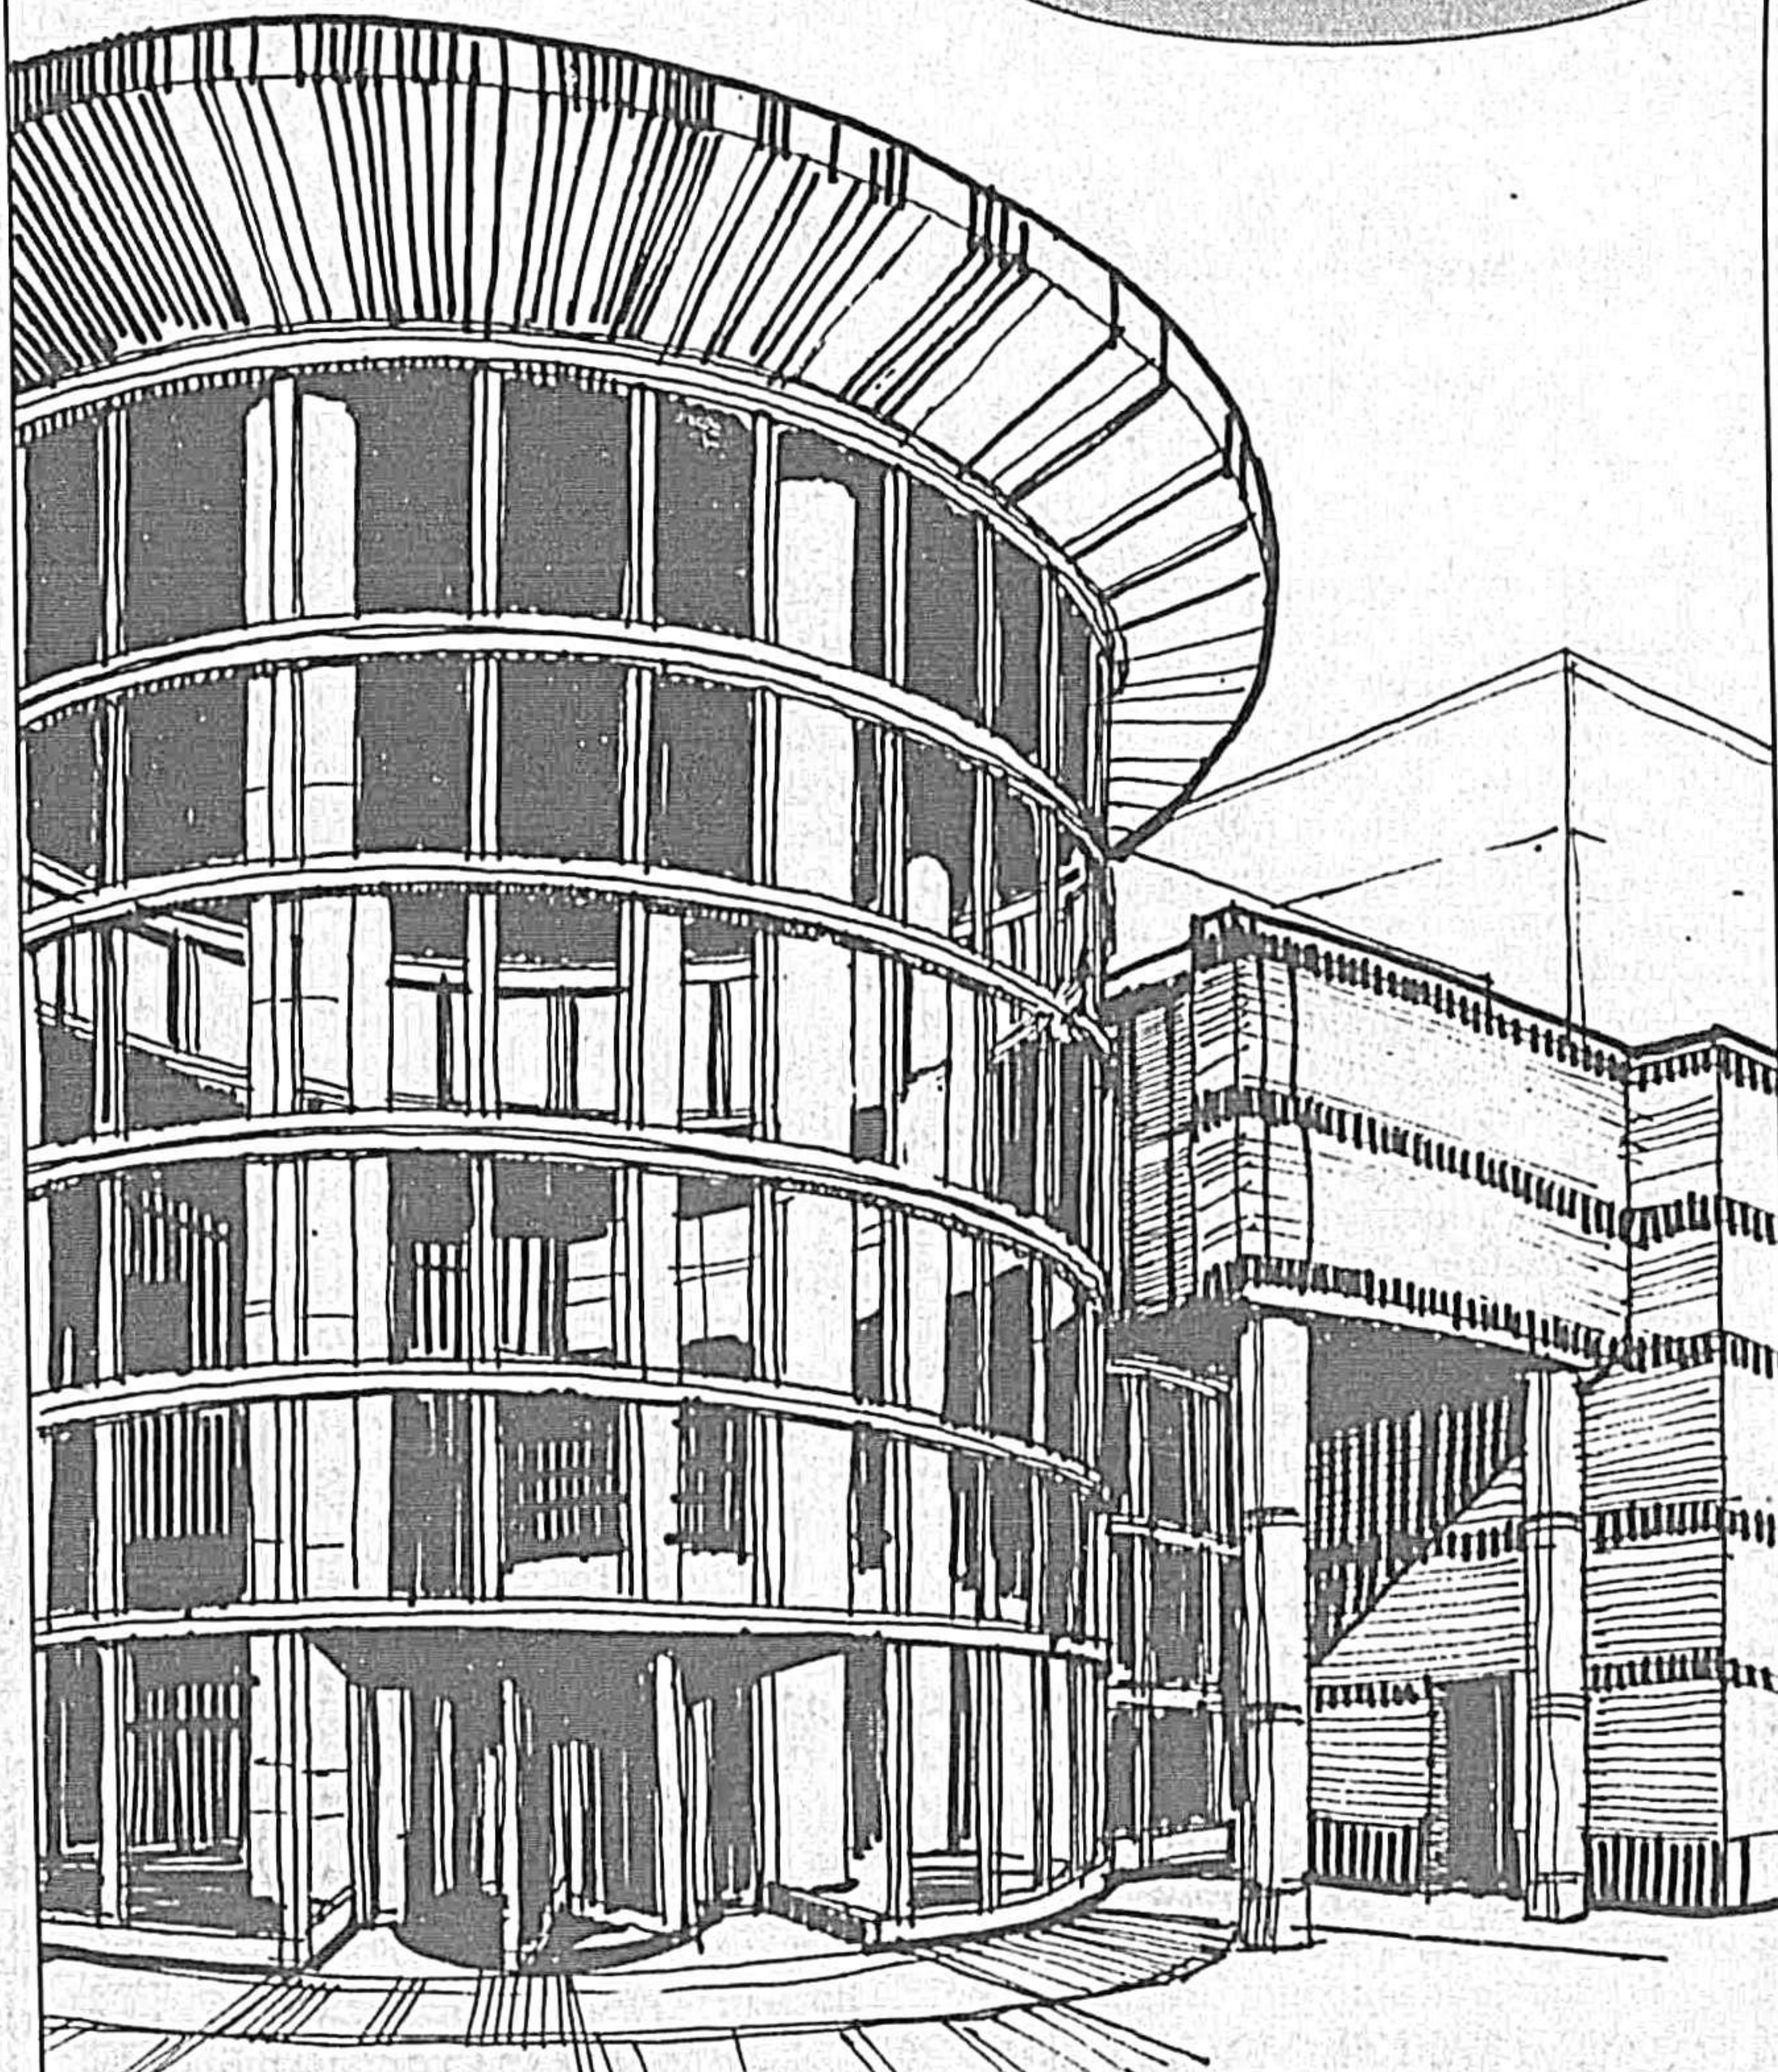

- Introduction to Computers
- Object Oriented Programming/JAVA
- Cisco Networking
- Introduction to Visual Basic Programming

Need more mileage from new road plans

In the coming weeks, expect to hear a lot of talk about needed highway improvements. An election is coming Nov. 7, and every politician likes to talk about relieving congestion.

But don't expect to hear anything new or at least much in the way of innovation coming from the office seekers. They'll be relying on a standard set of solutions that has been talked about in the public domain for a long time. Is there anyone who finds the plan to extend Route 53 through central Lake County an invigorating and innovative idea? Ho hum!

Still, there are some refreshing aspects to transportation action plans for mitigating congestion included in a list offered by Lake County Partners, a privately funded organization designed to promote successful growth and economic prosperity. We found noteworthy the idea of widening the I-94 Tollway from Route 22 to Route 60 to eight lanes and the fact that Partners is supporting widening of Route 120 to four lanes from Wildwood to U.S. Route 12.

Much of what Partners is advocating for lessening congestion makes sense, like the widening to four lanes of principal arterials and increasing the number of daily trains to 22 on the North Central Line commuter rail running to Antioch. The business organization also supports a plan to extend Metra rail service to southeast Wisconsin. Such a service would benefit employees in the growing corporate corridor between Lake Forest and the Lake-Cook county line.

While the ideas to relieve congestion are in place, what is needed in the political arena is commitment from office holders to push specific projects. Frankly, we're sick and tired of hearing the same old sing songs from candidates who come out fearlessly for Route 53, a tired and broken old horse of a highway plan. Better, the candidates should do their homework, pick one or two specific doable proposals and then pledge to push for them.

That way candidates would have concrete plans on which to campaign and voters would have something of substance to consider when they go into the polling booth. No more sing songs, please.

Back to school involves everyone

Have a second thought if you've got it doped out that all of this "Back to School" stuff is strictly for students. From our way of thinking, we're all in the BTS boat.

Now that the kiddos are heading back for the fall term, drivers will need to be alert for school speed zones and school buses stopped on the road to pick up students. That ought to take in just about everyone, hadn't it? But be alert for a knock on the door and a small voice asking, "Would you like to buy a candy bar to support the school band?" Or side-stepping swarms of homework-bound teens from the theater.

As we were saying, BTS time involves everyone.

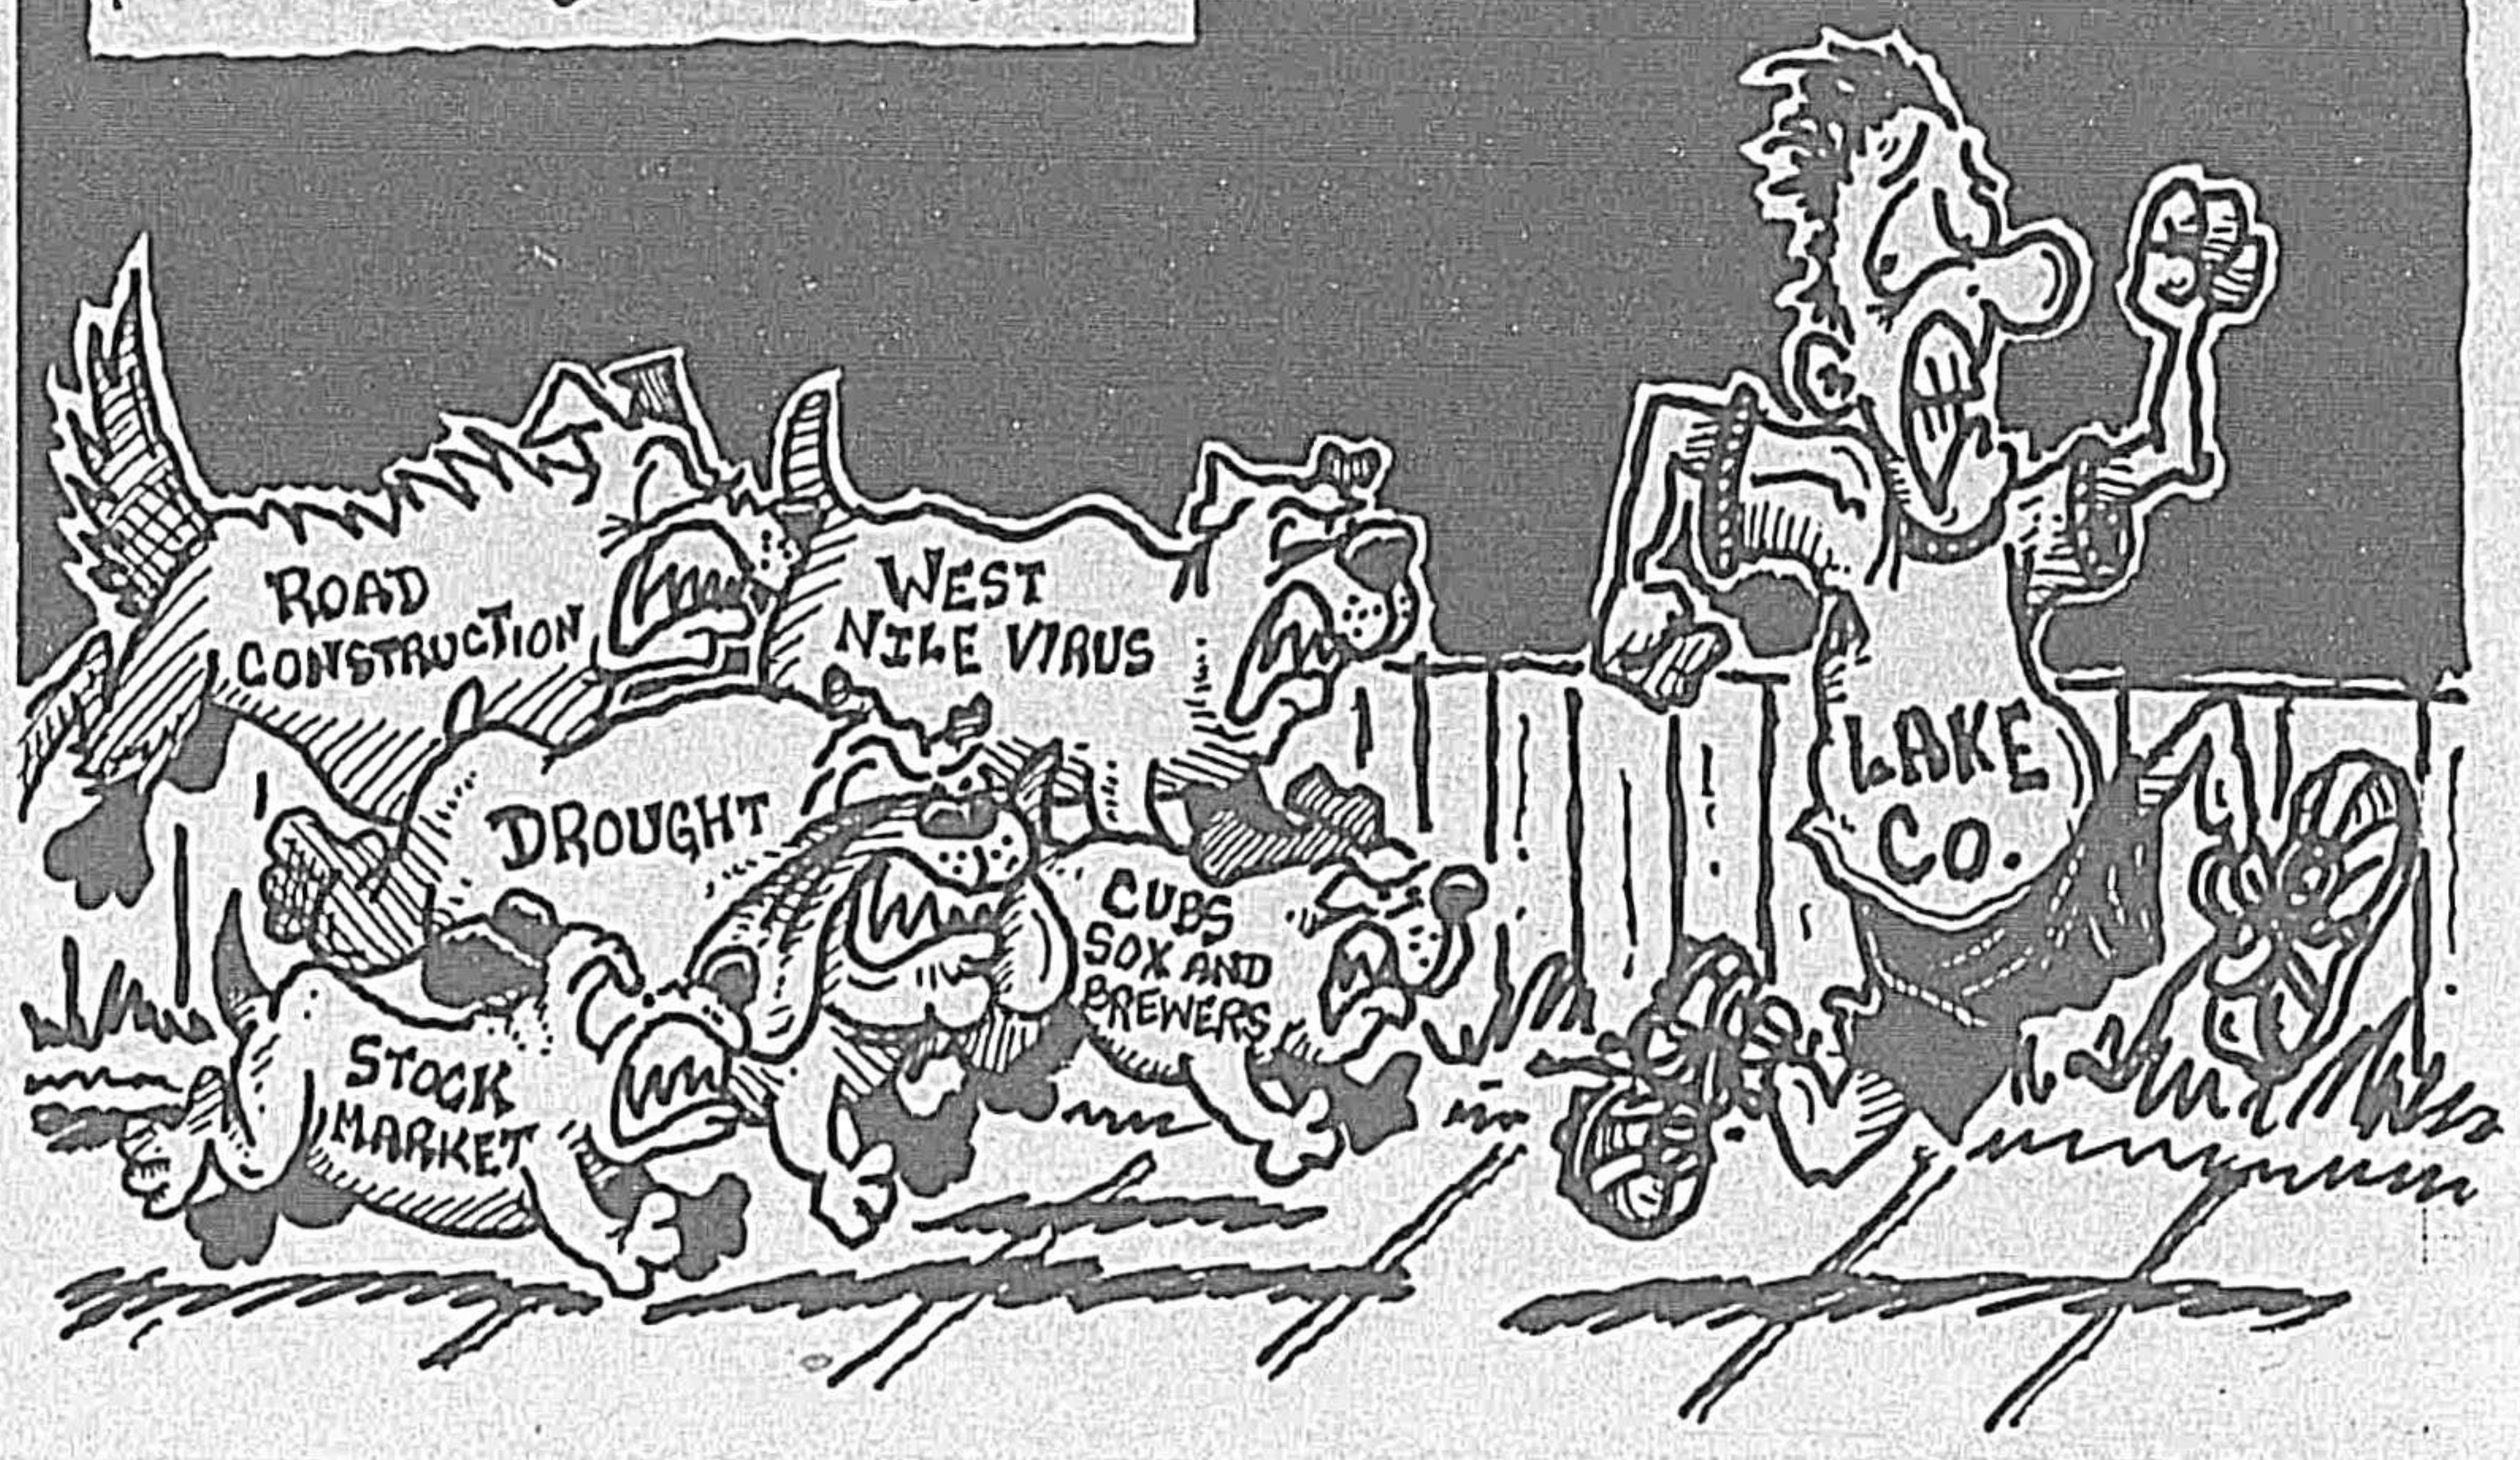

On a serious note, education is the biggest business in town. Not only does about 70 cents of every tax dollar go to keep public school doors open, education has grown to be a significant part of the job creating Lake County economy. Keeping schools going helps keep the local economy humming.

Courtesy of the U.S. Navy, about 60,000 young men and women go to school every year at Great Lakes Naval Training Center to learn how to become sailors. There are thousands more military students when you consider the service schools for specialized training.

Few parts of the nation are blessed with more opportunities for higher learning than Lake County, thanks in part to the University Center where 12 institutions of higher learning are offering bachelor's completion degrees and master's degrees. Besides the College of Lake County and several colleges, there still is an incubator for another higher learning center, University Station, in Park City where National-Louis University and the University of Wisconsin-Parkside conduct classes.

It's a good idea to pay attention when the Back to School subject arises. Your money and your time are involved. Make sure you make the most of the season.

VIEWPOINT

City by the lake beckons rainbows

Architects of a Waukegan lakefront development plan are starting small and thinking big. Their plans are so vast and complicated that they just might succeed because politicians will have a difficult time fouling up a futuristic blueprint for a "new city" on Lake Michigan.

Shai Lothan of Highland Park, spokesman for Waukegan Lakefront Development Corp., foresees an enticing mix of condo residences, upscale retail and water-related entertainment that residents of every corner of Lake County can reach within minutes on an upgraded system of modern highways.

Explaining that he's out to change the perception of the county seat, Lothan said he and his associates aim to build a "whole new city—the nicest city on Lake Michigan."

Lothan, who learned real estate development from his father, Alex, who built shopping centers in Chicago and Round Lake Beach, literally can talk for hours about transforming approximately 1,000 acres, mostly vacant and rundown factory sites, into a mecca for tourists. Brushing aside limited recreation-orientated developments at Racine and Kenosha, Lothan says there is a crying need for major access by a recreation seeking public to Lake Michigan between Chicago and Milwaukee.

With Piped Piper enthusiasm, Lothan reels off projects like building a children's museum, establishing an intermodal transportation hub, rerouting highways, scrapping a railroad line, building beaches, constructing a minor league baseball stadium, erecting a bridge linking the downtown to the lakefront, carving out parks and finding a home for a mothballed U.S. Navy warship.

That's the big stuff.

For a starter, all Lothan is looking for is permission from the City of Waukegan and the Port Authority to clear some land for a mid-rise 100-unit condominium and partner with the 75-year-old Waukegan Yacht Club to build a swimming pool and fitness center.

Six foot five and soft spoken, Lothan is candid about the modest beginning. "We won't be taken seriously until people see something happening."

In a nearly two-hour presentation, the angular developer didn't mention overall costs or a time line, the kind of talking points politicians love to wangle over. Lothan mentioned only one political leader, the late Mayor Dan Drew who served only eight months after elected in 2001. "He got me started thinking about lakefront development."

BILL SCHROEDER
Publisher

Waukegan largely has been ignored while the rest of Lake County has mushroomed to 670,000 population. Not any more. The city by the lake is beckoning sunshine—and rainbows.

Sam returns

Sam Dada, Lake County's best known fire chief before retiring after 41 years of service at Gurnee, returned for a summer visit. Other than sporting a natty cane, Sam is in good health and enjoying retirement in Arkansas. Sam said he's in the area where it pays to have "one short leg and one long leg" to get around the rocky hills and valleys. Besides handling every department task at one time or another, Sam taught fire science at the College of Lake County for 21 years. Standing well over six feet, Sam was a "Mountain Man" before relocating to the Razorback State.

President Gail

Gail Svendsen, the No. 1 ambassador of Lake County tourism, has taken on a new job. Gail accepted the presidency of the Great Lakes Naval Museum Assn. with the understanding that she will find a new home for the facility that is a major visitor attraction at Great Lakes Naval Training Center. Now housed in a vintage Navy building dating back to the early part of the last century, Gail sees a major fund raising campaign in the future to build a permanent home.

Flying high

Young people with dreams of flying can get a taste of the Wild Blue Yonder Saturday, Sept. 28, at Waukegan Regional Airport when the Young Eagle program will offer free rides for ages 6-16. Your columnist will be digging up more information as take off time nears.

Happy birthday

Wauconda will be celebrating its 125th anniversary Saturday, August 31, with a schedule of events running from 8 a.m. to midnight. What do you do when you're 125 years old? How about such events as a cardboard boat regatta on Bangs Lake, a parade, street dance and bingo.

Blagojevich support of abortion deplored

By Bonnie Quirke

To all citizens who will be voting in the November election and to those who should be voting (there is still time to register), take the time to know the voting record of Rod Blagojevich, especially his vote on partial-birth abortion.

On July 24, Blagojevich registered his sixth vote on a bill that would ban partial-birth abortions. His vote, of course, was NO to any ban on this gruesome method of abortion.

The procedure, which is really infanticide, is performed by dilating the cervix, grabbing the baby by its feet and pulling the baby out of the uterus into the vaginal cavity. While the baby is stuck in this position, dangling partly out of the woman's body, and just a few inches from birth, the executioner uses an instrument like a pair of scissors to tear or perforate the skull. Then, the skull will either be crushed or a vacuum will be used to remove the brain and other intracranial contents from the baby's skull, which collapses the baby's head. The dead baby is then pulled from the uterus.

Thousands of partial birth-abortions are performed each year. The AMA testified before congress that

3 candidates shun on-job training

A handful of November County Board candidates are attending meetings and committee sessions just as if they were already elected.

Among them are Bob Powers, Round Lake Beach; Steve Carlson, Grandwood Park, and Ann B. Malne, Libertyville.

With all 23 seats to be filled, apparently a majority of the non-incumbent candidates feel on-the-job training will be fine if they are elected.

Carlson, who is self-employed, said by attending meetings he is demonstrating his desire to be elected. "Candidates always say they want to serve the public. How serious are they?" Carlson asked.

Gun safety

State Sen. Kathy Parker (R-Northbrook) is helping distribute free gun-locks to promote gun safety.

Name pride

State Sen. Adeline Geo-Karis (R-Zion) has a 15 second script for Atty. Gen. Jim Ryan as he campaigns to replace his scandal ridden namesake. "Jimmy shouldn't apologize. He should be proud of his name. Just like there are a lot of Smiths, there are a lot of Ryans in Illinois. Talk directly to the people," recommended Geo-Karis, who always speaks of her Greek heritage with self-respect and pride.

Skidmore:

Dierker:

Author, author

Now that he's retired, Fred Dierker could write a book about grassroots government. He's served as an elected official (Wauconda village trustee) and an appointed officer (Fox Lake building commissioner, Wauconda village administrator). Wauconda's method of filling Dierker's vacancy is considered unique. Police Chief Dan Quick will handle additional administrative duties for three months and then decide which job he prefers.

No training

Due to a breach of security, the federal government cancelled a contract with the Lake County Sheriff's Department to train air marshals at the Zion firing range. A Homeland Security aide was miffed that Undersheriff Gary Stryker described to the press how marshals would train at the new facility considered state of the art. The site is closed temporarily for cleaning lead from the target impact area.

Funds working

Congressman John Boehner (R-Ohio) returned to Washington after visiting North Chicago schools to see how federal education funds are being put to good use in low income communities. Boehner guided President Bush's No Child Left Behind Act through Congress last year as chairman of the House Education Committee. The act was worth $800,000 to North Chicago schools.

Last call

One of Lake County's quaint and quirky recreation centers will become a Republican outpost Wednesday, Aug. 28. GOP faithful will flock to the island retreat in Grass Lake for the annual Blarney's Island fling that now is a fund raiser for County Treasurer Bob Skidmore. Access is by ferry boat only for fun and food being served from 3-8 p.m. Skidmore personally lends a hand to all debarking visitors.

Solid front

Newport Township in northeast Lake County is going into the general election campaign with a solid front of Republican precinct committeemen. No other township is battling 1,000 in either party. On the other end of the compass, Avon Township (Round Lake area/Grayslake) has not a single elected Democratic precinct captain.

We sure have fun with words

Editor's note: Jerry Pfarr is taking a short vacation from the column he has written every week for the last 15 years. Until he returns we will be printing some of his favorites. This one was written in 1998.

Working a crossword puzzle (one of life's great escapes) I needed a six-letter word for the clue, "Serenaded the sheets."

I had never heard that expression, but as I continued to work the puzzle the answer turned out to be "snored." And I said to myself, isn't ours a euphemistically marvelous language? Boy oh boy, we can sugar-coat almost anything.

To snore, of course, is to breathe during sleep with a rough, hoarse noise. It's been a bugaboo since Adam snored in the Garden of Eden. There's an old saying, "Laugh and the world laughs with you, snore and you sleep alone."

A euphemism is the substitution of an agreeable or inoffensive expression for one that may offend or suggest something unpleasant. In other words, a "nice-nellyism."

We euphemize lightheartedly about that eerie eventuality known as death. We soft-pedal it with such cliches as passing away, kicking the bucket, giving up the ghost, cashing in one's chips, pushing up daisies, going to our eternal reward, and checking out the other side of the grass.

THE PFARR CORNER

Snoring long has been called "sawing wood." It may happen while we are getting some z's. When snoozing, characters in the comic strips do this, "zzzzzzzzzz," don't they?

As our manner of communication becomes more explicit, surprising euphemisms pop up in the press. Not too long ago, when a certain politician was suspected of hanky-panky with a young female office worker, one Chicago newspaper columnist wondered if they were doing "the horizontal hula." The next day a rival reporter, not to be outdone, suggested that maybe it was "the Posturepedic polka."

Speaking of dancing, that's one of the subjects we like to describe in other words, along with marriage, money, our homes and our cars.

When folks dance, they are said to trip the light fantastic, shake their booties, cut a rug, boogie and, down South, go shaggin'.

When a couple gets married they not only are united in wedlock and joined in holy matrimony, they also are said to hook up, tie the knot or take the plunge.

Comedian Jeff Foxworthy says you might be a redneck if, during your wedding ceremony, the minister asked, "Do you, DeWayne, take Connie to be your old lady?"

Money, depending on how much we have, is described as moolah, mazuma, the root of all evil, filthy lucre, the almighty dollar, chickenfeed, do-re-mi, gravy, boodle and, of course, cabbage, lettuce and spinach. Green stuff.

Home is where the heart is, or where we hang our hat. It's also our castle, our pad, our digs, our nest, roost or perch, as if we were winged creatures.

Our cars are our wheels, our crates, our rattletaps, our buckets of bolts.

The other day, after a baseball player hit a couple of home runs in the same game, an announcer observed, "He must have had his Wheaties this morning!" Yep, he was the superstar, the slugger, the big cheese, in fact, "He da man!"

But if he went to sleep that night and serenaded the sheets, no one stayed in the room to applaud.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Del Re lawsuit explained

I am writing as a practicing attorney, licensed in the State of Illinois. I have read some of the letters to the editor regarding the Lake County Sheriff's race. Whether it is intentional or not. There has been some confusion created by some of the letters. I hope to provide some clarification for those people who are following the race, and who are not sure about what to make of the civil lawsuit filed against Sheriff Del Re.

It is important for everyone to understand how the court system works and the distinction between criminal and civil cases. Criminal cases are brought to court by prosecutors working for the government to punish violations of the Criminal Code. If a prosecutor wins a case, a court will administer a sentence upon the defendant involving fines, probation, or jail or prison time. Civil cases are brought to court by an individual who believes another individual owes him money. Individuals who win a civil court case receive money damages from the person they are suing.

Sheriff Del Re is NOT being investigated or prosecuted by the government for any reason. He is merely defending a CIVIL lawsuit brought by a tow truck operator. Every citizen has the right to petition a civil court for damages. The court does not "prescreen" these cases for validity. Anyone has the right to make any accusation they wish in a lawsuit, whether it is provable or not.

This is exactly what has occurred in Sheriff Del Re's case. A disgruntled tow truck driver felt that he was entitled to more government contracts than he got. So, he sued the sheriff. The sheriff, just like every other elected county official, is entitled to legal representation through the State's Attorney's office. That is the specific purpose of the civil division of the State's Attorney's office. Any public officeholder, who is sued for something allegedly done on the job, especially if the lawsuit was completely frivolous, is entitled to receive legal representation. Government would grind to a halt if every elected official had to pay for legal representation out of his pocket whenever a frivolous lawsuit was filed.

In the case of the civil lawsuit filed against the sheriff, the sheriff filed motions attacking the legal sufficiency of the suit. Before the case could even get to trial, the court dismissed the majority of the lawsuit because it had no basis in law. In other words, the majority of the case was not legally correct. The court has yet to get to the issue of determining whether any of the facts in the case are even true.

It is wrong to make an issue out of the fact that a civil lawsuit has been filed against the sheriff. Filing of a lawsuit does not mean that there has been a finding of liability. If this were the case, any one of the frivolous lawsuits that we hear about on a daily basis would be, in fact, valid. Thankfully, that's not how our American system works. That was how the Salem Witch Trials worked.

This Sheriff's race should be decided by citizens who examine Sheriff Del Re's record, and determine whether he should be re-elected based upon his performance. I hope that Sheriff Del Re's opponent does not attempt to make the issue of a civil lawsuit the centerpiece of his campaign. Further, I hope that Sheriff Del Re's opponent is not behind the letters to the editor, which appear to be designed to confuse the voters.

Charles D. Johnson
Buffalo Grove

Avoiding issues

I am outraged that the sheriff's opponent and his supporters would waste court time by filing a crazy lawsuit to try to throw dirt at Sheriff Gary Del Re. I hope the voters see this tactic for what it is: an attempt to avoid the issues in a campaign against a sheriff with a great record of accomplishment.

COMMENTARY

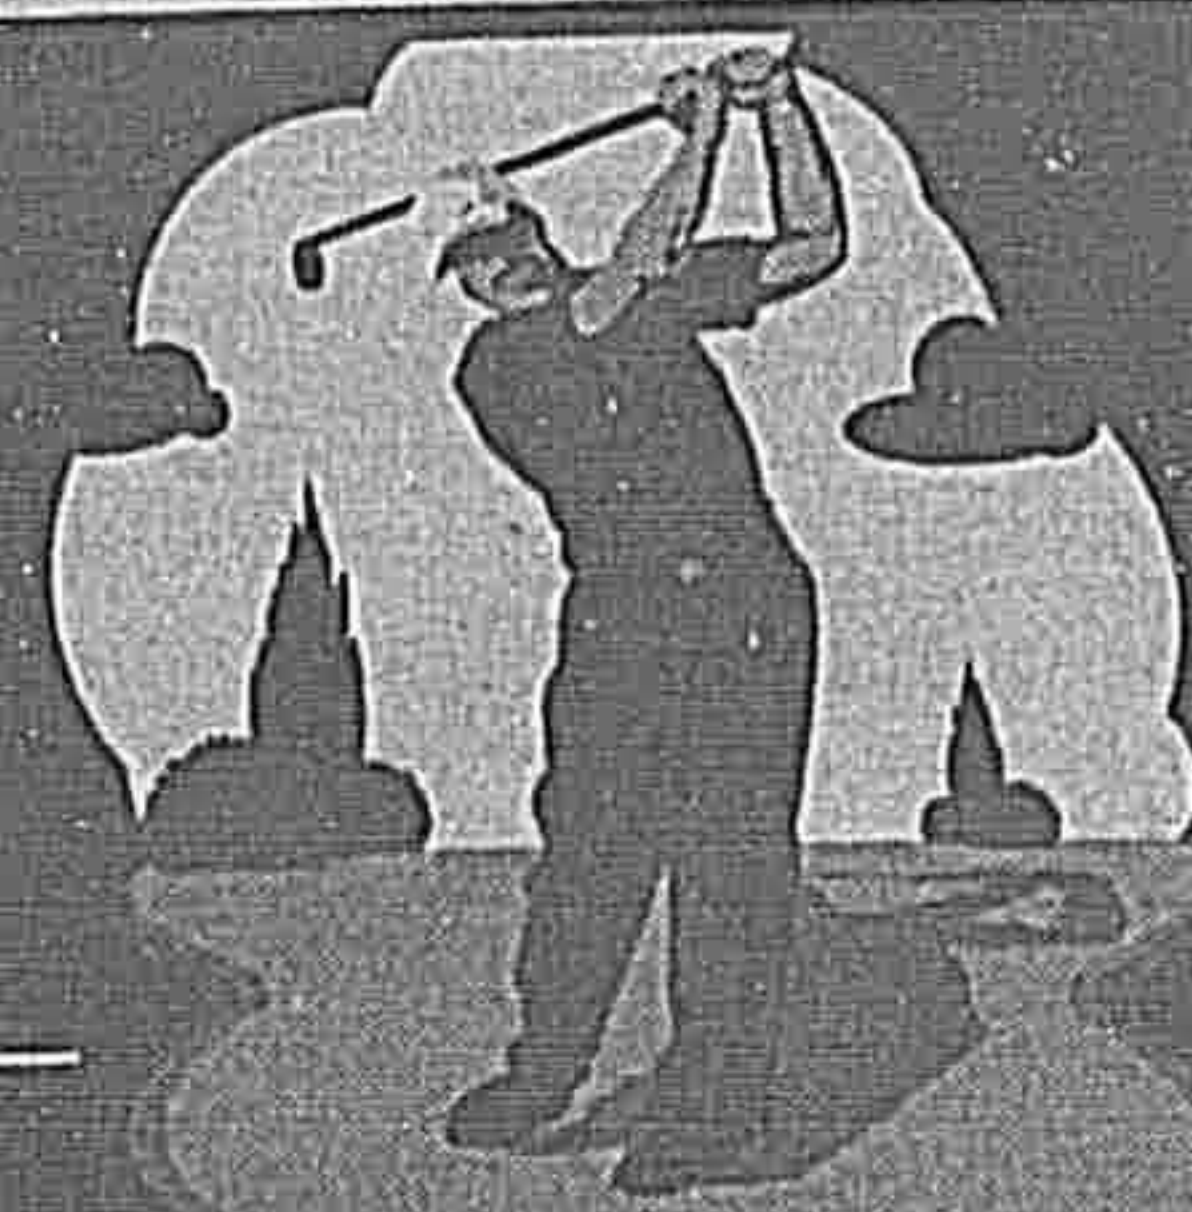

there is never a medical reason for this method of abortion/infanticide to be performed.

Blagojevich supports a woman's right to an abortion through all nine months of her pregnancy, including the gruesome partial-birth abortion. I think any man who supports killing innocent helpless unborn babies cannot be trusted to safeguard the lives of the citizens of Illinois or represent their concerns.

The vast majority of Americans support a ban on partial-birth abortion. Every voter's conscience dictates how they will vote. I know how I'll vote. I'll vote for Jim Ryan. How will you vote? Lives depend on your vote.

After 75 years, yacht club keeping it all in the family

By MEGAN LOISELLE
Staff Reporter

The Waukegan Yacht Club celebrated its 75th anniversary this month. Over the years, the club has grown from a large houseboat to a one-story building in Waukegan Harbor.

On August 3 and 10, the club held a formal dinner, dingy race, Venetian Night and a cook-out full of fun and games to commemorate the 75 years the yacht club has been serving its members.

"The combined interest in boating has made the club last this long. People like to sail, and they want to carry it on to generation to generation," said Dale Janus, manager of Waukegan Yacht Club.

The club will participate in the 2002 Lake Michigan Championship on Aug. 31 and Sept. 1. Boats will compete by class. Five races are scheduled over the two days, with three on Saturday and two on Sunday. The races will occur back to back with the first at 10:30 a.m. on Saturday and 10 a.m. on Sunday.

"It is for all boaters. You do not need to be a member because it is run through other organizations besides the Waukegan Yacht Club. Spectators are welcome to watch," said Janus.

The north course of the race will be approximately one mile northeast of the Harbor Entrance Light. The south course will be due east of the Harbor Entrance Light on the Waukegan Yacht Club course.

As members of a yacht club visit another, they collect burgees from the other clubs and display it at their "home" yacht club. "Burgees are flags that flies on the boats. It has the symbol of the club on it," said Janus.

Just recently the club extended full reciprocity privileges to the Winthrop Harbor Yacht Club, which gives them the opportunity to exchange burgees and enjoy food and refreshments at the facility.

"New members would find a common interest in sailing and friendly people. Not only can they share experiences as sailors, but it is the perfect environment for children to learn sailing," said Janus.

The Waukegan Yacht Club hosts several special events each year that are run by volunteer member committees. The annual events include a New Year's Eve Party, St. Patrick's Day Party, Blessing of the Fleet, Chicago to Waukegan Sailboat Race, Commodore's Ball, and the Children's Christmas Party. Being a member of the yacht club allows members and their families to enjoy a full schedule of social activities.

"The club is unique in the camaraderie among the members. They stick together," said Janus.

Power yacht owners plan informal cruises to near and far harbors throughout the boating season.

The club's sailing program, which is well-known among yacht clubs, includes instruction for both adults and children. The Junior Sail Program is for children ages nine to 18. The program teaches sailing theory, seamanship, self-reliance and sportsmanship.

"The Junior Sailing program is very popular. It runs through the whole summer. It teaches youngsters all about sailing," said Janus.

Adults may participate in the Wednesday night and Saturday races and other association regattas.

"Wednesday is the big race. There are several different types of series which conclude in September," said Janus.

Waukegan Yacht Club has an excellent restaurant, with a professional galley and serving staff. Lunch is available on Tuesday through Friday, dinner on Wednesday, Friday, and Saturday throughout the year. Dinner is also available on Sunday during the boating season.

"Waukegan Yacht Club is a growing entity. We welcome all boaters and non-boaters in a great environment," said Janus.

Stop by the Waukegan Yacht Club located on the Waukegan Harbor on Lake Michigan. You can reach the club office at 847-623-4188.

ALL THE BASICS FOR BACK TO SCHOOL

Continuing education takes center stage

Maybe you've been thinking about it for a while. It's not such a crazy idea, after all, people go back to school all the time, right? Even at your age. In fact, adult students (ages 25 to 80) are the fastest growing educational demographic, according to recent statistics from the census bureau and the United States Department of Education. So many adults are returning to college (and enrolling for the first time) that they will hardly be known as "non-traditional" students much longer.

Carving out the time and commitment needed to complete a degree program, even with added responsibilities like marriage, children, bills, work, community obligations or caring for elderly parents can be a challenge, but it's not impossible. Millions of adult students successfully complete degree programs every year. Their reasons vary widely, from starting a new career, to professional development in their current one, or just proving to themselves that they could do it.

Here are some tips to help you get to the head of the class this year.

Use your experience

You may be able to use previous education, life and work experience to your advantage in securing the proper credentials. Many institutions grant credit for life or work experience through standardized exams, like the College Level Examination Program (CLEP), which is offered in several subject areas. Some colleges also offer special "Life Experience credits," which often involves compiling a portfolio that demonstrates the student has mastered the principles taught in a course.

The first step is to take stock of your past achievements and your academic goals. Why are you going to college? While you don't have to choose a major immediately, thinking this way may help you narrow your choices for a school or program.

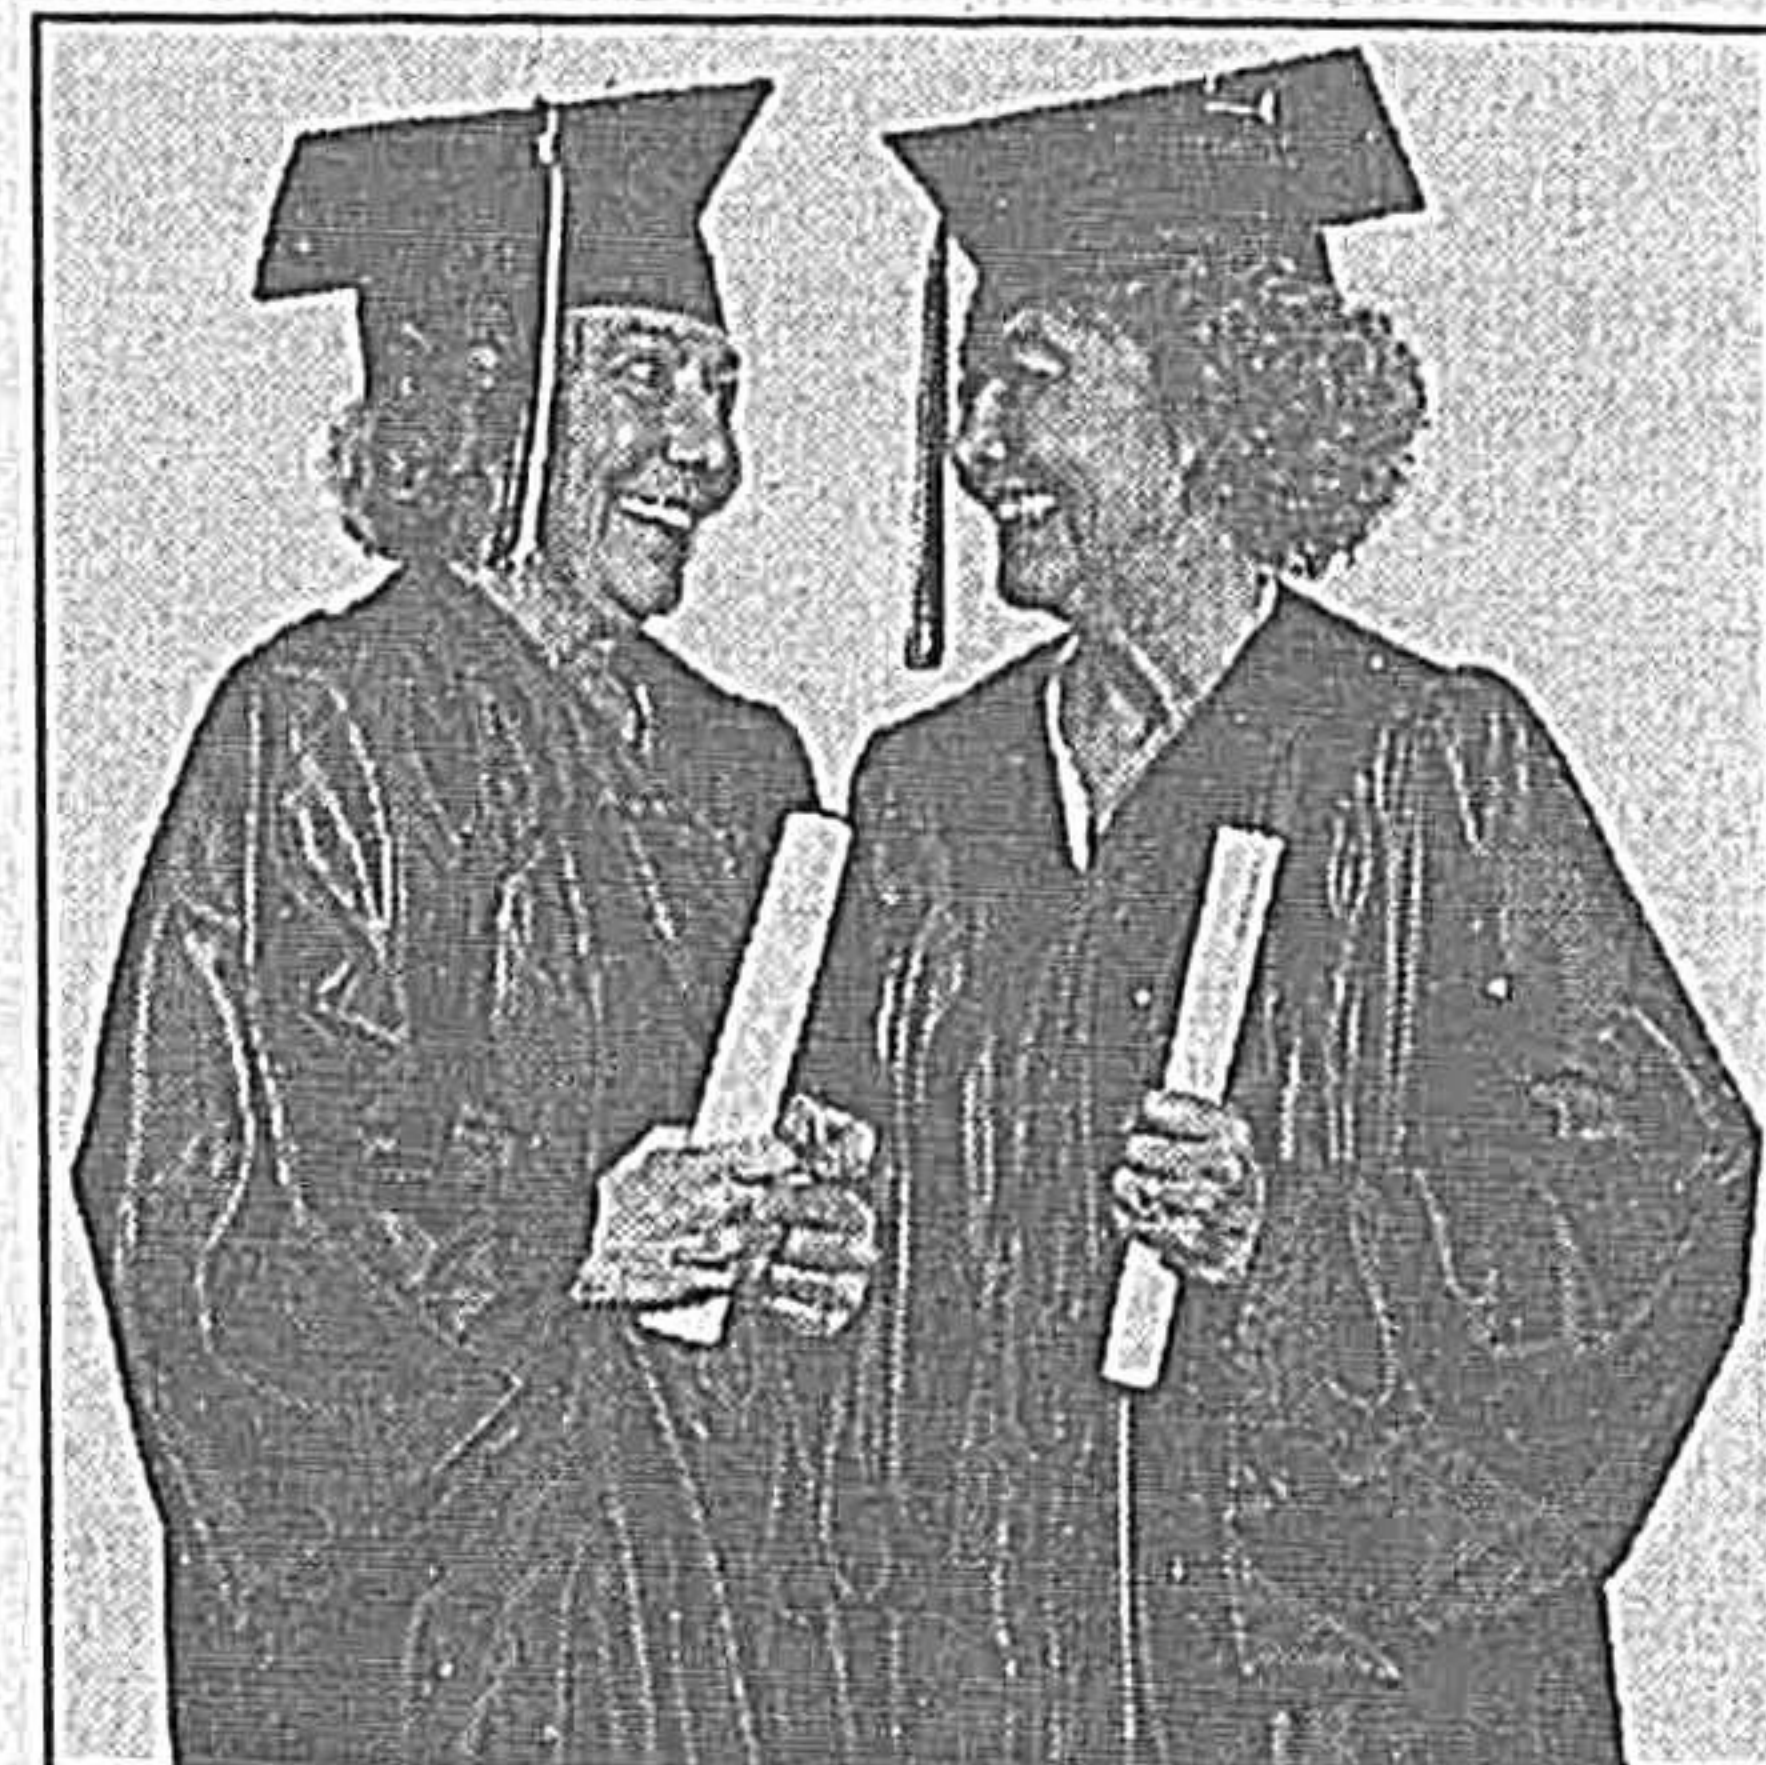

Compile your school and training records. List the names of the institutions or organizations where you studied, years attended, the skill you learned, number of credits you obtained or the certificate, degree or diploma you completed. Also list the knowledge and skills you have gained informally.

Finding funding

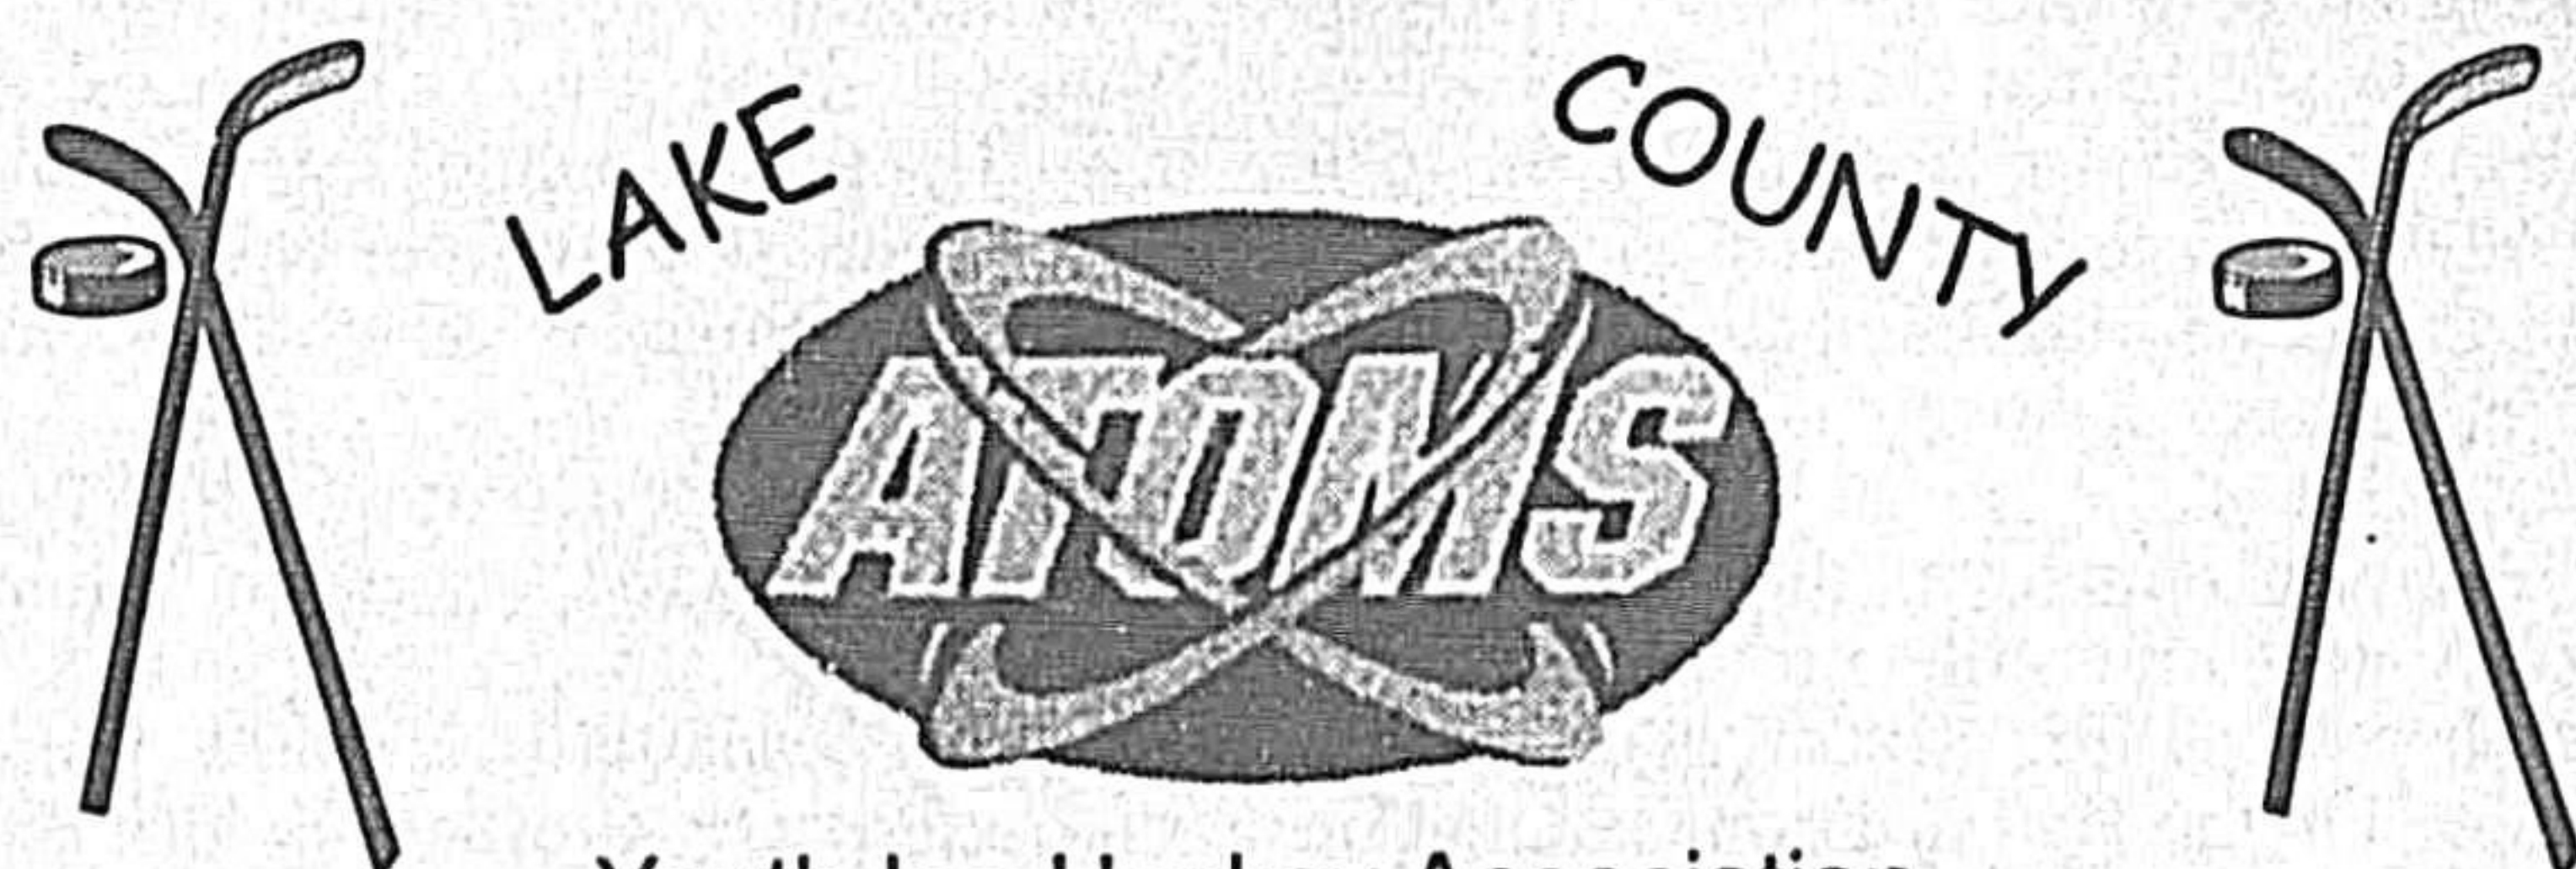

Today there are more options than ever for adult students to finance their degrees. Never assume you don't qualify for financial aid. In fact, it's not necessary to be admitted to a college or university before you can apply for aid. You can submit the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA) anytime after January 1, using estimates of income if your tax information is not yet available. Any errors can be corrected later, and in most cases, the FAFSA must be received by March 1 to qualify for state aid.

In addition to state and federally-sponsored funding, many companies offer tuition assistance or reimbursement for employees who attend school part-time. To find out more, visit the financial aid office of the school you're interested in attending to find out about other grants, scholarships, low-interest loan options, co-operative education programs, payment plans and work-study opportunities that may be available.

It's never too late. In fact, adult students are the fastest growing educational demographic, according to the census bureau and the United States Department of Education.

Changes emerge in Gavin School District 37

New superintendent, principal named to district

By STEVE PETERSON
Staff Reporter

With Marge Fostiak at the helm at Gavin School District 37, parents and staff should be ready to participate in the educational process.

Like a Chicago election, make that early and often.

Fostiak started her new assignment at the Gavin School District in a collaborative style and plans to keep it that way. It started with the hiring of a new principal at Gavin South Junior High, Paul Busceni.

The Gavin District 37 Board of Education has hired Dr. Paul Busceni, a Round Lake school administrator as principal. Busceni was principal at Magee Middle School in Round Lake District 116.

"Dr. Busceni is an excellent addition to the Gavin administrative team. His education and experience makes him uniquely qualified to lead Gavin South into the future," said Fostiak.

Busceni was hired by the Ingleside-based Gavin School Board of Education earlier this month.

"The response has been outstanding. My first task was to hire a principal for Gavin South. We had a committee of parents, staff and community members who interviewed candidates, and gave the school board two finalists. There was great participation from the stakeholders," Fostiak said. "It was a wonderful experience, because people feel ownership with the decision."

Fostiak comes to Gavin from Elgin District 46, one of the largest school districts in the state. After four years in teaching, she became an administrator.

"She was principal and administrator at a district that has 11 communities, versus us at Gavin, where we have just one. She is a very collaborative person," said Candy Luzar, Gavin School Board President. "She is very people person, outgoing, who uses humor. She will be a wonderful asset."

Fostiak, whose family has settled in Johnsbury, was selected in March to replace Dr. Mike Maloney. Maloney will remain as a consultant for specific projects.

Like all public schools, Gavin is waiting on pins and needles, waiting for possible cutbacks due the state's budget deficits.

"It has a profound impact on the planning for budgets. We have yet to receive $280,000 from last year," Maloney said. "We are waiting to get more information to see what the clear-cut financial impact will be. Due to excellent financial management, we do have some money in reserve in the event of a crisis."

Gavin, which has about 65 full-time certified teachers, has a budget of $5 million.

Fostiak said one of the major emphasis will be to make sure district curriculum is aligning with the Illinois State Standards and the federal No Student Left Behind effort.

Enrollment-wise, she said the district does not expect to grow much beyond the 1,064 students of last year.

"We will be looking at the new ISAT Scores at the beginning of next week to see what our strengths and weaknesses are," Fostiak said.

She said that she would like to see the Ingleside district start on a path of strategic planning.

One element back in the curriculum this fall will be art. Art will return after a 10-year absence at Gavin Central, for grades two to five, and Gavin North, for first grade.

Fostiak worked as principal at Channing School in Elgin-based Unit District 46, where there was a diverse population.

"In District 46, we had a collaborative effort with the stakeholders in an school advisory council, had kindergarten to fifth-grade multi-age groups, and had a significant impact on student achievement."

Her superintendent in education, Dr. Marvin Edwards encouraged Fostiak to pursue administration. "They have a mentoring program there, where teachers who express interest in administration can work with an experienced administrator for a couple of years," Fostiak said.

Fostiak's interest in education has continued to her children. She says her three children have acquired it on their own. One son, Christopher, is married to a teacher and is a flight instructor; another son, Matt, is a grade school teacher in Palatine, and a third, Tracy, works with autistic children.

Her public service in Bartlett included 12 years as a village board trustee and previously as a park board commissioner.

Get an A+ for planning creative school lunches

Preparing children for the upcoming school year can mean buying a new school wardrobe, purchasing notebooks, pens and other supplies, and of course, coming up with new lunch ideas.

Because the parent of one school-age child makes, on average, at least 150 lunches during the school year, devising an interesting menu of lunches that the child will enjoy will eat can be a difficult task — some kids want a wide variety of sandwiches and other lunch items, while other children are happy having the same peanut-butter-and-jelly sandwich every day for two years.

Research has shown that there is a definite link between good nutrition, health and learning. If your child is bringing his or her own lunch to school, you will want to pack a meal that contains a variety of healthy options, but is tasty enough to avoid a trip to the garbage pail or traded with a friend. Here are some tips to help you get started:

• First, it is important to acknowledge the tastes of your child. Ask your child to get involved with the lunch planning, preparing and packing process.

• Use the USDA Food Guide Pyramid as a guide for creating healthy meals. Try to include at least one serving from each of the food groups: dairy, fruits, vegetables, grains and cereal, and meats and poultry.

• Try to include foods with varied tastes, textures and colors. Remember, variety is the spice of lunch as well as life.

• The average lunch period lasts between 20 and 45 minutes. This includes the time children spend chatting and using the restrooms, so be sure to include snacks that are simple to eat.

• Add a few condiment packets from fast-food restaurants, like ketchup, mustard and mayonnaise to your child's lunch box, rather than placing the condiments on the sandwich directly. This keeps sandwiches from getting soggy.

• Vary bread offerings for sandwiches: try using pita pockets, mini bagels, tortillas and even mini dinner rolls.

• Cut vegetables into bite-size pieces, pack in a sealed plastic bag for freshness, and send alongside a container of flavored cream cheese or salsa for dipping.

• A cup of soup, kept warm in a sealed thermos or a container filled with pasta salad are healthy and delicious lunch ideas.

When planning your child's lunches this school year, keep in mind that it takes a lot of creativity and ingenuity to create a "good" lunch that your child will want to eat, especially if he or she is very picky.

However, with a little bit of thought and help from your child, creating healthy, nutritious yet delicious lunchtime fare will be as easy "A, B, C."

Lotus School reopens in early September

By STEVE PETERSON
Staff Reporter

Occupancy permit is expected soon by Fox Lake Elementary District 114 to move into the new Lotus School designed by Legat Architects. The school will open with 25 classrooms off Grass Lake Road.

John Donnellan, superintendent of the Fox Lake school district said that some areas in "modular A" would not be ready for the start of school. These include the gymnasium, cafeteria, and the teachers' lounge. That section will be off limits.

"The classrooms and the offices should be ready, but the cafeteria may not be ready, or the fine arts area. That should be ready in October," said Donnellan.

"We are asking for three to four more weeks of patience," Donnellan said.

The new Lotus School will be home to grades pre-kindergarten to fifth-grade in September. It is on target for a Sept. 10 opening for students, Donnellan said. School occupancy permits are granted by the county Regional Superintendent's office.

"We have been in contact with Bill Thompson, of the Regional Superintendent's Office, and have met with him on site with Seater Construction," Donnellan said.

The board approved seeking bids for the landscape plan. Students from pre-kindergarten to fifth grade will attend the school, part of a $11.1 million referendum. The old Lotus school, built in 1924 and serving until 2001-02 school year, has been demolished.

Donnellan brought the school board up-to-date on several school construction-related items.

"In the construction of the road lanes, some trees had to be lost. D.L. Franzen, the contractor, said that the road should be ready two weeks before school starts. If not, we have told Lake County Highway Department that having safe access for our school buses to our property is the No. 1 priority," Donnellan said.

Residents near the school would like to see a four-foot high fence built. About 10 residents were from the nearby Eastshore Drive subdivision.

"We are worried about liability if something happens on our property. They are going from a 200 student school to a 700 student school," said resident Ron Koy.

"We want to get the liability responsibility off our shoulders and to the school. In April, they showed us a landscape plan but changed it to two clusters of trees and no fence," said resident Barb Johannesson.

Residents brought their worries about liability to the Fox Lake Elementary District 114 school board, whose members agreed to consider them.

"Could we look at putting in a different fence that would serve both purposes," said school board member Sue Murphey.

Another concern is the possible need to rent buses for a short time early in the school year. Donnellan said the need is probably not going to happen, but could happen. School start times at Lotus will be 7:40 a.m. and 8 a.m.

School officials said a letter about Lotus construction would be going out to parents soon. Donnellan said a community celebration for the school would be held, probably in early October.

Work also continues at Stanton School. Improvements there are a multi-year approach from interest funds gained from the Lotus project. Roof work, a new boiler and flooring are being installed, at a cost of $500,000. The school will serve sixth, seventh and eighth-graders for 2002-2003 as a middle school.

St. Matthew Lutheran School welcomes new principal

Ralph Peterson has joined St. Matthew Lutheran School in Lake Zurich as principal. Previously, Peterson was at St. John's Lutheran School in Algonquin where he served for several years as teacher and principal. "Mr. Peterson feels it is important to create a fun learning environment for the children", said Ron Behrens, school board chairman.

The school is located on Old McHenry Road between Quentin and Midlothian Roads. While church membership is desired, it is not required for children to attend the school. "We welcome all students from the community.

Our school is an important part of the mission work of St. Matthew Lutheran Church," said Behrens. The full accredited school's educational report card is consistently excellent. Over the last several successive years, test scores measured in grade equivalents have averaged two grades ahead of actual grade level. Many of the classes, kindergarten through eighth grade, have space available for the upcoming school year. If interested in seeing the school or have any questions, call the school office at 847-438-6103 or Behrens at 847-526-9383.

Martin set to open

By BRENDA BALIN-BEITSCHER
Staff Reporter

From the outside, except for its placement on the lot, the new Olive C. Martin Elementary School on Dering Lane, looks exactly like William Thompson Elementary School on Cedar Lake Road.

It's no surprise, given that the 79,000-square-foot school was built from the same blueprints and same specifications as Thompson.

Even the choices of colors in the floor tiles are the same. Because the district anticipated duplicating Thompson, money was saved by buying larger quantities of the same materials used at both sites.

"What part of 'identical' don't you understand?" quipped Mike Anderson, Lake Villa C.C. School District 41 Superintendent. He then went on to contradict himself as he pointed out a few small differences during a pre-opening tour of the school.

In Thompson, the reading resource room has a floor-to-ceiling glass wall.

"We cut that down to gain an extra 15-20 square feet of usable floor space," the superintendent explained. Economically, the move "budget neutral," as the wall costs as much as the glass panels did.

A slight increase in expense was incurred in putting wooden doors on the Learning Resource Center (otherwise known as the school library).

"It was something people asked for," Anderson said. "We'll see how it works out, and maybe we'll add them at Thompson." The doors are not noise abatement devices, however.

"This library was constructed acoustically so hallway noise wouldn't be a factor," Anderson explained.

Another addition is an interior window in the assistant principal's office, providing a view into the main office area. A similar window will be installed at Thompson.

The school's HVAC system was upgraded, taking advantage of improvements available since Thompson's construction.

Other differences are slight, and ruled more by product availability than anything else.

"The lockers might be a little different," he said, noting some equipment was "this year's model," and not significantly different from what as used a few years ago at Thompson.

Certain kinds of equipment at the new school won't be so new, however.

"We are maintaining our policy that the schools in the district will all remain equal," the superintendent remarked. "If Martin gets 10 new computers, all the schools get 10 new computers. The old ones are distributed equally throughout the district."

There will be two computers in each classroom, 30 in the computer lab, 10 in the library and 10 in each of the tech areas in each wing of the school.

"Eventually, we'll bring that up to 24 in each tech area," said Anderson.

The tour through the school was relatively quick, covering all areas in a single continuous path.

"One of the things that is great about this school design is the traffic flow," Anderson said. "In an emergency, we can evacuate the school in a minute and 15 seconds."

Vehicular traffic is also a concern, as the Dering Lane entrance to the school is presently difficult to access. The approach from Route 59 will be made easier eventually, as a dedicated left turn lane will be added.

With wiring installed, plumbing going through its final "flushing" and landscaping and furnishings on the way, the K-6 school will open right on schedule on Sept. 3. It is being built by PCM Construction Management, at a cost of about $12 million. The funds were raised through a referendum passed last April.

Schools find new source for substitute teachers

Let's have a cheer for America's substitute teachers — if you can find one.

On any given school day, one in every 10 classrooms needs a substitute teacher, according to The Substitute Teaching Institute at Utah State University. The nationwide shortage of teachers, including substitutes, has many schools scrambling to fill these classrooms.

"I have been a superintendent of schools for more than 20 years, and I can attest to the fact that finding qualified substitute teachers is a time-consuming, and sometimes frustrating, task," said Dr. Edward Favolise, superintendent of Ansonia Public Schools in Connecticut.

The Ansonia system struggled with a severe shortage of substitute teachers before trying an innovative approach to its predicament in 2000. The school outsourced its substitute teacher program on a pilot basis to a staffing company, Kelly Services, based in Troy, Mich. The concept that Kelly launched in 1999 was simple: let the staffing company concentrate on placing good substitute teachers while school administrators focus on education. "For the first time in nearly two years, we didn't have to worry about finding qualified individuals to deliver lesson plans to our students," said Dr. Favolise.

Ansonia has relied on Kelly Educational Staffing to run its substitute teacher program ever since. It is among the first of more than 1,000 schools nationwide that have turned to Kelly to manage their substitute teacher program. "Generally, educators like this program because it saves valuable time, resources and aspirin needed to address the daily burden of recruiting, interviewing, preparing and scheduling substitute teachers," said Teresa Setting, vice president in charge of Kelly Educational Staffing. "Staffing is what we do, so we have had great success in filling classrooms when a permanent teacher needs to be absent for professional or personal reasons."

Finding and placing more substitute teachers cannot come at the expense of quality. Substitute teachers from Kelly meet state and local certification requirements for any K-12 teaching situation in a public or private school. The company screens and checks references of every candidate, conducts training and orientation, and gives grade appropriate handbooks to every employee. This preparation, combined with Kelly's success in filling classrooms with substitute teachers, provides important classroom continuity for students while the permanent teacher is away.

Attracting and keeping good substitute teachers takes more than just paying them the going rate in the district. Kelly provides benefits that these teachers don't normally receive, including weekly pay, direct deposit, free software training, vacation and holiday pay, and access to health benefits and a 401(k) program. These substitute teachers also have the opportunity to pursue non-teaching assignments with Kelly during summer months or other vacation periods.

Where do substitute teachers come from? Some are career changers moving into teaching, like Dave Diamont of San Jose, Calif. After getting his college degree Diamont took a corporate job but had long felt a tug toward teaching. "I worked for six years in Silicon Valley, and did well, but I wanted to make a greater impact on society," Diamont says. His first step into teaching was the substitute route. He began working for Kelly Educational Staffing at Mountain View/Los Altos High School District in northern California in 2001. Diamont says teaching offers him an opportunity to use gifts and talents he didn't get a chance to use in the corporate world, and his sociology major in college now matters a lot more. "I like teaching high school social studies, particularly history and government. I show students that history is our teacher, helping us put current events in perspective," he said. Diamont now is in a master's degree program pursuing a credential to teach full-time.

Excuse me, would you please pass the gas

Hi Dr. Singer,

I know you have written about this in the past so I don't feel completely embarrassed about my question. I have a husband who has a great deal of fun with the kids about passing gas. He's really just a big kid himself. His favorite comedy routine is Bill Cosby Himself when he talks about how his Dad used to pass gas and blame it on invisible animals. If you haven't heard it, try to. It's really hysterical. I don't usually have a problem with this when it is inside of our own home, but the other night, we were out at a restaurant with some friends of our family when one of the boys leaned over sideways and let one rip, for lack of a better term. And it was a ripper! I almost crawled under the table. Of course, everyone at the table was laughing except for me. They all told me to lighten up but I am not sure that I should let this one go without some form of lesson for the perpetrator of this gaseous offense. Should I let it go or not? S.A.S.

PARENT'S PLACE

Hi S.A.S.,

Sounds like you all had a "blast." Sorry, I could not resist! It seems that most of us do not ever outgrow our fun with flatulence. I know many people, adults and kids alike who have a lot of laughs over things like this. It sounds like your real problem here is not the passing of the gas, but the unwarned public display of it.

So, you might try to explain to the children that if they want to have fun at home it's one thing, but going into public and doing bathroom behaviors, is not acceptable to you, even if it may be to Dad. I don't want to tell you to have Dad stop having fun with the kids at home because it sounds like they have a very good time and it really is pretty harmless if it's just them at home. Of course, I guess that depends on what they all had for dinner. Just be ready to open the windows!

It might be good for Dad to be the one who talks with them about doing this at home versus out in the world. Since he is the one they do this with, they may mistakenly feel it's o.k. to do it anywhere they are together. Although, it might be hard for Dad to do this, since he has so much fun with it. You may need to be there for moral support.

If the kids won't stop doing it in public, even with Dad telling them not to do it, you and Dad either need to emphatically make your position known and follow up with appropriate consequences, accept it, or resolve to not go out with all of them together with other friends so you avoid the embarrassment altogether. I do think that they need to learn to not do this kind of thing in public now so they do not become adults who do that in public.

Dr. Sherri Singer is a Licensed Clinical Psychologist and Childhood Behavior Specialist. She regularly works in person with many readers of this column, helping them to significantly improve their kid's attention, behavior, self-control, processing skills and self-esteem in her Total Success Program. For an appointment, please call (847) 577-8832 or (708) 962-2549.

Good eye health helps keep your eyes on the ball

What makes an athlete successful? Strength, stamina, speed and agility are keys to success in any sport. And although it may not come to mind immediately, how well a person can see also contributes to his or her performance when playing sports.

The ability to see clearly aids a player in catching a football or returning a serve on the tennis court. This ability is called visual acuity and it's just one of the many ways eyes contribute to a player's performance. For example, vision pursuit is the ability of the eyes to watch or follow an object; peripheral vision refers to how well a player can see what's happening in the immediate area without moving his or her eyes away from a focal point; and depth perception gauges the distance between the player and an object, like the ball, another player or a boundary line. Vision is a vital aspect of concentration, visualization, eye-hand and body coordination, which is why it is so important to be aware of your visual health and safety when playing sports.

There are several signs that visual problems, rather than lack of practice or mastery of the sport, may be hampering performance, according to The American Optometric Association (AOA). These include: the inability to focus on the ball, feeling unsure of where the ball and other players are, over- or under-estimating the distance, making the same mistakes repeatedly, failure to improve with continued practice, and/or difficulty in remembering plays.

Turning a small space into home sweet home

Space tips for students heading off to college

Heading off to college is an exciting time that brings along many new experiences -- budgeting money, being independent, doing your own laundry and having to live your life within the confines of a dorm room or small apartment.

Many college students are used to living in a home with a large den, a spacious kitchen and a bedroom with tons of closet space. When they head off to school, they'll need to adapt to a new living style and embrace the idea of combining many rooms into just one or two small spaces.

The Bedroom

It's always a bonus when it's possible to get two uses out of one item. A futon or sofa bed is the most functional furnishing for any college student, especially in a small living environment. When it's time to go to bed, the sofa opens up, converting the room from living room to bedroom. And visiting guests will appreciate not having to sleep on the floor.

The Kitchen

Even though most college students don't cook that often -- unless you consider macaroni and cheese a delicacy -- it's still important to have an area in your space that can serve as a kitchen. Storage bins can be used for canned and non-perishable goods and the top surface to stack plates, silverware or even a small microwave. Use wall space to hang pots and pans out of the way and a shelf for paper goods, mugs and other kitchen items that can cause clutter. Also, using a half table that can be placed flush against a wall is an ideal space saver with multiple functions including eating, studying and even a late night poker game.

The Closet

It may be a "culture shock" for some who are used to lots of closets at home and now have to either share one with a roommate or squeeze everything they own into a closet one tenth the size of their old one. To ensure that the closet isn't overflowing into your living space, invest in clear storage boxes so items can be easily identified; covered bins to hide away private articles you may not want exhibited to the world; and stacking containers to make the closet seem double the size and hold twice as much.

Small space living in a dorm or apartment can be fun and stylish. Students can still maintain the comforts of home while away at college, even if there are fewer rooms and amenities.

21 teachers make an IMPACT

Lake Forest Hospital and Trustmark Insurance named 21 county teachers as winners of IMPACT mini-grants for the 2002-03 school year. The IMPACT program supports innovative curriculum projects that promote healthy lifestyles.

Mini-grant amounts range from $500 to $1,000, based on the needs of the project. IMPACT is the next generation of a popular employee-volunteer program that provided heart-healthy demonstrations and information to 7th graders in schools for more than 11 years. The program was recently modified to better assist educators in providing healthy lifestyle messages to school-age children.

Winners were selected based on the program's creativity and potential impact on student lifestyles. All applicants must provide a plan for sharing and disseminating information to others, and an evaluation of the program upon its completion.

The following Lake County teachers received IMPACT mini-grants for the 2002-03 academic school year:

Gurnee—Robert French, Warren Twp. High School.

Ingleside—Eeva Burns, Taveirne Middle School; Deb Rakers, Big Hollow School.

Lake Forest—Selene Meeks, Lake Forest Academy;

Libertyville—Gerry Carollo, E. Carr, Cathy Jackson and Deb McMahon, Adler Park School; Sharon Murphy, Copeland Manor School; Karen Mueller, Highland Middle School; Cheryl Crenshaw and Scott McDowell, Rockland School; Kendra Fischl, Rondout School.

North Chicago—Terri Criswell, Yeager School; Ronald Port, A.J. Katzenmaier Elementary School; Linda Williams, Green Bay Elementary School.

Wauconda—Ilga Bokalders and Andrew Burton, Wauconda Grade School; Jori Waldron, Wauconda High School.

ATTENTION BUSINESS OWNERS...

When the Going Gets Tough, The Tough Get Advertising.

Whether your business is doing well or slower than normal, you have to get your share of whatever business is around. Cutting back your advertising puts you at a disadvantage the very moment you need an edge to increase your sales. Increasing your advertising gives you the edge.

In these times of uncertainty, shoppers are careful and a little reluctant to spend. They want information. One of the main ways they get information about products, services, prices and values is from advertising. Yours or somebody else's. Here's a hard fact to chew on. Over any given period, a business that advertises below average has sales that are below average.

Advertising is news about products and services. Most consumers look for this kind of news in the pages of their community newspaper. In plush times, retailers often experiment with other media. But when the going gets tough, they concentrate their efforts in Lakeland Newspapers because it provides immediate payoff at the cash register.

Power plant sound impact debated by Indeek, engineer

By MARC JENKINS
Staff Reporter

The proposed power plant, which would be built on the site of the old Libertyville High School, is the subject of a debate between the Libertyville Board of Trustees and the Indeek Engineering Group.

Indeek, which is the engineering firm that designed the plant, is currently in the process of obtaining permits from the state and local governments. The plant is expected to be built in 2003.

The Libertyville Board of Trustees is currently in the process of reviewing the Indeek Engineering Group's proposal. The board is expected to make a decision on the plant in the near future.

Annexation approved for Kildare properties

By MARC JENKINS
Staff Reporter

The Libertyville Village Board has approved the annexation of 174.17 and 174.18 acres of land in Kildare, Ill., to the village of Libertyville.

The annexation is part of a larger plan to expand the village's services to the surrounding area. The board is expected to make a final decision on the annexation in the near future.

Open communication the focus of NSC Leadership Conference

By STEVE PETERSON
Staff Reporter

Almost 500 student athletes from North Suburban Conference schools attended a leadership workshop aimed at improving sportsmanship and understanding.

Stevenson High School in Lincolnshire hosted the two-day event. The 497 participants from all NSC schools in the Lake and Prairie divisions heard communication skills from Michael Brandewein, the workshop leader.

"I think it increases greater awareness. It is nice to bring everyone together at this time of the year," said John Martin, athletic director at SHS.

Brandewein attempted to inspire students with the story of Benny Goodman, the jazz great who stepped up to the racism of his day by employing three blacks in his band. "I cannot say that because of the things that you heard today, but there is that chance. You know what is the right thing to do 99 percent of the time," Brandewein said.

"Athletics is doing," he said often during a general session lecture. Audience members did not just sit back to take it all in, but actively participated, with such exercises as a "perfect" conversation with a partner, and breaking up into groups of 10. The learned that leadership means going beyond the call of duty for the greater good of the group. In a small group session, they played the roles of teenagers who found themselves in tough-decision situations.

"Think of your options; as all good problem solvers do. There are teams within teams or groups known as clicks. If you see someone is being picked on, what is your reaction? Do you look away, laugh, or do nothing? Or do you, through your body actions, state that it is unacceptable," Brandewein, a corporate speaker for 20 years, said. "Leaders are listeners. That is the most important thing that they do."

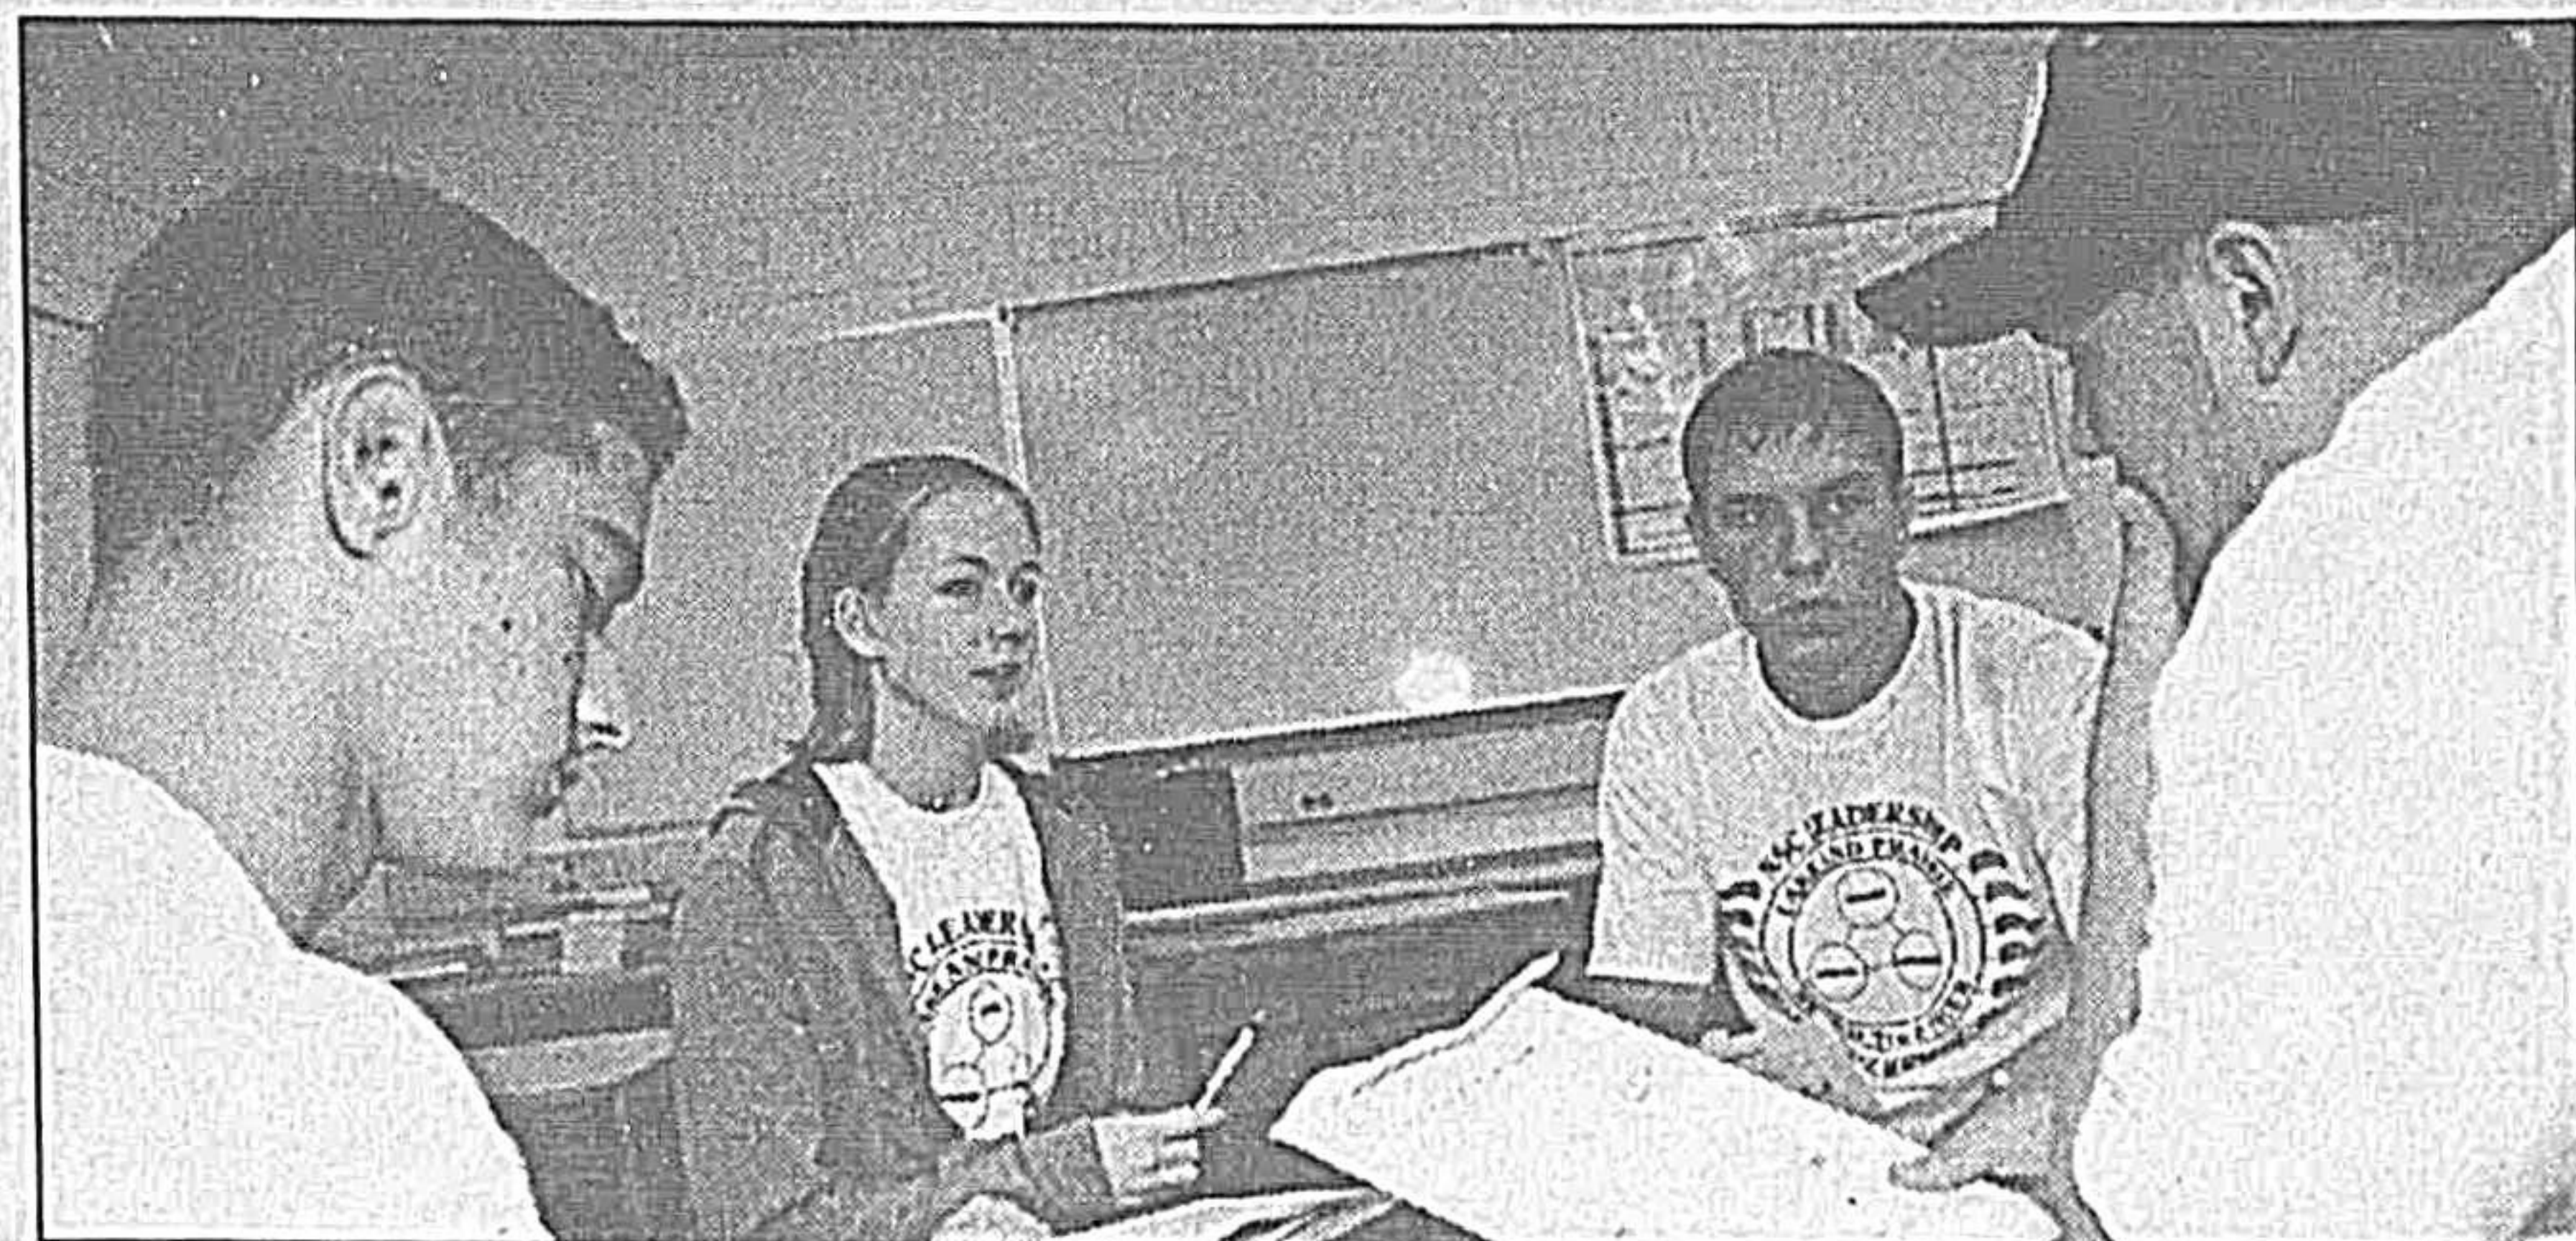

"I think it was great. We learned a lot of stuff to help ourselves and others," said Bill Strauss, a Libertyville High gymnast.

"I like it. It will help you talk to the refs and other players," said Joe Rucker, a football player at Wauconda.

"I think it was cool to meet students from other schools," said Kristin Lancaster, a senior at Vernon Hills.

Participating Lake Division schools were: Antioch, Warren, Lake Forest, Mundelein, Libertyville and host Stevenson. Participating Prairie Division schools were: Grant, Wauconda, Zion-Benton, Vernon Hills, North Chicago and Round Lake.

Windy City Classic blows them over at Hawthorn

By ROB BACKUS
Correspondent

After successfully hosting the Illinois Sr. PBA Open in 2001, Hawthorn Lanes in Vernon Hills was given the opportunity to host a PBA sanctioned event in 2002.

Because of this, Hawthorn will not host a Sr. PBA event in 2002, but did host the Windy City Classic, open to anyone age 50-and-older.

The event featured 86 participants, including several Sr. PBA members. Several local participants also competed, including Vernon Hills resident and Hawthorn Lanes Head Professional Bill Spigner, who administered the tournament.

"The tournament went really well," said Spigner. "I thought that we would have more entries, but the quality of the entries was high and the players enjoyed the tournament."

For the $400 entry fee, each of the 86 participants was guaranteed 20 games in the qualifying round.

After the 20 qualifying games, the field was cut to 28, and both Spigner (23rd, 4,107 pins) and Gurnee resident Jim Servis (7th, 4,254) were part of the 28 that advanced to the elimination round.

"I had a rough second round, but I was just happy to make the cut," said Spigner.

Other local competitors included Gurnee's Dick Baker (44th, 3,979) and John Miller (70th, 3,728).

With the top four seeds earning a first-round bye, the remaining 24 finalists were left to duke it out in a best-of-three match play format.

When it was all said and done, Dave Davis took home the $5,000 first-place prize, with Gary Hiday earning $3,000 for finishing second and Thomas Brown and Ron Winger each earning $2,000 for finishing third and fourth, respectively.

Servis and Spigner both earned $800 for finishing 17th and 28th, respectively.

"For not bowling on the tour for a while, I felt I did well," said Servis, who competed on the Sr. PBA tour in 1996. "It took a few games to get into the swing of things but I really enjoyed it and I plan on doing it again next year."

In fact, Spigner felt the tournament went so well, that he intends to host the tournament again in 2003.

"This is the first time we've done something like this and I look forward to doing it again," he said.

On a related note, Hawthorn Lanes will host the 2002 PBA Miller High Life Classic from Oct. 27-Nov. 3.

Come out and watch PBA legends Pete Weber, Walter Ray Williams, Jr., Parker Bohn, III and many others compete.

The finals will be televised live on ESPN on November 3.

Final details have not been worked out, but Pro-Ams are expected to be held on Oct. 27, 29-30.

Hawthorn Lanes will post Pro-Am tournament schedules and ticket information as it becomes available.

If you would like a Pro-Am entry form mailed to you call Hawthorn Lanes at 847-367-1600 or by e-mail at tournaments@hawthornlanes.com. Include your mailing address so you can be put on the mailing list.

SRACLC awards night is simply golden

By JOHN PHELPS
Sports Editor

Envision the sounds of everyone clanking their glasses with silverware, waiting for their turn to propose a toast at a wedding reception.

Same effect but different circumstances took place at the inaugural Special Recreation Association of Central Lake County's Special Olympics Sports Banquet held at the Libertyville Sports Complex.

Over 40 of SRACLC's 82 athletes that competed in Special Olympics events over the last year were on hand to collect what was rightfully theirs—medals. Lots of medals, which were draped around their necks.

From the SRACLC staff all the way down to each and every athlete, SRACLC, celebrating its 25th year, is a total team effort.

"Everyone's heart is definitely in it; the staff, the athletes, the volunteers, the parents," said SRACLC Director John Buckner. "The financial and people support has also been incredible and very much appreciated."

Every athlete in attendance was given a gold medal for participating in his or her respective sport. In some cases, athletes had up to five medals hanging around their neck.

Here's a peak at athletes who competed over the past year:

Erik Anderson (golf, track and field, basketball); Brian Austin (bocce); Lori Burke (bocce, bowling); Tammy Busch (track and field, basketball); Bridget Carroll (gymnastics, basketball); David Cicarelli (tennis); Katie Ciura (bocce, tennis); Ryan Chapin (golf, basketball); Leslie Dail (basketball, bowling); John Froemke (bowling, golf, track and field, basketball); Donna Graves (bocce, tennis); Robert Jacobs (basketball); Joseph Hanson (gymnastics, basketball); Melanie Harwood (gymnastics, cheer squad, tennis, track and field); Bonny Hendrickson (track and field); Karen Kampendahl (track and field, basketball); Mary Kloss (bowling, golf, track and field, basketball); Lindsay Kroening (bowling, basketball); Holly Kupperman (cheer squad); Timmy

Marra (bocce, tennis, track and field, bowling, basketball); Laura Murdock (cheer squad); Cynthia Naughton (cheer squad); Kellie O'Donnell (gymnastics); Blake Peacock (gymnastics, golf, tennis); Richard Pinkney (bowling, basketball); Elizabeth Rancourt (basketball); Julie Sage (bocce, bowling); Kevin Smith (gymnastics, bowling, golf); Donald Swanson (golf, bowling, basketball); Lesly Tatz (bowling, golf, basketball); Matt Tielke (bocce, basketball, track and field); Chris Walti (bowling, golf, basketball); Philip Weitzel (bocce, track and field, bowling, basketball); Jennifer Wilson (bowling, cheer squad); Tabitha Windsor (gymnastics, bowling); and, Jon Zils (basketball).

In addition, special awards were handed out as well. The Rookie of the Year winner was Windsor, who won a gold medal in bowling at the area tournament. Windsor also competed in gymnastics on the beam routine. She practiced with the beam on the floor but had to adjust at the district competition when the beam was elevated. The result—a silver medal for Windsor.

The Sportsmanship Award went to Harwood. Harwood won a gold medal in the women's gymnastics all-around level 3 division. Harwood also earned a trip to the State meet in tennis and cheers on the basketball team as part of the cheer squad.

Support Staff of the Year honors went to Grayslake resident Dimitrios Vassiliades, who has helped out with tennis, golf, bocce and track and field. Vassiliades also coaches basketball and has been involved with SRACLC for three years.

The Athletic Achievement Award was given to Zils, who participates in regular SRACLC activities. Zils biggest and perhaps proudest moment this year came when he competed in the annual 5K run in Libertyville. Zils finished 58th overall out of over 700 runners with a time of 22 minutes, 24 seconds. That averages out to just over 9 minutes per mile. Not too shabby!

The Lifetime Achievement Award was given to Erik Anderson, who won a bronze medal in gymnastics on the vault at the International Special Olympics in St. Paul, Minn. in 1991. Overall, Anderson, who competes or has competed in snow shoeing, golf, swimming, softball, track and field, cross country and basketball, has earned over 150 total medals in 24 years of being involved with SRACLC. Fifth-five of those are gold medals.

The Special Olympics Coach of the Year was awarded to went to Conway Farms Head PGA Golf Professional Jeff Mory, who has served as SRACLC's golf coach for several years.

"One of the sports we didn't have a few years ago was golf," said Buckner. "With the resiliency and persistence from Jeff and Conway Farms to try and get a golf team going, we finally with the help of numerous clinics and donations."

The final award for Athlete of the Year went to Weitzel, who competes in basketball, track and field, bocce and bowling. This year, Weitzel earned a gold medal in bocce and the 50-yard dash in track at the state level.

Buckner was also quick to thank his staff, especially Tara Schmitz for coordinating the event. Community recognition and kudos are also in order for State Sen. Terry Link (D-Highwood), Mitsubishi Electric Automation Inc., Vision Committee of Vernon Hills, Knights of Columbus Cardinal Stritch Council No. 3674, Mickey Finn's of Libertyville, and the Centre Club in Libertyville.

Vernon Hills Park District Director Larry DeGraff has also been very instrumental with his support in working with SRACLC.

SRACLC provides recreation opportunities for people with disabilities. The agency works in conjunction with numerous area park district, including Grayslake, Vernon Hills and Mundelein and the villages of Indian Creek, Lake Zurich, Libertyville and Lincolnshire.

Employers Seek Childlike Innocence

By Scott T. Fleischmann

When my oldest daughter was about 5 years old she asked me to take the training wheels off of her bicycle. She had been riding it for almost two years and seemed to have excellent control of the quadricycle. After two or three times around the block she asked me to let go of the handlebars and let her steer. I did that, about a week later. She guided the bike two more corners before she asked me to let go of the back of the seat. This time it took me about two weeks before I had the confidence to let her go solo.

As she turned through the first corner I watched in fear as she overturned into a large hedge. When I had dashed the hundred yards to the site, I saw that she had landed in the center of the three-foot wide obstacle. I cringed as I helped her and her bike out of the shrubbery. Scraped and bruised she looked directly at me with her tear filled eyes and said "That was a good experience," as she got on her bike and peddled away.

This experience taught me a lot about life. Specifically, as it relates to our work life, it illustrates some of the attitudes that employers look for in employees.

Firstly, you'll notice that she was doing as much as possible on her own. Employers appreciate independence. Those who decide to do as much as possible on their own require less supervision and are usually more productive. Those who are autonomous are also willing to take calculated risks. They are confident in their ability to get the desired results most of the time. But they also understand that although the consequences may be painful most negatives can be corrected relatively easily.

Secondly, employers look for people who want to learn in negative circumstances. Mistakes have no value if we don't learn from them. However, some people learn only how to blame others. My daughter could have easily said "Dad you should have known that I wasn't ready to drive solo yet." (Without her reprimand I had to rebuke myself.) But she chose to take responsibility for the mistake and move on. She never drove into that hedge again.

Finally, good managers want employees who can recover from a mistake and get right back on the bike and ride off into the sunset. Too many of us become overly concerned of causing another error and choose to avoid trying. We help neither our employers nor ourselves by shying away from responsibility. Unless one determines that more education, skills or knowledge is needed before trying again, it is best to do that as soon as possible.

Unfortunately, many of these attitudes are learned at a young age. But it is never too late to develop a new perspective. The goal of becoming a more desirable employee is worth the effort.

Scott T. Fleischmann is the Managing Principal for Integrity Business Solutions Inc., a full service management consulting firm. He can be contacted through e-mail at ibs.scott@juno.com or through the company web site at www.aboutintegrity.net.

Pet OF THE WEEK

PHOEBE & FARGO

Phoebe and Fargo enjoy life in their hometown of Grayslake. When they're not chasing cars or protecting their owners' property, they're lounging with a milk bone or romping around with a favorite toy in their spacious home. The doggie door is always open as Phoebe and Fargo are always ready to make a new friend. Special thanks to Mom&Dad, Dave & Kathy Woll.

NOTICE OF HEARING
VILLAGE OF ANTIOCH

SPECIAL SERVICE AREA NUMBER ONE

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that on September 9, 2002 at 7:00 p.m. at the Antioch Community High School, 1133 Main Street, Antioch, Illinois 60002, a hearing will be held by the Village of Antioch to consider forming a special service area, to be called "Village of Antioch Special Service Area Number One," consisting of the territory legally described in Exhibit 1 to this Notice.

The approximate street location is the area generally depicted on the map of a portion of the Village, which map is attached as Exhibit 2 to this Notice.

The general purpose of the formation of the Village of Antioch Special Service Area Number One is to provide special municipal services to the area which may include: engineering, surveying, soil testing and appurtenant work, mass grading and demolition, storm water management facilities, storm drainage systems and storm sewers, site clearing and tree removal, public water facilities, sanitary sewer facilities, erosion control measures, roads, streets, curbs, gutters, street lighting, traffic controls, sidewalks and related street improvements, and equipment and materials necessary for the maintenance thereof, landscaping, wetland mitigation, park, park improvements, bicycle paths, utility relocation and tree installation, costs for land and easement acquisitions relating to any of the foregoing improvements, required tap-on and related fees for water or sanitary sewer services and other eligible costs.

There will also be considered at the hearing the following alternative methods of financing improvements within the proposed special service area: (i) the levy of a tax by the Village in the proposed special service area, sufficient to produce revenues to provide special municipal services to the proposed special service area; the maximum rate of such taxes to be extended in any year within the proposed special service area which shall not exceed the amount necessary to produce a maximum annual tax levy of $4,000,000 in accordance with the special tax roll referred to below; and (ii) the issuance of special tax bonds in an aggregate principal amount not to exceed $30,000,000 at an interest rate of not to exceed the greater of nine percent (9%) per annum or 125% of the rate for the most recent date shown in the 20 G.O. Bonds Index of average municipal bond yields as published in the most recent edition of The Bond Buyer, published in New York, New York, at the time the contract is made for the sale of the bonds, and to mature within thirty (30) years from the date of their issuance. The bonds, if issued, shall be retired by the levy of an annual tax established pursuant to a special tax roll to pay the interest on such bonds as it falls due and to discharge the principal thereof at maturity and to pay the costs of administration and maintenance of the special service area, said tax to be levied upon all taxable property within the proposed special service area.

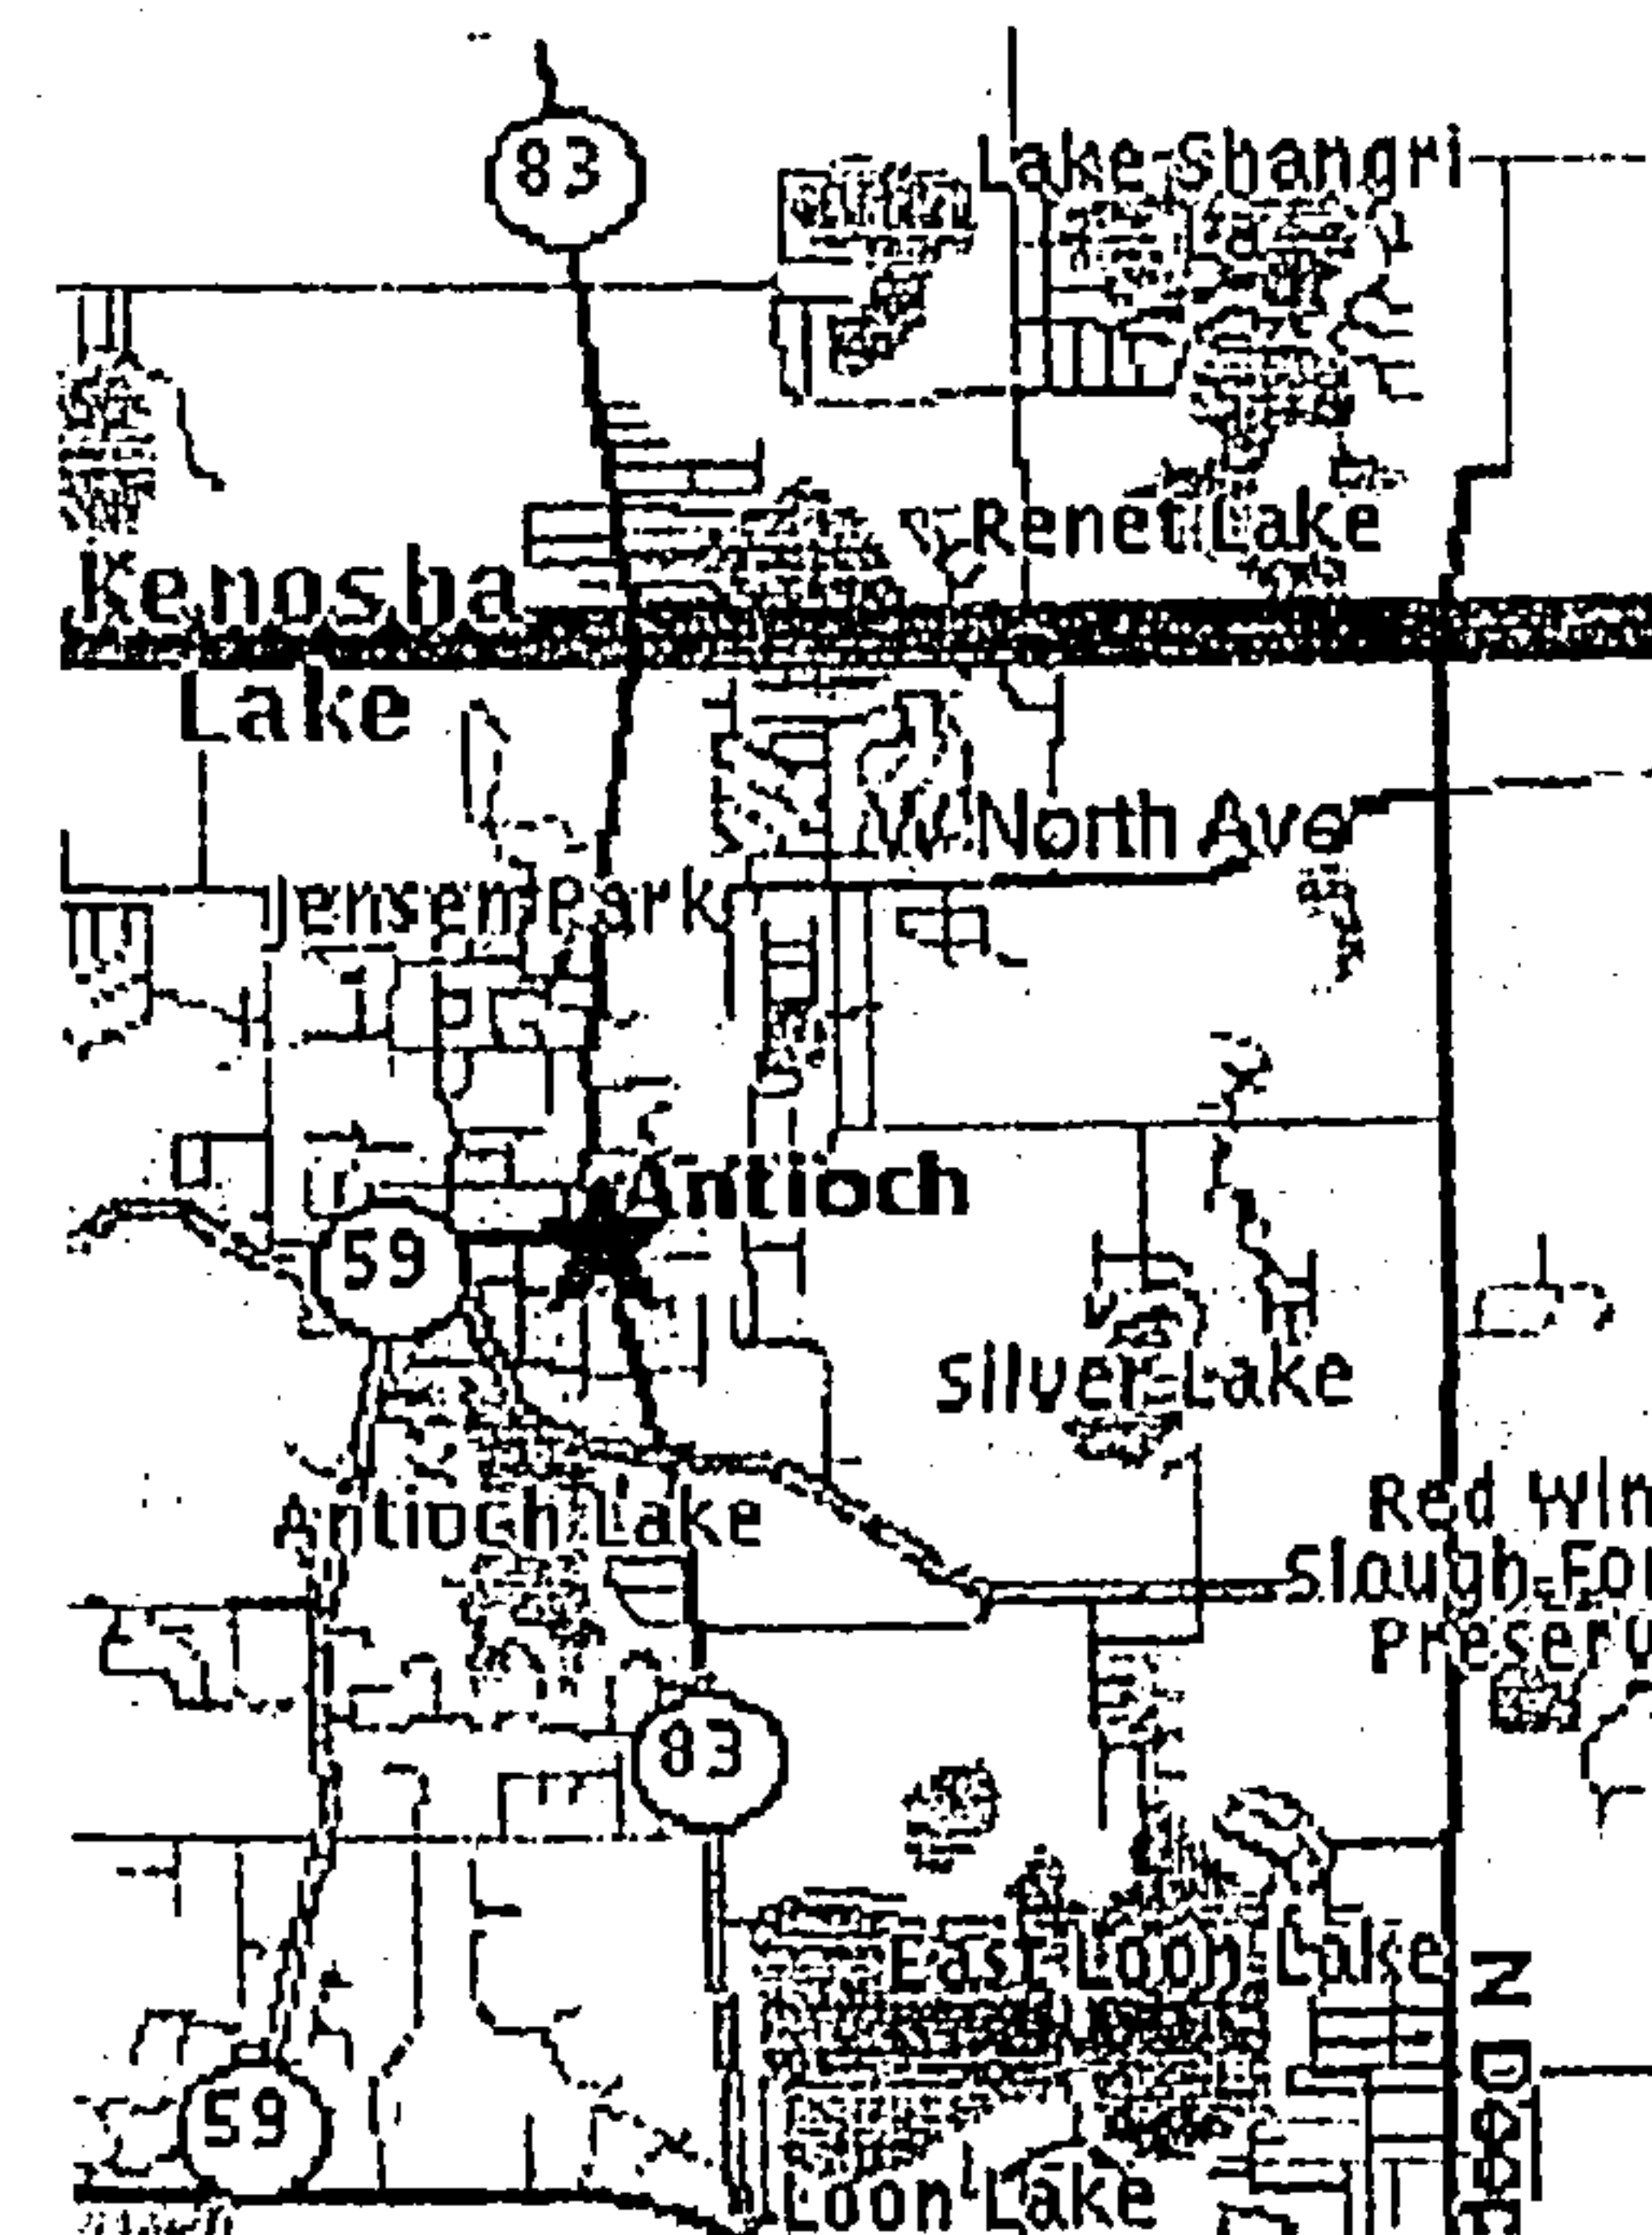

At the hearing, all interested persons affected by the formation of such special service area, including all persons owning taxable real estate therein, may file written objections to and be heard orally regarding the formation of and the boundaries of the special service area, the issuance of bonds and the levy of taxes affecting the area. The hearing may be adjourned by the Village Board without further notice other than a motion to be entered upon the minutes of its meeting fixing the time and place of its adjournment.

If a petition signed by at least 51% of the electors residing within the Village of Antioch Special Service Area Number One and by at least 51% of the owners of record of the land included within the boundaries of the Village of Antioch Special Service Area Number One is filed with the Village Clerk of the Village of Antioch within 60 days following the final adjournment of the public hearing objecting to the creation of the special service area, the issuance of bonds for the provision of special services to the area or the levy of taxes affecting the area, no such area may be created and no such bonds may be issued or taxes levied or imposed.

To whom it may concern,

Recently, I placed an ad for a sleeping room in the Pioneer Press, Copley

Newspapers. Lisa at extension 191 was exceptional. She expedited my request with exceptional speed, enthusiasm and courtesy. I wish that all employees at local newspapers were as friendly and efficient. When I have ad needs, I will definitely use your company in the future.
